

SAUL FORBES RAE

Mr. Saul Rae was born in Hamilton, Ontario, on December 31, 1914. He was educated at the University of Toronto where he received a B.A. in 1936. He later did post graduate work in London and at Oxford as well as at Princeton University from which he received a Doctorate in 1940.

He entered the Department of External Affairs the same year and served in several positions including that of Second Secretary at the Canadian Embassy in Paris when it was re-opened in 1944 following the liberation of France. He subsequently served in Indochina, London and Washington, where he was the Minister.

Mr. Rae headed the United Nations Division of External Affairs from 1953-55 and was later Ambassador and Permanent Representative to the European Office of the United Nations in Geneva from 1962 to 1967.

He has held his present position of Ambassador to Mexico since September 1967.

He is married and has four children.