The Most Wonderful Musical Instrument of the Age. THE PHONOGRAPHIC UPRIGHT PIANO.

Which plays any tune that has ever been written, in a purely mechanical manner, on the principle of the wonderful Phonograph. The Phonographic Upright Piano is exactly represented by these engravings, and is probably the most wonderful musical instrument that human ingenuity has ever produced. The action is purely mechanical in every sense, and a child often years can play it as well as the most thorough musician. The cut showing the rear view of the instrument, gives a perfect idea of the principle—a long, endless (continuous) strip of prepared paper, in which the tune has been perforated, is inserted between the rollers, and the door then closed; a small crank propels the strip of paper through the instrument, and in its passage over the key board the keys or strikers press through the perforations as they pass, and produce the music, which is clear, loud, and extremely sweet and melodious; and for quality of music, the Phonographic Upright Piano is unequalled.

well as a simple tone, and anyone can play it and understand it, and it will never get out of tune, which is one of the strongest points in its favor. In point of execution it will compare favorably with a $100 music box, and far better than any music box, the number of tunes it will play is absolutely unlimited. Everybody who has seen it is delighted with it, and musicians themselves praise it. At a family party it will furnish all the music required for dancing or accompaniment for singing. A fine selection of tunes go with each instrument; over 100 pieces of the most popular music have been adapted to the Phonographic Upright Piano, and new pieces will be furnished as fast as they come out at only 1 1/2 cents per tune. The Phonographic Upright Piano is finished in imitation of rosewood, with panels, handsome scroll work, and a million beads, and is an ornament to any room. There is scarcely anyone who does not like music in the house; and to the thousands who possess no Piano, as well as to those who cannot play, the Phonographic Piano will fill a long-felt want. With it you always have any kind of music for any occasion, and it will afford genuine enjoyment far beyond its cost. The key will be sent by express to any address on receipt of price, $5. A discount to the trade in dozen lots only. Every one warranted. Be sure to ask for the Upright Phonographic Piano, as there are other inferior makes in the market.
