

SUFFRAGE AGAIN IN THE BALANCE

Tennessee House Plans to Vote
Again On Question.

THIS MAY BE ILLEGAL

Certificate of Approval Is Already Forwarded.

NASHVILLE, August 31.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—The Tennessee House of Representatives, with a quorum present for the first time since August 20, expunged from its journal to-day all record of ratification of the federal suffrage amendment and voted 47 to 24, with 31 not voting, to concur in the action of the Senate in ratifying the amendment.

Governor Robert, upon being notified of the House's action, declined to make any statement, but said that the situation could only be dealt with in a legal manner and was in the hands of Attorney General Thompson.

The latter, in a letter read on the House floor during discussion of the matter of reconsidering the vote, expressed the opinion that reconsideration of the resolution of ratification was impossible since the House already had adopted it and Governor Robert had certified to Secretary of State Colby action by both House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—United States state department officials, in the absence of Secretary of State Colby, tonight hesitated to express an opinion as to the effect on suffrage ratification of the Tennessee House's action on the ratification resolution and then voting not to concur in the Senate's ratification.

The situation presented by the action of the Tennessee House, it was said, however, was one with which the state department was not at present concerned.

IN PROPER FORM.
The action of Secretary of State Colby in proclaiming the suffrage amendment part of the constitution was based on a certification by the Governor of Tennessee, as required by law.

Accordingly, it was said, unless the Governor should rescind his certification or unless the certification should be declared invalid by the courts, the state department had no interest in the matter.

Suffrage leaders in Washington did not regard the Tennessee action as serious, declaring that the best legal advisors had informed them that once ratification was voted by state legislatures the vote could not be reversed except in case Congress presented to the states a resolution to rescind the amendment.

The ratification by Tennessee Legislature made the 36 states necessary for the federal amendment. Acting on the ratification that the Tennessee Legislature had acted favorably, United States Secretary of State Colby last week promulgated the amendment.

Colby's action, it was said, gave the right to vote in the coming election for the presidency and members of Congress.

PLEASANTANCE
ON NORTH FRONT

Have Cleared Greater Part of Galicia of Reds.

RETREAT GOES ON
Occupation of Soviet Strongholds Is Announced.

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—Polish forces advancing toward Grodno, which reached the banks of the Neiman River, which flows past Grodno toward the north, according to news from the northeastern front.

The great part of Eastern Galicia has been recovered by Polish and Ukrainian troops, who are masters of all the left bank of the Dniester River. Pursuit of the Bolshevik forces, which appeared along the upper reaches of the Bug River, near Sokol, continues in the region of Przemyśl, 25 miles southeast of Lemberg, the Poles scattered the Soviet forces that attempted to start an offensive operation. Gen. Pawlenko's Ukrainian columns, which crossed the Dniester River south of the City of Buczacz, have developed their offensive successfully, obliging the Bolsheviks to retreat in the Serezh River to precipitately retreat in order to avoid being surrounded.

FURTHER GAINS.
WARSAW, August 31.—(Associated Press Cable)—Further news from the northern front are reported in the Polish official communiqué to-day. Polish troops captured Augustow west of Grodno, where they were enthusiastically received by the population. Lithuanian detachments, scattered by the Poles, have been most friendly.

The Bolsheviks are continuing to give way before Polish pressure in the Bialystok sector, says the communication. The Poles have occupied Sokolka, Grudek and Narew. It is reported that the Russians are preparing to make serious resistance in the region of Mianowskie River.

Quiet prevails in the Brest-Litovsk sector.

The Poles are resisting repeated efforts of General Budenny's cavalry to break through near Zamosc in a movement to encircle Lemberg. Przeworsk, which had been temporarily evacuated by the Poles, has been regained in a counterattack.

Bolshevik attacks upon Zazowice, east of Lemberg, have been repulsed with heavy losses. General Budenny's forces have been driven out of the region of Zdziszow and Chodorow, south of Lemberg.

NEW RUSSIAN ARMY.
WARSAW, Sept. 1.—A new Russian volunteer army, which is already assuming respectable proportions, is being formed by the Russian national committee, founded in this city by Boris Savinkoff, Russian war minister during the Kerensky regime, and M. Rohdich, Social Democratic leader in Russia. M. Savinkoff fought as a Polish volunteer during the battle waged along the banks of the Bug River against the Bolshevik forces, which attempted to take Warsaw.

The committee's program comprises establishment in Russia of a republic, democratic regime, free land among peasants, and wide provincial autonomy.

DESIRE SETTLEMENT OF BRESLAU INCIDENT

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The French ambassador to-day informed the German foreign ministry that the French Government desired a settlement as soon as possible by the German Government of the Breslau incident, arising from the attack by a mob on the French consulate.

