

MONEY TO LOAN

on improved real estate.

TANNER & GATES, Realty Brokers.

Office: 26-28 Adelaide St. W.

The Toronto World

TWELVE PAGES—MONDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 30 1914—TWELVE PAGES

GOOD OFFICES TO LET

in our building. Good light and janitor service, low rental. See TANNER & GATES, Realty Brokers.

VOL. XXXIV.—No. 12,487

700,000 GERMANS AT ARRAS FOR FINAL ATTACK ON ALLIES

"GERMAN LOSS IS THREE TIMES AS GREAT AS OURS"—GEN. FRENCH

RING OF RUSSIAN BAYONETS AND CANNON SURROUNDS THE KAISER'S HORDES

NOTHING CAN STOP RUSSIANS' ADVANCE

GERMANS CAN'T GET AWAY FROM RUSSIAN ARMY

GERMAN ARMY CUT IN THREE BY RUSSIANS

ALLIES IN THE WEST HAVE FRUSTRATED PLANS OF KAISER

Sir John French Reports That German Losses in Attacks at Ypres Are at Least Three Times Those of British.

LAST STAGES OF GREAT BATTLE FROM YPRES TO ARMENTIERES

In Detailed Statement Praise is Given "Marvelous Tenacity" of British Commanders—Movements of Various Units of Force Outlined.

(BRITISH OFFICIAL)

LONDON, Nov. 29, 4 p.m.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the field, speaks in an optimistic vein concerning the position of the allies in a report issued today by the official press bureau.

The report covers, in a general way, the activities of the British troops from Nov. 11 to Nov. 20, with extensive reference to fighting preceding these dates.

Summing up the situation in concluding his report, Field Marshal French says: "As I close this despatch, signs are in evidence that we are possibly in the last stages of the battle from Ypres to Armentieres. For several days past, the artillery fire of the enemy has slackened considerably, and his infantry attacks have practically ceased."

"In remarking upon the general military situation of the allies, as it appears to me at the present moment," Gen. French continues, "it does not seem to be clearly understood that the operations in which we have been engaged, embrace nearly all of the central part of the continent of Europe, from the east to the west. The combined French, Belgian and British armies in the west and the Russian army in the east are opposed to the united forces of Germany and Austria, acting as combined armies between us."

"Our enemies elected at the commencement of the war to throw the weight of their forces against our armies in the west and to detach only a comparatively weak force, composed of very few of the first line troops and several corps of second and third line troops, to stem the Russian advance until the western forces could be completely defeated and overwhelmed. Their strength enabled them from the outset to throw greatly superior forces against us in the west. This precludes the possibility of our taking vigorous offensive action, except when miscalculations and mistakes are made by their commanders, opening up special opportunities for successful attacks and pursuit."

IN VICTORY ENEMY'S ATTACK. "The battle of the Marne was an example of this as also our advance from St. Omer and Hazebrouck to the line of the River Lys, at the commencement of this battle. The role our armies in the west have consequently been called upon to fill, has been to occupy strong defensive positions, holding ground gained and inviting the enemy's attack, and to throw back these attacks, causing the enemy heavy losses in his retreat and following him up with powerful and successful counter-attacks to complete his discomfiture."

ALLIES' TACTICS WINNING. "The value and significance of operations of this nature since the commencement of hostilities by the allies' forces in the west, lie in the fact that at the moment when the eastern provinces of Germany are in imminent danger of being over-run by the numerous and powerful armies of Russia, nearly the whole active army of Germany is tied down to a line of trenches extending from Verdun on the Alsatian frontier to the sea at Newport, east of Dunkirk (a distance of 200 miles), where they are held, with much reduced numbers and impaired morale, by the successful action of our troops in the west."

ARTILLERY'S FINE WORK. "I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by the Royal Artillery thru the battle. In spite of the fact that the enemy brought up, in support of his attacks, guns of great range and shell power, our men have succeeded thruout in preventing the enemy establishing anything in the nature of superiority in artillery. The skill, courage and energy displayed by the commanders of the Royal Artillery have been very marked. The Royal Engineers have been indefatigable in their efforts to assist the infantry in field, fortification and trench work."

LOSS THIRD OF ENEMY'S. "I deeply regret the heavy casualties which we have suffered, but the nature of the fighting has been very desperate and we have been assailed by vastly superior numbers. I have every reason to know that thruout the course of the battle we have placed at least three times as many of the enemy hors de combat in dead, wounded and prisoners."

"Thruout these operations, Gen. Foch has strained his resources to the utmost to afford me all the support he could. An expression of my warm gratitude is also due to Gen. Dubail, commanding the Eighth French Army Corps on my left, and to Gen. De Maud'huy, commanding the Tenth Army Corps on my right."

