Daritt on the Situation.

Dublin, Dec. 15.—Mr. Davitt has returned from a vibit to Castle Comer and the coal mines on the edge of Queen's county. His reception was enthusiastic. Between these two points are 1,400 electors. "Parnell," he said, "will not get more than twenty votes outside the Conservatives, and they are all for him. There are about 4,000 votes in North Kilkenny, and as sure stones were thrown and sticks were used as I live we will have at least a majority of freely and a serious conflict was averted for the said of the said Tories are on his side and will work and vote for him." It is certainly a fact that the Tories are working for Parnell, but they are likely to do him little good. They are dangerous allies.

For Parnell.

Dublin, Dec. 15.—Four well-known Irish newspapers have declared openly for Mr. Parnell. One of them is the Leicester Leader. The others are the Western People, published at Ballina, county Mayo: the Westmeath Examiner, published at Mullingar, county Westmeath, and the Derry Journal, published at Londonderry. At Middletown, Cork, the local league branch voted 44 to 26 to support Parnell. A procession of 400 torebbearers, accompanied by bands of music, waited for Parnell at Waterford Saturday night. When he failed to come the paraders marched to the Town Hall, where they were addressed by the mayor and members of the council, and passed a resolution in favor of Parnell. A dispatch from Dublin says: A: Tullyrone Mr. Parnell addressed a meeting of 500 persons. His speech was brief, and was mainly a repetition of utterances in previous speeches. It was delivered amid a running commentary of cries such as "Down with Judas Healy?" "Down with Hennessey, the Zulu king!" from certain of his hearers. Mr. Parnell apologized for the weakness of his voice, but he appeared in good health. From Tullyrone Parnell and his friends drove to Freshford, where he addressed another meeting, referring furing his speech to the seceders as and his friends drove to Freshford, where he addressed another meeting, referring during his speech to the seceders as "miserable gutter sparrows," whom he had pushed out of obscurity and given a better chance than he gave himself. After winning in Kilkenny he said he would go to every quarter of Ireland and ask the support of the people. Here a gathering of his opponents interrupted Parnell with shouts of "To — with the adulterer!"

shouts of "To — with the adulterer!"

The Irish Situation.

London, Dec. 15.—The contest between Mr. Parnell and the majority of the Irish party still fills the public mind here to the exclusion of all other topics. The chief journals are daily crammed with variously colored reports from Ireland of the different phases of the struggle, and they daily give the public long editorial articles commenting on each new move played in the game of surprises of the ex-leader. But though the interest in the contest is as high as ing on each new move played in the game of surprises of the ex-leader. But though the interest in the contest is as high as ever, the events of the week have produced a rapid and complete revulsion of opinion on the matter in the minds of all thinking men. Mr. Patnell's prolongation of the debates, his marked unfairness, his sublime disregard of the great question under discussion, were matters which it was felt might be condoned when once the decision of the majority was recorded. People saw that he must go, and therefore that he did only harm to his own reputation by futile endeavor to stave off the evil day. But Mr. Parnell's determination to continue the fight after the verdict has been given, his immediate arraying of his forces in line of battle, and the methods and manner of his appeal to the Irish people have cast into the deepest dismay all sincere well-wishers of the Irish cause in England and Scotland. The cause of home rule, they say sorrowfully, is ruined. Mr. Parnell's action in Ireland, his triumphant defiance of all the decencies and all the proprieties, his deliberate and scornful repudiation of every constitutional principle that has avowedly formed his creed during the whole course of his political career, his calculated appeals to the worst passions of an ignorant and passionate people, his unblushing exality and his virtue, side by side with broad-cast imputations and libelous attacks on his late friends and colleagues, can have,

THE WORLD OF WORK.

Prospects of a General Strike of Railway Men in Scotland.

The Operative Plasterers' International Union, No. 48, Toronto, appointed Samuel Dunbar and James Armstrong delegates to the convention to be held at Boston in the first week in January.

An abrupt close. He was completely exhausted, and was entirely unable to make a further effort.

Messrs. Healy, Kenny, Tanner and Davitt addressed meetings in support of Sir John Pope Hennessey. Mr. Healy declared that if Parnell were allowed to retain the leadership he would stump Ireland with a new banner made of Mrs. O'Shea's peticoats. Parnell, he said, put Capt. O'Shea in Parliament, the price paid being the honor of O'Shea's wife.

The anti-Parnellite leaders say they are satisfied with their progress at Kilkenny.
