

Before closing this report, we would express our deep sense of the loss the Home has sustained in the sad removal by death of our much esteemed friend Dr. Bell of this city. He was the first medical gentleman consulted at the commencement of our work, and continued a judicious adviser and annual contributor during the past four years. We sincerely sympathize with his bereaved relatives, but they have the blessed consolation that "their loss is his eternal gain."

In conclusion, if the work in which we are engaged be attended with considerable anxiety, and often discouragements from various causes, still, let us by prayerful continuance in its prosecution, and faith in the Divine blessing, hope that greater good in the future than in the past may be the result of our labours.

Respectfully submitted,

E. M. HERVEY.