INDIANS' CLEVER RUSES. "After referring to some of the battles in which the Indian troops took part, Field Marshal French says: "Since their arrival in this country and their occupation of the line allotted to them, I have been much impressed by the initiative and resource displayed by the Indian troops. Some of the ruses they have employed to deceive the enemy have been attended with the best results and have doubtless kept the superior forces in front of them at bay."

"Our Indian sappers and miners have long enjoyed high reputation for skill and resource. Without going into detail, I can confidently assert that thruout their work in this campaign, they have fully justified that reputation."

"The general officer commanding the Indian army describes the conduct and bearing of these troops in strange and new surroundings to have

GERMANS HAVE 700,000 MEN FOR FINAL TRY AT THE COAST

Heavy Fighting Already Has Begun Near Arras, According to Advices From Boulogne.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Weekly Despatch's Boulogne correspondent says: "The Germans have collected 700,000 men in the neighborhood of Arras, where they are preparing for a determined effort to break thru the allies' line."

KAISER IS WITH FORCES IN EAST

Official Announcement at Berlin Disposes of Doubts as to Whereabouts of Emperor

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The Kaiser is with the German army in the east, according to an official announcement at Berlin today.

CAMP CANTEEN TO BE RETAINED

Domestic Government Not to Interfere With Arrangements on Salisbury Plain

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—In reply to representations that have been made to the government regarding the "wet canteen" established in the Canadian camp on Salisbury Plain, an official statement tonight says that, while any suggestions from the Canadian government would no doubt be carefully considered, even the camp is under the direct control of the war office.

WAR ALL OVER BY ASCOT WEEK

End of June Will See Germany Suing for Peace, Says British Officer

LONDON, Nov. 29.—London today is more optimistic than she has been for some time. This is because an announcement has come from what might be termed an official source, that by the end of June Germany will be suing for peace on almost any terms.

RUSSIAN EXPLOIT IN CARPATHIANS

Army in Penetrating Mountains Southwest of Lemberg Has Accomplished Wonderful Feat

LEMBURG, Galicia, Nov. 29.—The Russians appear to have accomplished the difficult feat of throwing an army thru the Carpathian mountains southwest of Lemberg.

VON DANKSCHWEL KILLED IN POLAND

German Lieutenant-General Was Possessor of an Iron Cross

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The Hague and London.—Lieut. Gen. Ferdinand von Dankenschweil, in command of a German infantry division, has fallen on the battlefield in Russian Poland.

FLOUR FOR BELGIANS TAXED BY GERMANS

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The German authorities in Belgium are taxing flour sent from the U.S. for the starving Belgians at the rate of 15 francs, according to a report.

GERMANS CAN'T GET AWAY FROM RUSSIAN ARMY

Enemy is Unable to Extricate Himself From Strategic Trap

PETROGRAD, Nov. 29.—Grand Duke Nicholas evidently is supremely confident that he has his enemies safely in the toils in Russia, and that they cannot possibly escape without more appalling losses than hitherto they have experienced.

GERMAN ARMY CUT IN THREE BY RUSSIANS

Reckless Attempt to Cut Russian Centre Ends in Failure

LODZ IS NOT DAMAGED

Altho Attacked Several Times, the Town Has Not Suffered

ALLIES IN THE WEST HAVE FRUSTRATED PLANS OF KAISER

Sir John French Reports That German Losses in Attacks at Ypres Are at Least Three Times Those of British.

LAST STAGES OF GREAT BATTLE FROM YPRES TO ARMENTIERES

In Detailed Statement Praise is Given "Marvelous Tenacity" of British Commanders—Movements of Various Units of Force Outlined.

(BRITISH OFFICIAL)

LONDON, Nov. 29, 4 p.m.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the field, speaks in an optimistic vein concerning the position of the allies in a report issued today by the official press bureau.

The report covers, in a general way, the activities of the British troops from Nov. 11 to Nov. 20, with extensive reference to fighting preceding these dates.

Summing up the situation in concluding his report, Field Marshal French says: "As I close this despatch, signs are in evidence that we are possibly in the last stages of the battle from Ypres to Armentieres. For several days past, the artillery fire of the enemy has slackened considerably, and his infantry attacks have practically ceased."

"In remarking upon the general military situation of the allies, as it appears to me at the present moment," Gen. French continues, "it does not seem to be clearly understood that the operations in which we have been engaged, embrace nearly all of the central part of the continent of Europe, from the east to the west. The combined French, Belgian and British armies in the west and the Russian army in the east are opposed to the united forces of Germany and Austria, acting as combined armies between us."

