A suggestion has been made, that

We would suggest that a policeman be

INDIANTOWN NOTES.

Bad-Tempered Excursionists—Child Almost Drowned—Movements of Vessels.

What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred at Indian town about noon today. A young lad, seven or eight years of age, a son of John McAllister of Main street, while playing on the May Queen's wharf at the foot of Hammond street, accidentally fell over. The water at that place is between twenty and twenty-five feet deep, and the boy could not swim. After being in the water for several minutes attention was called to him by his companion, and in a moment Charles McKinnon, Melvin Irons and Mort L. Day were on the spot. Mc-Kinnon jumped in for the boy and after a difficult struggle succeeded in passing him up to the others, who were on the wharf. An oil barrel was requisitioned and after rolling the boy on it for some little time the rescuers had the satisfaction of seeing him come round all right. McAllister was driven home in an express wagon, seemingly none the worse for his immersion, although a very few moments in the water would have proved too much for him.

The woodboat Sea King came down from Oak Point today with another load of dry hardwood for Adams Brothers.

When the Victoria was about to leave Fredericton last evening on return to St. John, one of the excursionists who went up in her insisted on coming on board without presenting his ticket. This Capt. Taylor refused to permit, and in the argument that ensued the latter struck Capt. Taylor, severely cutting and bruising his face. He was at once arrested by the Fredericton police, and his trial was to take place upon this morning on the arrival of the steamer.

A stranger man from Fredericton, who in some way managed to get on board the boat when she was leaving without having a ticket, raised such a disturbance on the way down that it was found necessary to stop the steamer at one of the upriver wharves and have him put off.

The schooner Uranus, Capt. McLean, came down from Mill Cove last evening with a load of kiln wood for the Rockland and Rockport Lime company of St. John, N. B. This schooner went ashore last fall and did not get off until this spring. On account of some necessary refitting and repairs to her rigging she will remain at Indiantown until Monday.

The schooner Sea Bird, Capt. Anderson, has finished loading coal at St. John, Cutler & Co.'s, Indian town mill, and will go below the falls on Monday.
She is bound for Rockport, Me.

The Flying Yankee came down last evening with a cargo of Grand Lake coal for Gibson & Co. and is now lying at the Public wharf.

The schooner Myra B., Capt. William Gale, came down to Indian town last evening. She loaded plank at Fredericton and is bound for New Haven, Conn.

The tug Fannie this morning brought down Capt. Bridges' scow, the Jean Kathleen Parker, and four other scows.
The Parker has a load of hay from Jennings.

The schooner Maggie Alice came down from Fredericton last evening with a load of shingles, which she will discharge at Walker's wharf.

The schooner Alice, Capt. L. G. Legault, came to Indian town this morning with a load of laths from King's mill at Salmon River, which will be discharged at Carlton, and a quantity of hoop poles for Pease and Greene.

The Harbours and Captain both came down with large rafts for different millmen this morning.

The Clifton, among her cargo today, carried up a large quantity of hoops for Pease and Greene, at Chapel Grove.
The hoops had come down country by rail.

Engineer H. P. Chute is moving his furniture to Wickham, where, during the summer months, he will occupy Edward Vane's old residence.

Robert Thomson's new yacht, Selinda was at Indian town today taking on coal. She left on return to Rothsday at three o'clock.
The tug H. Murray and the Steamer Clifton collided last evening near the entrance to the Kennebecasis. They met just after the Murray, which was coming down, had rounded the turn at Bear's Head. The bow of the Clifton was somewhat damaged, and the port side of the Murray. After finding that neither was badly damaged, both steamers proceeded. Carpenters are at work today repairing the damage to the W. H. Murray.

TOWER SCHOOL.

On Empire Day the two departments of this school were brought together.
The room was beautifully decorated with flags. The portraits of Queen Victoria and King Edward VII. appearing on the walls were producing a pleasing and harmonious scene.

After exercises on the development of the Empire, the following programme was carried out—Song, by school; Maple Leaf; address, by Mr. Nixon, secretary of school; Lizzie Long; Ines Long; Sadie Yow; Annie Whipple; song by school recitation by Clarence Bewell; recitation, Chatter-box, by Minnie May; recitation, Under the Flag, by Emma Allingham; recitation, Our Noble Lady, Sadie Yow; song, by Annie and Edith Whipple; recitation, The boy who smiles, Lizzie Long; song, Our Own Canadian Home, by school; recitation, Fred Clark; recitation, Glendon Smith; recitation, Charles Bogge; song by school; reading by Robert Smith; recitation, Letitia Allingham; recitation, Lancelot Compton; address by Mr. Rouleau, trustee; address by Mr. Nixon, as well as stories of Campaign Life of the Crimes from personal experience.
The morning being wet prevented the attendance of some of the parents.
The school was dismissed after singing the National Anthem.

