

THE LATEST PORTRAIT OF MR. OLALSTONE.

workmen and factory-hands their mid-day meal. The carts are owned by a private company, whose fixed charge for o'clock and collect the basins containing the dinners. The wives, on handing the conductor their husbands' dinners, re-

DELIVERING DINNERS IN BERLIN.

transport is under five cents a month. The carts which are heated by hot air, go round the workmen's dwellings at 11 ceive from him a clean basin to be used for the following day. The Old World is ahead of the New in many respects yet.