DEARLY BELOVED, -The ever fleeting course of time reminds us that we are fast approaching the close of the nineteenth and the advent of the twentieth century. The various divisions and sub-divisions of time, ent value in matters of temporal import, are replete with a far reachificance for every thoughtful important fact that of things time must ase to be the measure nity of the future world in happiness or misery will be the goal of our merits or demerits in the duties and

During the century which is now about to expire many vicissitudes have marked the course of human events, and have made yet more manifest to the world how uncertain are all institutions that are not founded upon the unchangeable principles of revealed truth and justice. Empires and kingdoms have unexpectedly appeared in the firmament of worldly glory, and as suddenly have they disappeared below the horizon of human oblivion. But through all these various changes the powers of darkness, which at the opening of the century had harrassed the Church of God, have not relaxed their efforts in opposing the sistance of the Saylour, when there brethren. from the wieckage of kingdoms and empires appeared again in all her pristine and permanent beauty the one unchanging and unchangeable Church of the Living God, The Divine promise made to the Church by our Lord and Saviour has been fulfilled with as much cogency during the present century as it had been during those pagan persecutions which, as far as worldly wisdom could discern, threatened the very xistence of the infant church when yet she struggled within the depths of the Catacombs. "All power is says our Divine Lord, "Going therefore teach ve all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things nd behold, I am with you all days vorld." (Matt. xxviii) "Thou art Reter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (ib. xvi.) The guiding hand of her Divine Founder has on countless occasions stood her in good stead when wordly interest and crafty ambition pressed heavily down upon The Holy Catholic Church, founded as she is by the Son of God made Man, was to continue the mission of our Divine Saviour to the end of time. "As the Father hath sent me, I also send you" (John xx), and agair, praying to His Heavenly Father He says; Sanctify them in ruth. Thy word is truth. As thou nast sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world. (1b. xvii.) "You have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and have appointed you, that you should go, and should bring forth fruit, and your fruit should remain." (Ib. xv.) Thus, Dearly Beloved, were the first achers in the Church of Christ called, selected and appointed, not by a contradictory and whimsical world, but by our Divine Lord Himself, to continue His visible mission for the salvation of mankind,-a mission which was to continue with

The Lord hath looked dren of men, to see if there be any are all gone aside, they are become unprofitable together: .... Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they acted deceitfully, the poison of asps is under their lips. Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness: their feet are swift to shed blood. Destruction and unhappiness are in their ways, and the way of peace they have not known: eyer." (Ps. xiii)

Indeed, Dearly Beloved, it was only by virtue of the belief in a

Redeemer to come, among the few chosen people of God, as promised by the Creator immediately after the fall of our first parents, and subsequently foretold by the prophets, that even a vestige of religion was nourished or preserved in the vast desert of human depravity. Thus spoke the prophet Isaias :- " For a shild is born to as, and a son is given to us, and the government is upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, God. to come, the Prince of peace. His empire shall be multiplied, and there shall be no end of peace, and he shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom : to establish it. and strengthen it with judgment and with justice, from henceforth and forever." (Is. ix). But notwithtanding these and similar propheles, the perversion of man had continued and increased, and when he fullness of time had arrived when the Saviour should be born, he knowledge and worship of the only true and living God had been almost obliterated from amongst men; For in the words of St John. they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God" (x), so that, se St Paul tells us, "they are inexcusable. Because that, when they knew God, they have not glorified him as God, or given thanks: but became vain in their thoughts, and their foolish heart was darkened. For professing themselves to be wise they became fools. And they changed the glory of the incorruptible God into the likeness of the image of a corruptible man, and of birds and of four-footed beasts and of creeping things. Wherefore God gave them up to the desires of their hearts, unto uncleanness, to dishonor their own bodies among themselves: who changed the truth of God into a lie: and worshipped and served he oregiure rather then the Cresor, who is blessed for ever." (Rom, i) Such, Dearly Beloved, was the sad spect of a debased and proud world. when the eternal Son of the living God, disrobing Himself of every vestige of beavenly glory, took upon Himself the infirmity of our mortal form, and possing through every
