

HYMN TO THE SETTING SUN.

SUPPORTED BY THE GOTHIC FRATERNITY.

Blow, slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 Thy course of beneficence done;
 As glorious go down to the ocean's warm breast,
 As when thy bright race was begun,
 For all thou hast done,
 Since thy rising, O sun!
 May thou and thy Maker be blest.

Thou hast scattered the night from the broad golden way,
 Thou hast given us light through a long happy day,
 Thou hast roused up the birds, thou hast wakened the flowers,
 To chant on thy path, and to perfume the hours,
 Thou slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 And rise again, beautiful, blessing and blest.

Blow, slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 Yet pause but a moment to shed
 One warm look of love on the earth's dewy breast,
 Ere the star'd curtains fall round thy bed,
 And to promise the time,
 Where, awaking sublime,
 Thou shalt rush all refresh'd from thy rest,
 Warm hopes drop like dews from thy life-giving hand,
 Teaching hearts closed in darkness like flowers to expand;
 Dreams wake into joys when first touch'd by thy light,
 As glow the dim waves of the sea at thy sight.

Thou slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 And rise again, beautiful, blessing and blest.

Blow, slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 Prolonging the sweet evening hour,
 Then rise again soon in the morn's golden vest,
 To go forth in thy beauty and power,
 Yet pause on thy way,
 To the full height of day,
 For thy rising and setting are blest,
 When thou com'st after darkness to gladden our eyes,
 Or departest in glory, in glory to rise,
 May hope and may prayer still be wake by thy rays,
 And thy going be mark'd with thanksgiving and praise.

Thou slow, mighty wanderer, sink to thy rest,
 And rise again, beautiful, blessing and blest.

YOUNG LADIES SEMINARY

ARGYLE STREET—

NEARLY OPPOSITE THE METHODIST CHAPEL.

THE Misses MORRIS feel much pleasure in thanking their friends for the kind and steady support of their Seminary since its commencement, and would solicit their further interest and exertion in their behalf.

They beg to inform those not acquainted with their Seminary, that the Terms are reasonable, and that their exertions are ever directed to the improvement of their pupils, and the full development of whatever talent they may possess; also that particular attention is paid to their morals and manners.

The Misses MORRIS deem it unnecessary to enumerate here the branches taught by them, as they appeared in a former advertisement; but merely state that it is a school for all ages, from 4 years to the completion of an English Education.

They will be happy to give a list of the books used in the respective classes, and explain their method of teaching, to any persons who may oblige them by an interest in their success.

Lessons in Drawing will be given by Miss MORRIS, and in Music by Miss A. F. MORRIS.

Hours of attendance and Terms, may be known on application, and pupils will be thankfully received.

Twenty-one Students above the usual College age of 14 years, and most of them considerably beyond that age, are at the present date in stated attendance on the studies of the several classes, and which are as far advanced as usual in the Collegiate course for the first year.

The public will understand that although the application to the Legislature for the same privileges as are enjoyed by other Colleges in this Province, possessing a similar number of students, and only a similar board of Instruction, has not as yet been successful; the Committee, nevertheless, confidently anticipate the success of so just an application at another Session of the Legislature.—and in the mean while the courses of Collegiate Instruction will go on with unabated progress; all College exercises and examinations will be strictly performed; and at the end of the usual College course, certificates of fitness for the respective degrees will be conferred on all students entitled to receive them, accompanied with the usual solemnities.

Such of the Students as do not reside with their friends in the neighbourhood, are comfortably lodged in the buildings provided for them in the College edifice.
