SINKING CHANCELLOR Progressive German Member Refuses Office

arm, Oct. 17.-With a view to saving what the newspapers call "his sinking chancellorship," Dr. Michaelis, the imperial German chancellor, accordthe imperial German chancellor, according to the Boersen Zeftung of Berlin, offered Friedrich von Payer the post of vice-chancellor, held by Dr. Karl Helfferlo. The newspaper adds that Von Payer, who is a progressive member of the relohstag, declined to accept the restricted district longer than twenty minutes.

For several years there has been considerable difficulty with the sewer on Fifth street, Sunnyside. For one covered and every winter the ofty has been put to a great deal of expense owing to the constant freeze-ups. The residents have been put to considerable inconvenience and the sanitary condiflors resulting have been anything but safe. A short time ago the public works commissioner decided that it would be well to remedy this state of affairs before the severe weather sets mal. in. He put three men upon the job and later reduced the force to one man. The result was that last night with 15

HAIL LOSSES IN

The Provincial Insurance Board Finds Losses More Than Those of a Normal Year; Less Than 1916

SIX PER CENT LOSS

Out of 1,300,000 Acres In-Cent of Acreage

Losses by hall to grain crops in Alberta, according to local insurance men, are less than last year, 1,300,000 acres having been insured. The total risks in the province amounted to $7,800,008, the worst of the damage by storing baving occurred during the month of Angust.

Insurance men size up the situation by saying: "Not so bad as last year, by saying: as far as but worse than the average" as far as the past season was concerned. Losses of $470,000 will be paid out by the Alberta Hail Insurance board, which op-erates in twenty-six manicipalities in the province, as compared with $595,000 last year, and officials of the board in Edmonton are now getting in their figures preparatory to settling on an acreage rate that will provide for the season's losses, this being necessary, under the terms of the act, on or before

Reports already in hand, according to J. H. Lamb, secretary of the board, show that the past summer was a more disastrous one than has commonly been supposed and the average damage through hall has been larger than ex-pected, though still under that of the Nineteen straight line companies that are doing business in the province this year are also making up their figures, with much the same results Before August a comparative freedom from hall storms was reported. The provincial insurance board, whose business carried on under the Municipal Hail Insurance act, insured 1,300,000 acres of grain and grass crop this year at the rate of $6 an acre. Its total risks amounted to $7,300,000.

Six per cent of the acreage thus in crop has been destroyed, and the board will have 2,905 claims to pay. The total losses will be provided for by a levy which is to be made in the next two weeks. An initial levy of five cents an acre on all assessable land was made in the spring, and the tax will be collected through the municipalities and paid into the board by October 31. the supplementary levy, and after this has been paid the board will pay out again to individual claimants, clearing off the entire list before the end of the this year is a series of crop reports which have been gathered from 17,000 individual farmers in the territory covered under the municipal scheme. It s the first time that such reports from the home base have been collected, and the net result is that the board has emplete and accurate record of actual crop conditions in the province On the Goose Lake Line.

The largest block of land involved in the scheme is along the Goose Lake south of Coronation, and in that district the losses through August storms were somewhat heavy. Mr. Lamb says that while the total osses are considerably less than last year, they are still more than the average, the year 1915, when there were losses of $350,000, being nearer to norhail insurance branch of the department of agriculture, but will not have The worst damage is said to have been in the southern part of the prov-ince, especially in the High River district, where a large block of land was swept in the latter part of August.

The total losses sustained last year by the companies amounted to $1,381,-

SCORE AGAINST HUNS INCREASING; DEPORTING WOMEN

Women and Young Girls Are Put Into Box Cars for Unknown Destintaion

New York, Oct. 17.-The Evening World publishes the following from Amsterdam: "The Germans are removing the French, particularly the women, from Lile, Roubaix, Tourcoing, Croix and surrounding places to work for them. Only women without children and young girls are now being selected. They are taken to the railway stations by soldiers and then conveyed to des tinations which are not disclosed to the parents they leave behind. Heart-rending scenes are witnessed when these deportations occur."

OVERCOME BY GAS D. B. Anderson, flour and feed mer-chant of 1931 Seventh avenue west, had narrow escape from asphyxiation fuesday evening while trying to shut off the engine of his automobile in his off the engine of his automobile in garage. He was overcome by umes of the gas from the engine. Dr. J. A. Anderson was summoned and the physician at once called for the pul-motor from No. 1 fire hall. Mr. Anderson was revived none the worse for his experience after the pulmotor his been applied for an hour and a half.

VON REVENTLOW ENDEAVORS TO EXPLAIN FAILURE

Official German Statistics Show Gradual Failure of U-Boat Sinkings

Copenhagen, Oct. 17 .- Count von Revmtlow, mouthplece of the German ad-niralty, publishes in his newspaper, the Tages Zeitung of Berlin, an article pre-paring his readers for a decrease in sub-marine destructiveness in September as shown by the German statistics, publica-tion of which is now due.

In addition to his earlier explanations of the decrease in the figures of tonnage sunk, Von Reventiow advances the theory that Great Britain has withdrawn ships from service for the remainder of year, in order to have them in readiness transport the Argentine harvest in January. These withdrawals, he says, lecrease the opportunities for submarine sinkings. This theory contrasts striking ecome too small for its needs. Sudden changes in the routes of ships. All good values. Count von Reventlow says, are making it increasingly difficult for submarines to locate their prey. He attributes to Ameri-

Alberta Companies Appeal Against Conviction for Doing Business in Saskatchewan Without a License

Ottawa, Oct. 17 .- Argument in the case Rogers vs. Calgary Brewing and Malt-ng company continued in the Supreme ing company continued in the Supreme court this morning and judgment was reserved. The cases of the Great West Saddlery company vs. the King, John Deere Plow Co. vs. the King, and Mac-Deere Plow Co. vs. the King, John lonald company vs. Harmer were then leard together.

The three appellants are trading com-panies duly incorporated under the gen-eral Companies act of Canada and doing business in the province of Saskatchewan. The Companies act, chapter 14, of the statutes of Saskatchewan, 1915, requires all companies not incorporated under the legislation of Saskatchewan, including trading companies incorporated by the parliament of Canada, to register on the same terms as local companies becoming incorporated under the act. The two first appellant companies not having become registered a prosecution was entered against them before a police magis-

Another Interest

Convictions having been recorded against the companies, they applied for and secured from the magistrate a stated case of the Superior court of Sased case of the Superior court of Sas-katchewan embanc by way of appeal from the convictions. The third appeal is in an action brought in the Supreme court of Saskatchewan by one Harmer, a share-holder of the Macdonald company for an injunction to restrain its company from carrying on business without being reg-istered as required by the Companies act. Appeals in the other cases were heard ogether and the issue is about the same, whether sections 20 and 25 of the Companies act of Saskatchewan are valid and intra vires of the provincial legislature in their application to the appellant com-panies, where corporate status is derived from the Companies act of Canada.