France demands that the consulate be restored to the original condition, and that 100,000 francs indemnity be paid for losses and damages sustained by agents of the consulate. The punishment of the persons responsible for the outbreak also is called for, and a ceremonial opening of the consulate will be required. In addition, France has requested a settlement of the incident of July 15, when German troops failed to properly salute the French flag that had been restored to the embassy building in Berlin.

The commander of the company is to be required.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO.
QUEBEC, August 31.—Joseph Lamontagne, 20, and Georges Labrecque, 20, of St. Nere, Bellechasse County, were instantly killed early on Tuesday morning when a barn they were approaching at St. Nere was struck by lightning in a severe storm that was passing over the district at the time.

RAIN SMOTHERS THE FOREST FIRES

Danger in Manitoba Over for the Present.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE.

Thousands of Acres of Hay
Lands Destroyed.

WINNIPEG, August 31.—(Canadian Press Dispatch)—Sixteen farmers on the Ste. Rose du Lac district have lost their homes, barns, implements and crops in bush fires that have been laying waste the area in the last few days, according to an official report by provincial authorities to-day.

Thousands of acres of hay lands and hundreds of tons of cut hay have been destroyed in the northern part of the province.

The danger in all sections is at an end for the present, however, on account of the rainfall, which was fairly general over Manitoba Monday night and to-day.

A dispatch from Prince Albert, Sask., says the timely rains have practically quenched the fires along the line of the Canadian National Railway east of that place.

HOUSING AT STRATFORD.
STRATFORD, August 31.—A meeting of the housing commission was held this morning, when estimates were passed upon. Under the new act some 28 homes have been erected in the city this year.

AT THE GRAND.
A strong detachment of our infantry detained early this morning at the Grand, and after a short skirmish with the station guards and minor outposts, the detachment moved on to the Grand.

After a short skirmish with the station guards and minor outposts, the detachment moved on to the Grand.

Operation orders have been issued to all concerned, and it is learned that the main attack will be launched at stand-to this evening at the Grand Opera House.

The P. B. L. will be in the jumping-off trench at least 20 minutes before zero hour, and at 8.15 pm emma precisely an orchestra of all calibers will open up a heavy curtain-fire. Under cover of this barrage, the Poor Bally Infantry will kick-off and drive home their attack with the utmost clan. It is confidently predicted that Gloom Strong-ohm and Ennui Redoubt will fall before the first onslaught of our shock troops. The seven subsequent jumps will be over run under cover of a barrage of heavy laughter. The final objective in a history-making attack will be gained at 22.00 hours, when the show will be over except the cheering—and the wee tot of S. R. D. for the tripe.

EDNA GOODRICH.
"Sleeping Partners" with Edna Goodrich, will be the attractions at the Grand Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee.

Miss Goodrich will probably best be remembered here as leading lady and a star with Nat C. Goodrich. The play is a translation of a French comedy by Sacha Guitry. Though new to this country, Guitry's play is a solid year in Paris as the most truly original and the most daring of the men now writing for the French theater. It was adapted from the French by Seymour Hicks, who produced it in London, where it ran for a solid year, and it enjoyed a successful run of seven months at the Bijou Theater in New York.

The story tells of a young man, a French captain, who is in the French capital. "Sleeping Partners" could best be described as a comedy of the Parisian boulevards. Seats now.

After many months of preliminary announcements, "Chu Chin Chow" to the skies, that famous musical extravaganza of the Orient will be presented by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Grand on September 15, 17 and 18. This big London and New York musical success is a story of ancient Bagdad, written by Oscar Asch, with music by Frederick Norton and lyrics by E. Lyall Swete. "Chu Chin Chow" is now in the fifth year of its amazing success in London, and comes here with the record of an entire season at the Century Theater, New York. The same cast and complete production will be seen here, while the scenery and costumes, all made in London, are exact duplicates of the originals now in use at His Majesty's Theater in London. In the past of "Chu Chin Chow" are 300 people and a ballet of 60 dancers.

The story of "Chu Chin Chow" is based upon one of the Arabian Nights tales and deals with the entry into Bagdad of Chu Chin Chow, a notorious robber chief, disguised as a Chinese mandarin. The slave girl, Zahra-al-Kalub, exposes him and foils his schemes. Meanwhile there are many songs and dances. 14 picturesque scenes, 18 musical numbers, four ballets and a host of highly entertaining features. The slave market scene in particular is a brilliant and colorful pageant.

Judging by its remarkable success elsewhere, "Chu Chin Chow" will be the sensation of the year here. Seats now by mail, if accompanied by check, postal or express order, including tax.

