Two Banking Scenes.

The Teller's face is bright with joy, He hums a little song, He knows that all the world is gay, He cheers him right along, He makes a pleasing little jest About the lovely weather, Indeed he talks to us as if We had been "raised" together. The Ledger-keeper wears a smile So peaceful and so bland; He reaches through the wicket, just To grasp your honest hand, And e'en the stately Manager Puts on a mellow grin, And why? The staff is happy 'cause We're putting money in.

II.

The Teller's face is rather stern, The Teller's eyes are sad, He seems to think the bally world Is hastening to the bad, He sneers more often than he should One fancies he is dumb, Three wrinkles mar his manly brow, His very ears are glum, The Ledger-keeper is as bad, His lips are wondrous tight, He seems to think our overcoat Is but a sorry sight, The Manager is grouchy too, And why? The staff is sore because We're taking money OUT.

Holidays in Old Days.

There is a general belief that holidays in Canada at the present are far more numerous than they were in civilized countries in bygone ages. This is clearly a misapprehension, for an old almanac of 1792, of one hundred and 20 years old, gives forty days that were observed as holidays by all the government offices and the banks. In addition the excise and exchequer offices observed six other days, making in all very nearly eight weeks. Every month had its holiday, some three or four, the only month having a single day being May during which month, for some reason or other, the 25th was observed. This will be quite a revelation to the Scroogos who imagine Canadian people have too easy a time. As a matter of fact there are few countries that have so few holidays. There are also few countries if any, in which the people are as diligent and industrious. At Christmas time in the eighteenth century the public offices and the banks were absolutely closed for four days in succession. At other times two days were frequently given up to holiday making. Including the Sabbath Day, it will be observed that one-quarter of the entire year was devoted one-hundred and twenty years ago to

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called RECALL ORDERLIES.

Recall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the bowels. They remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They are eaten like candy, may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Price 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store.

could be heard in the middle of the ocean, a thousand miles away from land. "But this was not quite the end. To our amazement, she remained in that upright position for a time which I estimate as five minutes; others in the boat say less, but it was certainly some minutes while we watched at least 150 feet of the Titanic towering up above the level of the sea and looming black against the sky. Then with a quiet, slanting dive, she disappeared beneath the waters."

Reduce Size of Paper Money.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeigh will recommend to Congress soon that the paper money of the United States be substantially reduced in size and every denomination made uniform in design. It is contemplated to make all notes six by two and a half inches, a reduction of one-third in size, the present dimensions being 7.28 by 3.04 inches.

A Western Yarn.

South Vancouver, April 9.—White a group of ladies were seated in front of the corner stone of Fifty-second Avenue Baptist church yesterday, awaiting the commencement of the ceremonies, a humming bird, attracted by the artificial violets in the hat of one lady, flew to the hat and settled down to investigate. It did not remain long after its discovery that the flowers were not what they seemed.

While ex-reeve Clark, of Harwich, was fishing last week he fell into the peculiar predicament of being himself speared by a fellow fisherman named Todd. Mr. Todd shot his spear for a fish and missed it, but caught Mr. Clark, and one prong went right through his foot.

Mrs. Margaret King, aged 71, relict of Robert King, died at her home in Stratford on Thursday. Several weeks ago, while on a visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Hedley, she fell and hurt herself badly, and never recovered from the shock. The funeral was held on Friday to the G. T. R. depot.

A PILL FOR GENEROUS EATERS—There are many persons of healthy appetite and poor digestion who, after a hearty meal, are subject to much suffering. The food of which they have partaken lies like lead in their stomachs. Headache, depression, a smothering feeling follow. One so afflicted is unfit for business or work of any kind. In this condition Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will bring relief. They will assist the assimilation of the ailment, and used according to direction will restore healthy digestion.

A bill has been introduced in the Ontario Legislature to prevent the extermination of ginseng. Digging or gathering the plant in its wild state is prohibited between Jan. 1st and Sept. 1st penalty for violation no less than $20. Half of penalty goes to the prosecutor unless otherwise ordered by the convicting magistrate.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this."

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

Back To Common Sense.

Just before the Titanic wreck it was announced that steamships were to be constructed like apartment houses, with suites of rooms in which a family might have absolute privacy, even kitchens in which their own food might be prepared. It is possible that the awful disaster may check this particular form of lunacy. For several years there has been a fierce competition in luxury, size and speed. The fact that the latest boat beat the fastest of her predecessors by a few minutes, was bigger, and contained a few more of the comforts of a modern hotel, was chronicled with joy and pride.

It was all foolish, as we see too plainly now. The craze for speed is expensive as well as dangerous. The consumption of coal is enormously increased as the speed is augmented. The eagerness to shorten the voyage leads, not only to excessive and dangerous speed, but to the selection of the northern route, when the more southerly route would be safer.

Luxury also has been carried to excess. It does no harm to a wealthy man or woman accustomed to luxury at home to rough it a little for a few days on the sea. People are ready to do without luxuries or even comforts when they go hunting, mountain climbing, or camping, and they should be able to cross the ocean in something less luxurious than a great hotel or apartment house. Obviously, it is difficult to build a ship like a palace, and at the same time make it seaworthy and easy to handle.

A Forward Step.

Doubtless the time will come when those about to be married will be required to produce, prior to the ceremony, physician's certificates that they are physically and mentally fit to take upon themselves the responsibilities of matrimony. Such a regulation would work no hardship except for those who, for their own sake and the sake of succeeding generations, should not be wedded, and there is no doubt that it would mean a great decrease in the number of mental incompetents and physical unfit in the country.

In the meantime, a start in this direction has been made independently by the dean of the Cathedral of S. S. Peter and Paul, in Chicago, who has announced that no couples will be married there unless they are able to present certificates of health. The first marriage under these conditions has already taken place and it does not appear that any objections were made by the happy couple, who were able to qualify.

For its own protection the state must effectually take cognizance of this question. One step which, in Ontario, might help considerably in the right direction, says the St. Thomas Journal, would be the placing of the issuing of marriage licenses in the hands of responsible physicians, giving them authority to use their own judgment when the fitness of any candidate for matrimony was in dispute, and making it obligatory for both man and woman to appear before the granting of a license.

The Titanic Tragedy.

The world stands stunned at the magnitude of the disaster which overtook the Titanic, the latest word in the building of luxurious and supposedly safe passenger steamers. The greatest tragedy of the sea in all history is recorded in the story which tells of the Titanic striking the huge iceberg, of the hours of fearful waiting, of the plunge of this ten-million-dollar boat to the bottom of the ocean, two miles below, leaving only a few hundred of the men and women above water.

Everything human ingenuity could suggest had been employed to strengthen the colossal creation and insure its safety against the uttermost perils of the ocean. Water-tight compartments were many; by ordinary injury the vessel would have been unsinkable. But without thoughtful and even scientific calculation, the mind can hardly comprehend the power of the impact of the moving monster against the unyielding ice barrier. Steel must have crumbled, rivets and joints broken, beams and columns buckled, throughout the mighty fabric. Fittingly named Titanic to accord with its giant frame Titanic also was the shock which in a moment produced the greatest shipwreck the world has ever known.

SCIATICA EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor F. Hives makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service, and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold, and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferruzone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism, or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hives. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline," 50 cents per bottle, trial size, 25c; sold everywhere, or The Catharzone Co., Kingston, Ont.
