The Situation Summarized.

LONDON, July 18.—At 3 o'clock this morning the total returns received show the election of 311 supporters of the Governmen and 347 members of the Opposition. The aggregates of the polling up to the present time are: Unionists and Conservatives, 2,118,553; Gladstonians, 2,375,337. It is officially announced to-day that as a result of the visit of Lord Salzbury to the Queen at Windsor Castle the Conservative Government will meet Parliament on Aug. 4.

THE TORY VIEW OF IT. LONDON, July 19 .- The Standard says Lordox, July 19.—The Standard says. The Government must meet the new Parliament and leave it to Mr. Gladstone to ask the House of Commons to vote no confidence in the Ministry, but it does not follow that he will succeed in carrying such a vote in the address. The Nationalists may move an amendment to his resolution that the House refuse to withdraw confidence in Lord Salisbury till it can repose confidence in Mr. Gladstone, and it cannot do this until it knows the course Mr. Gladstone intends to pursue in the event of his accession to power. Such an amendment would raise the whole question of the particular measure of home rule Mr. Gladstone is meditating, and it is instructive to the anti-Parnellites quite as much as the Parnellites, who would then be enabled to compel him to make in the House the disclosures which he so tar refused to make to the country. This would be a natural, logical, and legitimate piece of tact, and the Parnellites will be wantion in deference to Mr. Parnellis. The Government must meet the new Par piece of tact, and the Par wanting in deference to memory and obedience to they do not adop they do not have several wrongs to have several wrongs to aver be expected to support Mr. they know something more a If Mr. Gladstone refuses to candid they candid, they can refuse tand he will be beaten on h will fail to earry a vote of dence, or will carry it by jority as to make accession thing but certain. He is abstemious'at the table, he does not smoke, nor doth he applystrong waters to his blood. Mr. Blake's eye this morning has more than its accustomed luster, his countenance is bronzed, his step as lightsome as that of his vivacious son and fellow-voyageur.

THE COALITION GOVERNMENT.

THE COALITION GOVERNMENT.

The Pail Mall Gazette says a rumor is in circulation that the Queen will not sum-mon Mr. Gladstone to form a Ministry, mon Mr. Gladstone to form a Ministry, and that a coalition Government under the Duke of Devonshire is possible. The Pall Mall Gazette connects the rumor with the visit of Lord Salisbury, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and the Duke of Devonshire to Windsor Castle last week. The best informed Liberals ridicule a Devoushire coalition as outside of all possible contingencies imparting the acceptance of home rule by the Liberal-Unionists and their return adhesion to Mr. Gladstone.

London, July 19.—Mr. Gladstone will eturn to London at the end of the week. LONDON, July 19.—Mr. Gradstone will return to London at the end of the week. He has accepted an invitation to reside temporarily at the House of Mr. Stuart Rendel, the member-elect for Montgomeryshire, at Carlton Gardens, prior to resuming his official residence in Downing street. Mr. Gladstone's first conference—on the formation—of the new Ministry occurred at Dalmeny Park, the residence of Lord Rosebery. Before he started for Braemar he summoned Mr. John Morely to meet Lord Rosebery and Sir George Trevelyan. Sir William Vernon Harcourt will be First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader in the House of Commons under Mr. Gladstone's direction, and Mr. Henry Fowler will be Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Morley does not desire to be Chief Secretary for Ireland. He wants the Secretaryship of the Colonial Office, but influential pressure has been brought to bear on Mr. Gladstone to appoint Mr. James Bryce Colonial Secretary. The best-informed Liberal forecasts of the Ministry assign Lord Herschell to the Lord Chancellorship, Earl Spencer to the Viceroyship of Ireland, Mr. George Shaw-Lefevre to the Chief Secretaryship for Ireland, Sir George Trevelyan to the Secretaryship of the Home Office, Mr. Henry Campbell-Bannerman to the Secretaryship of the Colonies, Lord Rosebery to the Secretaryship of the Colonies, Lord Rosebery to the Secretaryship of the Colonies, Lord Rosebery to the Secretaryship of the Presidency of the Council, and Mr. A. When Sir Charles Russell's early elevation to the bench occurs he will be succeeded in the Attorney-Generalship by Mr. Rigby, and Mr. Herbert A. Asquith will become Solicitor-General. The Radical Press puts toward Messrs. Benn, Stewart and Causton, three favorites with the London Progressives, as entitled to office. Other aspirants are Mr. Dyke Acland and Sir Walter Foster, and Mr. Burt, who probably, as the best representative of the Liberal Laborists, will fill the place of Mr. Broadhurst, the Under Secretary in the Home Office in the last Gladstone Ministry. Tokosio, one received by City Treasurer Coady:
R. T. Coady, City Treasurer:
Dear Sir,—Inclosed you will find our check for $468 75, being first payment of taxes for 1892 on Jarvis Street Baptist Church property on a valuation of $75,000 at 122 mills on the dollar. I have no means of arriving at the correct amount of exemptions apart from the property owned by the city, but computing it at two mills, the same as last year, will make our rate 12½ mills. The church decides voluntarily to pay the tax on its property as exempt on this basis, making the amount $937 50, of which the inclosed is one-half, as stated above.