AT THE ALLEN.
You may talk about your fast and furious fun, your wonderful comedies, but you have never seen the limit in hilarious, exciting humor until you have seen Rex Beach's wonderful comedy feature, "Going Some," which is now showing at the Allen. With Cullen Landis, Walter Hyers, Ethel Grey Terry, and a host of well-known players, each in this picture attaining the height of humor out of their characterizations. "Going Some" is a picture which will bring the tears of laughter to your eyes, even while you are gasping at the lightning thrills which are following one scene after another. The story is of a young college cheer leader, who to win the lady of his heart boasts to the cowboys of the ranch where the house party is staged, that he is a great athlete, and then is forced into a race to win back the glory and money of the camp from the rival outfit, who have a marvelous and speedy cook. There's pep and plop, and it keeps going so fast all through the six reels of the picture that you are gasping, laughing, or trying to get back your breath for one whole, solid hour.

AT LOEW'S.
The artistry of William Faversham, coupled with a good story and splendid production qualities, give Loew's Theater one of the best photo-plays of the entire season. "The Man Who Lost Himself" is the title, and incidentally is the first of an announced series of Solomick pictures in which William Faversham will be starred. If those to follow are as valuable for entertaining purposes as "The Man Who Lost Himself," the screen will have profited greatly through the decision of William Faversham. This first release, starring William Faversham, will be seen here for the last time. Capacity audiences have enjoyed him, as one of the best pictures of the season at Loew's the past two days.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

AT THE PATRICIA.
Closing to-day at the Patricia Theater is one of the most dramatic pictures seen in many months on a local screen. It is "The White Dove," with H. B. Warner as its star. This Robert Gordon-Cole picture is from the novel of the same name, which was written by William J. Locke, the English novelist. Startlingly the picture teaches the need of mercy toward the erring.

A Western drama, a Strand comedy and a high-class vaudeville act complete the bill, which delighted large audiences Monday and yesterday.

ADmits NO FACTS TO BACK CHARGE AGAINST BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—Before the Senate committee, investigating campaign funds this afternoon, Congressman Fred Britton, Illinois, failed to produce any evidence to support his charge that the British Government, for "entertainment purposes" at the British embassy in Washington, had found its way into the Democratic national committee's fund.

He admitted he had no facts to support his charge and that it was only his "personal idea."

SAYS MACSWINEY WAS IN TORONTO REGIMENT

Former Commander Certain That Cork
Hunger Striker Same Man as
Was Court-Martialled in Canada.

TORONTO, August 31.—Lt.-Col. Young, former commander of the 1st Depot Battalion, Central Ontario Regiment, here, insists that the published picture of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, of Cork, who is near death in Brixton prison, England, as the result of a hunger strike, is the picture of a man, by the same name who was a member of his battalion.

Records show that a John Terence MacSwiney, aged 31 years, was sentenced by court-martial here in the closing days of the war for refusing to wear the uniform. He was conscripted in the town of Inverness, Scotland, at Inverness Falls, Ont., and gave his birthplace as Cork, Ireland. He was a pronounced Sinn Feiner. Col. Young is convinced that he is the same person now starving himself to death in prison.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE IS SUPPORTING MINERS

LONDON, August 31.—(Associated Press Cable) A strike of the British coal miners was apparently brought nearer to-day by the passage of resolution by the "triple alliance," comprising the railway workers, the transport workers and the miners, supporting the claims of the miners.

It was decided by the meeting to assemble to-morrow to consider the further policy of the alliance.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An anti-aid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder form or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for the one which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten simply evil results of excessive secretion of acid in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes flat, oppressive, burning feeling, sometimes known as heartburn, while acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid and make it bland, a quarter of a glass of Colman's magnesia, a good and effective remedy, should be taken in water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetening the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

$50,000 REWARD BRINGS NOTHING

Offer in A. J. Small Case Expires To-Day.

NO INFORMATION YET.

Conference to Be Held Regarding Future.

TORONTO, August 31.—The offer of a reward of $50,000 for information as to the whereabouts of Ambrose J. Small, the missing millionaire theater owner, who disappeared from this city on December 2, last, and has not since been seen nor heard from, expires automatically to-morrow, September 1, also the offer of a reward of $15,000 for the recovery of Mr. Small's body, if found dead.

Dr. G. B. Connolly, president and managing director of the Capital Trust Company, trustees of Mr. Small's estate, said to-night that he did not know whether the offer would be renewed or not. He said he probably would confer with Mr. Small and her solicitor, Frank Hughes, to-morrow or on Thursday, with reference to the question. Nothing of a really tangible nature has resulted from the offer of the rewards.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919, and warrants are out for his arrest on a charge of kidnapping his former employer.

There is a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, Mr. Small's private secretary, who disappeared on December 28, 1919