

Your Committee state these suggestions concerning attendance of Grand Officers, and number of Grand Sessions, without recommending the changes. If other means can be devised, these would not be advisable. The attendance at meetings of the Grand Division, is of consequence, as regards appearance and influence; and the Quarterly meetings are calculated to have excellent effect in the localities where they are held. Exigencies may demand a reduction of our display, but the noble cause in which we are engaged, and the aspect of the times, require renewed exertions and the zealous occupation of a greatly extended field of action. Praying that an overruling Providence may wisely direct the deliberations of the Brotherhood, on these and other objects of most serious consideration, we remain in Love, Purity and Fidelity.

CHARLES B. NAYLOR, Chairman.
J. S. THOMPSON,
WILLIAM L. BELL.