In making this payment I, on behalf of Jarvis Street Baptist Church, formally protest against exemptions and especially against the exemption of ecclesiastical property as contrary to the principles which should govern the relation of the civil authorities to religious bodies, and to request that the corporation should use its influence to have the law amended so as to abolish such exemptions.

says the distress in the famine district and the mortality in the cholera stricken cities far exceed anything allowed to appear in the Russian papers. The fact that orders for disinfectants and medicine have been received by German firms, which the trade is unable to meet, adds to the alarm in Russian official circles. One firm alone has received an order for 60,000 kilogrammes of carbolic acid from the Czar's physicians in ordinary, but they have been already exhausted from other parts of Russia.

Dr. Cream Committed.

London, July 18.—Thomas Neil, alias Dr. Cream, was arraigned before Sir John Bridge in the Bow Street Police Court today on the charge of having murdered Matilda Clover by administering strychnine to her. The court room was crowded and a number of extra policemen were on duty. Neill looked well and his face betrayed no trace of anxiety or trouble. He asked to be furnished with writing materials, and when they were given him he made copicus notes of the proceedings. C. F. Gill appeared against the prisoner on behalf of the Troasury. He said he would prove thecircumstances under which Matilda Clover was murdered, and he asked that the prisoner be committed. Mr. Gill added that he would have to refer to the deaths of three other girls who were killed in a manner precisely similar to the Clover girl. The court granted Mr. Gill's request, and the prisoner was remanded.

A few hours after her departure the sound of a terrible explosion was heard in the direction of the Sanger group, and this was followed shortly atterward by showers of ashes which covered the deck of the steamer and darkened the whole atmosphere. When the clouds had cleared away nothing was visible on the horizon but masses of vapor that extended for many miles. Great Sanger, which prior to the explosion was in full sight, could not be seen. London, July 19.—It is announced on seemingly official authority that when the Prince of Wales starts for Homburg in August his beautiful Princess will not accompany him. There has been considerable coolness between the royal couple in the last two years, and, although no effort has been spared to conceal the fact, it has leaked out that they see very little of each other nowadays. It has taken all the Queen's dexerous diplomacy to keep this disagreement from becoming an open seandal. In spite of these afflictions the Queen keeps up her attentions to the King of Roumania, who is visiting the court, and has conferred upon him the dignity of the Garter, dispensing with the solemn ceremonial that usually accompanies the bestowal of this splendid decoration. It is said that she handed it to him as informally as though she was giving him a newspaper, and that was all. Besides this, she has companies incomed Angeli of Vienna to paint the King's portrait, and this will soon ornament her private apartments at Windsor. All these attentions have made the King popular here, and he is received everywhere with great empressement. LONDON, July 19 .- It is announced on

The already immense paper mills at the works of the E. B. Eddy Company at Hull, Que., are to be further increased by another "96" Fourdernier machine, which will be placed in the stone building now occupied as a sash and door factory. This building is about 180 feet by 70 feet and is large enough for two such machines. The present one will be placed so that another can be added when required. The tenant houses on the Aylmer road, between the offices and fire hall, are to be torn down and a new stone building, about 200 feet by 80 feet, of the same substantial character as the other buildings of this company will be erected. This building will be used as a storehouse and paper finishing room. Messrs. Black & Richards, who had the contracts to build their indurated fibreware factory in 1887, and their pulp mill in 1888, the suphite mill in 1889 and No. 1 and 2 paper mills last year, have secured the contract for the alterations, for the new storehouse.
