

U. N. B. MAY RAISE THE STANDARD OF LOCAL LAW SCHOOL

Welcome Extended to Visitors at Formal Opening Last Night.

A spirit that boded well for the future of the Law School of the University of New Brunswick characterized the formal opening held last evening in the Equity Court room in the Pagny Building. The Senate of the university was represented by the president, Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, by Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the university, and by Dr. W. W. White, a member of the governing board. There were present in addition Chief Justice, Hon. H. A. McKeown, dean of the law faculty; Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K. C., registrar; Judge H. O. McArthur, professor of law; A. B. Gilbert, secretary; and other members of the faculty.

Chief Justice McKeown, in an able address, extended a welcome to the students and to the visitors. He referred to the course of events, which led up to the severing of relations with King's College at Windsor and the amalgamation with the provincial university. He dealt with the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Civil Law, and impressed strongly upon those aspiring to that honor the need for close mental application and strict attention to each detail of the course. At the close of his remarks, he called upon F. D. McGuire, president of the Law Students' Society.

Welcomed by Students.

Mr. McGuire read an address to Chancellor Jones referring to the pleasure which the students felt at having him present at their opening services. He made reference to the manifold benefits which would result from the association of the law faculty with the other faculties of the university. He complimented the university on the choice that had been made in the selection of Judge McKeown as all-time professor, and referred to the satisfaction on the part of the students at the retention of Chief Justice McKeown as dean of the faculty and Dr. Campbell in the capacity of registrar. On behalf of the students of the university to raise in St. John and Fredericton. The address, which was handsomely bound and tied with red and black streamers, colors of the U. N. B., was presented to Dr. Jones.

Dr. Jones Replies.

The chancellor, in reply, expressed his pleasure at being present and voiced his heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome which had been accorded him. He referred to the men, prominent at bench and bar, who had been graduated from the St. John Law School. He predicted that, at some future time, it might be considered advisable by the senate and faculty of the university to raise in some degree the standard of admission. With reference to the desire expressed by the president of the students' society regarding close co-operation between members of the student body, he gave his assurance that he would do all in his power to promote such an alliance.

Reviews History.

Dr. Campbell spoke in a reminiscent vein of the founding of the law school, by Rev. Dr. Partridge, one time rector of Rothesay, 80 years ago, and traced the stages by which the St. John Law School had come to occupy an outstanding position at the present time. He made feeling reference to Dr. Bar and Dr. Alward, past deans of the school, and commented upon the energy with which Chief Justice McKeown, present dean, prosecuted his duties.

Dr. Carter expressed himself as greatly gratified with the course which events had taken, and paid a tribute to the men who had made amalgamation possible as well as to those who had made and were still making the law school a living force in the education of the young people of the province.

Visitors Thanked.

Dr. White spoke of the close relation between the two great professions of law and medicine, and made reference to the bridge by which the narrow gulf between the two was spanned, namely the subject of medical jurisprudence, in which subject he is lecturer. He voiced his pleasure at the union of the law school with the provincial seat of learning, and endorsed the prediction of Chancellor Jones regarding the raising of the standard.

Judge McArthur voiced his appreciation of the reference which had been made to him in Mr. McGuire's address. He stressed the value of the law school to the community, and said that the province might well be proud of every graduate that had gone forth from the St. John Law School.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the visitors, on behalf of the student body, at the close of the meeting.

N. H. S. RECEIVES OLD PICTURES

Eight Prints of Famous Scenes are Gift of Dr. J. C. Webster.

The Natural History Society has had the good fortune to receive as a gift from Dr. J. C. Webster eight prints of the famous series of Bartlett prints which were made prior to 1842 and which depict scenes in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia at that date. The prints are in excellent condition and seven of the eight are beautifully tinted. The prints have been hung in the lecture hall at the museum, where the walls are now used to exhibit some of the society's interesting historical pictures as well as the portraits of many of those who have been connected with the society since its inception.

