Count Witte, Russia's first premier, ereign is indissolubly bound up with to-night, sent the above message to the American people. He had just arrived at his residence on Kammeniovrov Prospect from Peterhof, where in the Alexander Palace the emperor two menace the integrity and unity of our people and the sorrow of our people is the sorrow of the sovereign.

hours before had given his fina, approval to a manifesto, and to a program which will forever end the rule of the absolutism exercised by him and his Romanoff ancestors for 300 years.

A simple perusal of the minifesto shows how complete is the emperor's abdication of his autocratic powers. It shows that the emperor at last has irrevocably bowed to the inevitable. He does not even conceal the fact that the discontent and agitation of his subjects has driven him to take the step, and practically yields everything—civil liberty, the inviolability of person, and practically of conscience, speech and asburged to the following manner:

"The supreme duty imposed upon us by our sovereign office requires us to our sovereign office requires us to our sovereign office requires us to your sovereign office requires us to your sovereign office requires us to sefface ourself and to use all the force and reason at our command to hasten of the power of the central government, and to assure the success of the measures for pacification in all circles of public life, which are essential to the well being of our people.

IMPERIAL DIRECTIONS.

"We therefore direct our government and agitation of his subjects has driven him to take the step, and practically yields everything—civil liberty, the inviolability of person, and liberty of conscience, speech and asburged to the inviolability of person, and liberty of conscience, speech and asburged to the policy in securing the unity and co-ordination of the success of the s has driven him to take the step, and practically yields everything—civil liberty, the inviolability of person, and liberty of conscience, speech and assembly. The title, "autocrat of al. the Russias," with which the manicesto begins, now takes its place with the title of European sovereigns.

Revolationists Still Besigerent.

The news spread like wildfire truncut the city. The revolutionists and only that the government spoonies by that the government spoonies by that the government spoonies by the first bomb in St. Petersburg used since the strike began. The incident occurred near the Polytechnic School, but there was no fatality. Practically all classes, except the Socialists and the extreme Radicals, however, rathed content of the doument, declaring that it could not fail to rally the moderates to support of Count Witte.

By the irony of fate, while the strikers are clamoring for a c nsti util not fail to rally the moderates to support of course with the strikers are clamoring for a c nsti util not striking are clamoring for a c nsti util not striking printers to resume work, and, therefore, not a single newspaper exherefore, not a single newspaper e

Arrangements, however, have been made to placard the manifesto on every dead wall in the city, and the text will be telegraphed to property to every either the telegraphed to place ourselves on ing some legislation the children being on the place after dark."

While the Extremists threaten an attempt to keep up the present struggle, the best opinion is that the backbone of the strike is broken; but in the final analysis the effect will be pend on how far Count Witte will be able to execute the heavy task which he has assumed.

The count has already tentatively selected the members of his caoinet. He will himself hold no portfolio. All the present ministers except those of war, navy and foreign affairs will be refired. Prince Alexis Obolensky, the ministry of finance, will become ministers of finance, will become ministers of finance, will become ministers.

Late to-night, after the news got (Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

Late to-night, after the news got abroad, crowds began marching up and down the Nevsky Prospect, singing the national anthem and hurrahing for liberty. It is significant that the great searchlight which has been lighting up the Nevsky Prospect from the admiralty tower for three nights, was turned off to-night.

A ludicrous incident occurred at midnight near the university, when newsboys with an extra edition of The Official Messenger hurried into a crowd of strikers. The instant the news became known the strikers raised an uproarious cheer, and Cossacks, who were patrolling the district, missunderstanding the import of the demonstration and thickness of the liberty of the demonstration and the import of the demonstration and the import of the demonstration and thickness of the liberty of the demonstration and the import of the demonstration and the manufacture of London, Oct. 30.—The Daily Mail's cancelled after O'Regan's death.

Man Who Tells of Bribery Forced to Take Oath - Curious Testimony -Two Charges Heard

Kingston, Oct. 30.—(Special-)—The trial of the election protest against the return of E. J. B. Pense, Liberal M.L.A., began at 2.30 this afternoon in a crowded court room before Judges Street and Teetzel. John McIntyre, K.C., and W. F. Nickle appeared for the petitioner, Donald McIntyre, while J. P. Mabee, K.C., of Toronto and J. McDonald Mowat were present for the respondent. When court had adjourned at 6.30 only two charges out of 176 had been taken up. One was allowed to stand and the second dismissed. Two witnesses testified to getting $2 each in a room of the Beaupre House on election day. It was also orought out that important witnesses are missing, as well as the books of the Reorm Association.

The first charge taken up was that S. S. Corbett, Leslie Hughes and harty Thompson bribed Affred Dugall. Dugall did not want to take the oath, and refused until the judges threatened to send him to jail. He gave a straightforward story, which was not shaken in cross-examination. Dugall testified that S. S. Corbett, an under-taker, met him the afternoon of the

It has, however, been intithat no more franchises be granted for mated that a remand will be asked for taking water from the Niagara River, by the defendants,

Members of the commission at their recent session expressed the opinion that the federal government had undoubted authority over water levels and navigable streams and lakes, aithout the title to the beds of the Niagara and St. Mary's Rivers might be in serious doubt. It was pointed out that the national government assumed and took undisputed control over the water level of Lake Michigan when the question was raised as to the right of the Chicago to the south and west, and finally to the Mississippi River.

Possibly the point will be raised, that in taking water from Niagara River, and from St. Mary's River and from St. Mary's River, and from St. Mary's River below the Sault Ste. Marie Rapids, the levels of the lake cannot be affected, and, further, that the streams from which the water is taken are not navigable streams, and for this reason navigable streams, and sor this reason navigable streams, and sor this reason navigable streams, It is stated that my action of the Canadian government to regulate the taking of weter ment to r uncertain benefits to be derived in joining any fraternal association. These associations have done and are doing a great and necessary work in relieving many from distress and pecuniary want. Their failures, if any, may be largely due to the competition among themselves; althout teaching the principle of co-operation, the competition shows more clearly the great need for universal co-operation.

Now compare the commercial value of a government bond or life insurance policy to a like policy issued by any corporation.

Note the confidence that prevails in regard to the government or post-office exarings banks. It is not necessary here to outline any plan other than to suggest that say a department of government life insurance might be instituted in connection with the postoffice department whereby anyone residing in any part of the Dominion and eligible could procure a government life policy in any of the branch postoffices, thereby being able to get their insurance at first cost without having to pay for all the expensive paraphernalia which at present keep those that need it most from part plans the connection of this sort will be pool-poohed and cried of the great connection.

Opponents of public ownership may now stand aguast at the sight of the recent exposures of the lords of insurance who have so sunken into the cesspool of dishonesty, and no doubt every means will be employed to close the lid from public gaze.

We have always been told of the great commercial value of a life insurance policy in some genuine life insurance company as against the uncertain benefits to be derived in joining any fraternal association. These uncertaintees bere done and are doing a great and necessary work in re-ticipating in its benefits.

Of course, any innovation of this sort will be pooh-poohed and cried down by the representatives of the great corporations' officials, many of them now members of our legislative halls, which causes one to think that this may be where the people vote for what they get, and don't get what they work for examination.
