

Ensure that the Department's "no-frills" publishing guidelines are followed in the production of all publications.

When available, use electronic mail (COSICS and/or SIGNET) for internal distribution in lieu of hard copies.

Regularly review subscriptions and circulation lists and ensure that they are accurate and still appropriate.

When ordering supplies preference should be given to products with the maximum post-consumer recycled content available. Look for unbleached, non-deinked products as well as products that meet Environmental Choice program standards.
