—A general election to the Assembly of the North-West took place last week, Oct. 31st, resulting in the re-election of nearly all the old members. This assembly, which meets at Regina, consists of twenty-nine members, representing the vast extent of country between Manitoba and the Rocky Mountains, a distance of some 750 miles, and comprising a population of about 100,000 people. This is the seat of the now famous North-West school trouble, over which Dalton McCarthy and others are wont to wax eloquent at times. Strange to say, however, in the local contest which has just closed no mention was made of this grievance. On the contrary the one most important matter discussed by the candidates was that of freight rates on grain, cattle, coal and lumber. Being mainly an agricultural country whose products are sold in the European markets, the people there, like ourselves, nowever, the people of the North-West have to pay freight on a long haul of over 2,000 niles before the sea-coast is reached. With yheast, their chief product, selling at its preent low price, it can readily be seen that he question of freights is one of even more itsel investages at them that the condition of freights is one of even more itsel investages at them that are an accordance as the product and and preent of the conference of the Confer sent low price, it can readily be seen that the question of freights is one of even more vital importance to them than to us.

With a view of solving this difficulty for projected several years ago for constructing a railway to Hudson Bay, from whence the wheat and other products of that section of the Dominion could be shipped by steamers of prominent men of Manitoba and the North-West has recently been in Ottawa ment. It is doubtful however, if this government. It is address, as the is the best solution of the difficulty, as the is the best solution of the difficulty, as the scheme would require a large amount of money to carry it through, and the short season of the northern region of Hudson Bay during a few during a few of the Journal of Education which are now being published in the local press, for the information of Trustees and Teachers, at the request of the Inspectors of schools, contain some things which call for the serious consideration of the taxpayers of the province. It appears, that by an act passed in 1893, the teaching of music and certain other subjects are made compulsory, and threats are now beld over the heads of teachers and trustees that unless these subjects are given sufficient attention the provincial or county grants may be with-held, wholly or in part, grants may be with-held, wholly or in part, from the schools failing to carry out the provisions of this act. It would be interesting to know upon what grounds those who are responsible for the passage of such a law ider it to be the duty of the state to provide instruction in music in our public schools. Music is no part of a common school education, or ought not to be, as it is a sort of ornament or luxury, so to speak. But, even if it were not, to attempt to compel every feacher to give such instruction, under penalty of the loss of the provincial or county grants appears tyrannical and unjust in the extreme. Musicians, like poets, are born not made. Some of our very best teachers have placed such a law upon our statute book the sooner it is repealed the better for themselves. No government would dare to enforce such a law.

A Nihilist proclamation circulated in some of the countries of Europe, just as the Czar was on his death-bed, contains sentiments like these: "At length the Monster is geing to disappear. Dedication of the New Baptist Church at Granville Centre.

The choir of the Bridgetown Baptiat church rendered valuable assistance in the services of the day. The singing was of a high order and much appreciated.

The new house of worship is a perfect little gem in workmanship and appearance and reflects the greatest credit upon both people and builder; and the committee would heartify recommend Mr. Bent as a careful and thorough workman,—a man among men and a christian among christians.

The church has been built by a few who have the cause at heart, and has been opened under most favorable conditions. The public are invited to the free use of the house.
