London, May 22-(Correspondence the Associated Press).—The reason why the workers who remain at their places in British industries are asking for war bonuses is explained by Secretary Robert Williams, of the National day by Mr. Walsh at Kansas City, and Transport Workers Federation, who says that while the real need of the workers is to meet the increased cost of living, the employers are reaping exceptionally large profits, instead of everything that happened in Colorado W. L. Mackenzie King, former labor suffering from the war.

The advisability has been discussed of taking a register of all the men now nevering with the army or engaged in serving with the army or engaged in manufactures, including munitions, or available for enlistment. Such a regis-

[Canadian Press.]

Glasgow, May 22-(Correspondence) the Associated Press).—Charges that the supply of war munitions is being held up by the attitude of workmen in the industrial districts are supported by the Glasgow Herald, which has made an extensive investigation of the situation in the Glasgow district,

The newspaper investigators report that in their opinion the whole issue of the war is being jeopardized by industrial inefficiency and by manipulation of work by dissatisfied workmen. The following example is given: Force Up Scale.
"One of the practices of piece-workers is to drag out an operation for which they are geting what they think is too low a price until it takes twice or thrice as long as necessary. They ask for a higher price on the strength of this, and when they have got the price up to the point they consider suf-ficient, they turn to and get the work done in a fraction of the previous time, in order to earn the money,

The restrictions with regard to unskilled labor are maintained in some of the shops with unabated rigidity, and the effect is most seriously felt in the ammunition ories, where the need of increased output is most urgent.' Urges Military Discipline.

In certain shops, it is alleged, row after row of machines may be seen idle; with men idle beside them, willing to work, but forbidden by the shop rules of the engineering unions The Herald calls for the establishment of military discipline in all establishments engaged on war material, and it suggests that the necessary authority to handle the situation might with propriety be put into the hands of the local armaments committees. which