A small number of the fine paintings of the St. John Art Club's collection are also hung in the lecture hall and in all there are close to 100 pictures on exhibition there.

Dr. Webster's gift is a very valuable one not only from a monetary viewpoint, but also, as an art treasure and as an historical exhibit. The prints are small in size, but the work is extremely fine and delicate. The pictures have narrow frames of grey-stained wood which show up their dainty coloring most effectively.

One print shows a view of St. John from the "Signal" which was the name of the Tower Hill in Carleton. Another print shows Halifax from Dartmouth and a third gives a view of Windsor, N. S., from the residence of Judge Halliburton, author of Sam Slick.

World's Record Fish

Captured off St. Ann's Bay, N.S., by Mr. J. K. L. Ross, Director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and well known sportsman and race-horse owner, this tuna weighed 712 pounds, a world's record fish via the rod and reel. Using a Von Holt tuna rod and reel, No. 39 thread line and mackerel for bait, Mr. Ross landed the big fellow in three and a quarter hours. It was 9 feet 2 inches in length, and feet in girth.

Mr. Ross for many years has been an ardent tuna hunter. He has landed many large ones, some weighing over 600 pounds, but until this summer he was unable to beat the record of Captain Laurie D. Mitchell who caught a 710 pound tuna off the Nova Scotia coast many years ago.

These three are colored prints. The only untinted one shown was the Old Fort at Annapolis Royal.

The four remaining prints are all views of Fredericton. The first of these is taken from the opposite side of the St. John River and shows Marysville in the foreground. The college buildings stand out clearly. The second view shows the green at Fredericton. The green is that area which is now Waterloo Row, but which at that time was a lawn sloping to the river's edge. The old Episcopal church is shown in the centre of the picture. The third view of Fredericton is taken from the hill beyond the college and the last view shows the Governor's house at Fredericton.

The collection of prints will be an object of much interest to the visitors to the museum and cannot fail to charm as well as interest.

HIS DRAWINGS REJECTED. CARTOONIST ENDS LIFE

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 20. — Mason H. Robinson, 31 years old, who had ambitions to be an artist and cartoonist, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in Institute Park. The young artist aspired to be a cartoonist, but after his marriage nine years ago, his drawing came back from the magazines and newspapers in such numbers that he was forced to seek employment in a wire mill to get money enough to live on. His dead body was found in the park, and with it were two notes to his wife, telling her of his discouragement and longing for his work in the wire mill.

The gain in the number of horses in the United States during the last 22 years has been 2,780,000.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

HOPES TO LIST NICOTINE AS HABIT-FORMING DRUG

Buffalo, Oct. 20. — Nicotine was called a habit-forming narcotic by Miss Helen G. Estelle, national superintendent of anti-narcotic work for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, before the state convention here.

"Nicotine is not yet classed among dangerous habit-forming and narcotic drugs, but we hope soon to have it so classified through our educational work," she said. "Nicotine is a poison and the temptation of this drug is assailing every boy and girl in the country. The cigarette is on the increase. The future of the race is in danger."

Automobile accidents in Chicago during the last ten years killed more than 4,200 persons.

This Mutual Endowment Policy Gave Protection at a Profit!

A CTUAL experience with Mutual Life Endowment policies over half a century of this Company's activity show that Mutual profit-participating insurance is more than merely insurance at cost. It is insurance at a profit.

As an instance, take policy number 9812 for $1,000, issued as a forty-year endowment in 1883, to an applicant aged 22. This policy matured in 1923 when the holder had the option of accepting its surrender value in cash, amounting to $469.67 more than his net premiums, or accepting a paid-up, profit-participating policy of more than double the amount he had paid in to the Company as premiums during the entire 40 years of his endowment period, subject, of course, to medical re-examination. His protection during all this time had in the end cost him nothing and the Company paid him a good profit beside.

The Mutual Life of Canada is the only mutual life company in Canada. It is strong. It is safe. Its profit-participating endowment policies combine protection, saving and investment. Investigate for yourself.
