Daniel Lamb, J. P., who is usually as mild in dealing out justice as a lamb personified, nearly went his limit yez-terday afternoon, when he fined Charles Kelly $25 and costs, or three months in jull. Kelly was arraigned on complaint of Funny Spencer, who said she lived in mortal dread of him. His demands for money had become more and more frequent, and if she demurred, he became violent, and threatened and abused her brutally. Last week he had farced $2 from her.

THE TORONTO WORLD

POSITION TAKEN BY THE INVESTOR.

World Office, Wednesday, Aug. 1. The phrase "that the public refuses to come into the mar-ket" is grown hoary with repetition, but in regard to the Toronto market it is nearly as correct in practice as it was in 1903. The remnant of the former outsider trading element which reached such heavy dimensions in 1902 now consists of the astute indi-viduals who have long ceased to associate values with dividends, have discarded sentiment and have learned to read from the marhave discarded sentiment and have learned to read from the mar-ket a fair idea of forthcoming manipulation. These have a fair-sized bank account, and are too practised to admit of compulsory selling out for want of margins. They have, therefore, confidence in their position, and are exacting a few rake offs yearly out of the local listed securities. The absence of any body of public traders and semi-investors is only traceable to one source, the fear of the future of the blocks of watered securities now on the fear of the future of the blocks of watered securities now on the market. There is almost a positive refusal to have anything at all to do with the new propositions, while the stocks which have passed the stage of non-dividend payers, are still looked at askance by those with a conservative gambling strain in their make up. It is estimated that if the creations of the last five years could be worked off on investors at even present quotations upwards of $100,000,000 word fall into the hands of a very few high grade financiers. A more appreciative attitude of the New York position was evident in to-day's local market, but firmer quotations are tentative, pending the action of the public.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler-but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is trite, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable posses-the more so because health is easier to retain than regain.

Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.