"Our enemies elected at the commencement of the war to throw the weight of their forces against our armies in the west and to detach only a comparatively weak force, composed of very few of the first line troops and several corps of second and third line troops, to stem the Russian advance until the western forces could be completely defeated and overwhelmed. Their strength enabled them from the outset to throw greatly superior forces against us in the west. This precludes the possibility of our taking vigorous offensive action, except when miscalculations and mistakes are made by their commanders, opening up special opportunities for successful attacks and pursuit."

IN VICTORY ENEMY'S ATTACK. "The battle of the Marne was an example of this as also our advance from St. Omer and Hazebrouck to the line of the River Lys, at the commencement of this battle. The role our armies in the west have consequently been called upon to fill, has been to occupy strong defensive positions, holding ground gained and inviting the enemy's attack, and to throw back these attacks, causing the enemy heavy losses in his retreat and following him up with powerful and successful counter-attacks to complete his discomfiture."

ALLIES' TACTICS WINNING. "The value and significance of operations of this nature since the commencement of hostilities by the allies' forces in the west, lie in the fact that at the moment when the eastern provinces of Germany are in imminent danger of being over-run by the numerous and powerful armies of Russia, nearly the whole active army of Germany is tied down to a line of trenches extending from Verdun on the Alsatian frontier to the sea at Newport, east of Dunkirk (a distance of 200 miles), where they are held, with much reduced numbers and impaired morale, by the successful action of our troops in the west."

ARTILLERY'S FINE WORK. "I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by the Royal Artillery thru the battle. In spite of the fact that the enemy brought up, in support of his attacks, guns of great range and shell power, our men have succeeded thruout in preventing the enemy establishing anything in the nature of superiority in artillery. The skill, courage and energy displayed by the commanders of the Royal Artillery have been very marked. The Royal Engineers have been indefatigable in their efforts to assist the infantry in field, fortification and trench work."

LOSS THIRD OF ENEMY'S. "I deeply regret the heavy casualties which we have suffered, but the nature of the fighting has been very desperate and we have been assailed by vastly superior numbers. I have every reason to know that thruout the course of the battle we have placed at least three times as many of the enemy hors de combat in dead, wounded and prisoners."

"Thruout these operations, Gen. Foch has strained his resources to the utmost to afford me all the support he could. An expression of my warm gratitude is also due to Gen. Dubail, commanding the Eighth French Army Corps on my left, and to Gen. De Maud'huy, commanding the Tenth Army Corps on my right."

INDIANS' CLEVER RUSES. "After referring to some of the battles in which the Indian troops took part, Field Marshal French says: "Since their arrival in this country and their occupation of the line allotted to them, I have been much impressed by the initiative and resource displayed by the Indian troops. Some of the ruses they have employed to deceive the enemy have been attended with the best results and have doubtless kept the superior forces in front of them at bay."

"Our Indian sappers and miners have long enjoyed high reputation for skill and resource. Without going into detail, I can confidently assert that thruout their work in this campaign, they have fully justified that reputation."

"The general officer commanding the Indian army describes the conduct and bearing of these troops in strange and new surroundings to have

GERMANS CAN'T GET AWAY FROM RUSSIAN ARMY

Enemy is Unable to Extricate Himself From Strategic Trap

PETROGRAD, Nov. 29.—Grand Duke Nicholas evidently is supremely confident that he has his enemies safely in the toils in Russia, and that they cannot possibly escape without more appalling losses than hitherto they have experienced.

GERMAN ARMY CUT IN THREE BY RUSSIANS

Reckless Attempt to Cut Russian Centre Ends in Failure

LODZ IS NOT DAMAGED

Altho Attacked Several Times, the Town Has Not Suffered

ALLIES IN THE WEST HAVE FRUSTRATED PLANS OF KAISER

Sir John French Reports That German Losses in Attacks at Ypres Are at Least Three Times Those of British.

LAST STAGES OF GREAT BATTLE FROM YPRES TO ARMENTIERES

In Detailed Statement Praise is Given "Marvelous Tenacity" of British Commanders—Movements of Various Units of Force Outlined.

(BRITISH OFFICIAL)

LONDON, Nov. 29, 4 p.m.—Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in the field, speaks in an optimistic vein concerning the position of the allies in a report issued today by the official press bureau.

The report covers, in a general way, the activities of the British troops from Nov. 11 to Nov. 20, with extensive reference to fighting preceding these dates.

Summing up the situation in concluding his report, Field Marshal French says: "As I close this despatch, signs are in evidence that we are possibly in the last stages of the battle from Ypres to Armentieres. For several days past, the artillery fire of the enemy has slackened considerably, and his infantry attacks have practically ceased."

"In remarking upon the general military situation of the allies, as it appears to me at the present moment," Gen. French continues, "it does not seem to be clearly understood that the operations in which we have been engaged, embrace nearly all of the central part of the continent of Europe, from the east to the west. The combined French, Belgian and British armies in the west and the Russian army in the east are opposed to the united forces of Germany and Austria, acting as combined armies between us."

"Our enemies elected at the commencement of the war to throw the weight of their forces against our armies in the west and to detach only a comparatively weak force, composed of very few of the first line troops and several corps of second and third line troops, to stem the Russian advance until the western forces could be completely defeated and overwhelmed. Their strength enabled them from the outset to throw greatly superior forces against us in the west. This precludes the possibility of our taking vigorous offensive action, except when miscalculations and mistakes are made by their commanders, opening up special opportunities for successful attacks and pursuit."

IN VICTORY ENEMY'S ATTACK. "The battle of the Marne was an example of this as also our advance from St. Omer and Hazebrouck to the line of the River Lys, at the commencement of this battle. The role our armies in the west have consequently been called upon to fill, has been to occupy strong defensive positions, holding ground gained and inviting the enemy's attack, and to throw back these attacks, causing the enemy heavy losses in his retreat and following him up with powerful and successful counter-attacks to complete his discomfiture."

ALLIES' TACTICS WINNING. "The value and significance of operations of this nature since the commencement of hostilities by the allies' forces in the west, lie in the fact that at the moment when the eastern provinces of Germany are in imminent danger of being over-run by the numerous and powerful armies of Russia, nearly the whole active army of Germany is tied down to a line of trenches extending from Verdun on the Alsatian frontier to the sea at Newport, east of Dunkirk (a distance of 200 miles), where they are held, with much reduced numbers and impaired morale, by the successful action of our troops in the west."

ARTILLERY'S FINE WORK. "I cannot speak too highly of the services rendered by the Royal Artillery thru the battle. In spite of the fact that the enemy brought up, in support of his attacks, guns of great range and shell power, our men have succeeded thruout in preventing the enemy establishing anything in the nature of superiority in artillery. The skill, courage and energy displayed by the commanders of the Royal Artillery have been very marked. The Royal Engineers have been indefatigable in their efforts to assist the infantry in field, fortification and trench work."

LOSS THIRD OF ENEMY'S. "I deeply regret the heavy casualties which we have suffered, but the nature of the fighting has been very desperate and we have been assailed by vastly superior numbers. I have every reason to know that thruout the course of the battle we have placed at least three times as many of the enemy hors de combat in dead, wounded and prisoners."

"Thruout these operations, Gen. Foch has strained his resources to the utmost to afford me all the support he could. An expression of my warm gratitude is also due to Gen. Dubail, commanding the Eighth French Army Corps on my left, and to Gen. De Maud'huy, commanding the Tenth Army Corps on my right."

INDIANS' CLEVER RUSES. "After referring to some of the battles in which the Indian troops took part, Field Marshal French says: "Since their arrival in this country and their occupation of the line allotted to them, I have been much impressed by the initiative and resource displayed by the Indian troops. Some of the ruses they have employed to deceive the enemy have been attended with the best results and have doubtless kept the superior forces in front of them at bay."

"Our Indian sappers and miners have long enjoyed high reputation for skill and resource. Without going into detail, I can confidently assert that thruout their work in this campaign, they have fully justified that reputation."

"The general officer commanding the Indian army describes the conduct and bearing of these troops in strange and new surroundings to have Store Closes at 5.30 p.m. Goods in leather case. Special .49. Merchandise Boxes Regularly .50c. Comb Trays. Regularly 1.98. Cologne, 5-oz. Special .33. Hand Whitener. Regularly .50. de la Cream. 15c per cake. Large round Special, two. Fish and white. With plate glass. Silet Dept.

Games Mahogany, Card, Prices .25. Turkey in Pembroke Jail, Also Beaten, Now Lies Near Death. POSSE FOLLOW INDIANS Alleged Thieves Turn Murderers and Alarm Whole Countryside.

CAMP CANTEEN TO BE RETAINED. KAISER IS WITH FORCES IN EAST. Official Announcement at Berlin Disposes of Doubts as to Whereabouts of Emperor.

WAR ALL OVER BY ASCOT WEEK. End of June Will See Germany Suing for Peace, Says British Officer.

RUSSIAN EXPLOIT IN CARPATHIANS. Army in Penetrating Mountains Southwest of Lemberg Has Accomplished Wonderful Feat.

VON DANKSCHWEL KILLED IN POLAND. German Lieutenant-General Was Possessor of an Iron Cross.

FLOUR FOR BELGIANS TAXED BY GERMANS. BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The German authorities in Belgium are taxing flour sent from the U.S. for the starving Belgians at the rate of 15 francs, according to a report.