Richard Chisholm, formerly of F. Co.
2nd R. C. N., who lives on Brunswick street, met with a serious accident yesterday. While working at Clark's farm, on the Levee road, he was just in the act of getting on the cart which he was driving, when the horse started, knocking him down.
The wheels passed over his thigh, injuring him severely. He was brought to town by Spencer Clark.

ANOTHER MYSTERY PICTURE

In the Old Burial Ground—What Does It Mean.

The mortal who wars with the immortals is always worsted. Myth, tradition and history confirm the assertion. But the caretaker of the old burial ground did not think of this when with a scrubbing brush he attacked the stone that marks the grave of John Holman, senior; he did not think that he was attempting something as futile as would be an attempt to make water run up hill or to regulate the incoming or outgoing tides.
To be sure, he obliterated the picture on the stone that marks the grave of John Holman, senior, but in another part of the old burial ground nature has painted another portrait on another stone, and the assertion is ventured that if the caretaker finds it and obliterates it with his scrubbing brush he will be kept busy until all the memorial stones in the old burial ground are rejuvenated. Maybe this is the object of nature in painting the pictures; but we incline to the belief that nature's tenderness extends more toward the living than toward the dead.
She would attract by her devices the little children to the old burial ground where the pure air of heaven will breathe upon their cheeks; where the birds will sing to them and the leaves will whisper to them, and she would draw into communion with herself in these quiet walks, young men and maiden, the middle aged and the old, for here she enters into their musings "with a mild and healing sympathy," that is most comforting. During the few days that the portrait was permitted to remain on the stone that marks John Holman, senior's grave, the old burial ground was visited by a multitude of men, women and children, who were made happier and healthier thereby, and the Star hopes that a larger multitude will be made happier and healthier in their search for the new nature picture in which allusion has been made.

summer.

James Robertson, M. P. for Northumberland, and Geo. W. Fowler, M. P. for Kings, were passengers on the C.
P. R. today en route from Ottawa.

THE LATE J. H. HARDING.
The funeral services of the late John H. Harding took place this afternoon.
The respect in which the deceased was held was evinced by the large number of friends who attended, and the procession was a long one.

At half-past two o'clock a most impressive service was conducted in the German street Baptist church, by the pastor, Rev. J. D. Edwards, assisted by several other clergymen. The choir of the church was present, and during the service rendered Abide With Me, and Forever With the Lord.

At the conclusion of the service the body was taken to the cemetery for interment. There were no pallbearers. The casket was literally covered with flowers, among them being a number of pieces sent by friends in Montreal and elsewhere.

PRESENTED WITH A MEDAL.
At the Jewish synagogue this morning Jacob Rubin was presented with a medal in appreciation of his services as secretary of the congregation during the past eight years. The medal is a beautiful piece of work, made of solid gold, in the form of a shield, with clasp and bearing the inscription, "Presented to Jacob Rubin by the society, for services rendered as secretary to the congregation, St. John, May 24th, 1901."

The presentation was made on behalf of the congregation by A. Isaacs, and Mr. Rubin responded briefly.

REGULAR SERVICE NEEDED.
Although hundreds of people spent the day at Bay Shore yesterday, only two of the regular buses were seen.
The drivers missed a rich harvest in the afternoon, when the rain came up, and the people had to walk in through Carlton in the heavy shower. The need of a regular service to places like the Bay Shore on holidays is very apparent.

THIS EVENING.

E. R. Mawson at the Opera house.

STILL CONSERVATIVE.
LONDON, May 25.—In the by-election yesterday in the west division of Shropshire for a successor in the house of commons to Stanley Leighton (conservative), deceased, the Hon. G. O.
Gore (conservative) won by a majority of 1,008, the liberal candidate receiving 2,450 votes. At the last election Mr.
Leighton was returned without opposition.

An Unfortunate Affair.—A young man came out here and asked to see those colored shirts we advertised last week for $5. It was too bad, but the poor fellow came too late, the shirts were all sold. We are offering good values in neckties today.
However, those $5. ties that started to run away at 10c, are still going, and all we can say is don't be too late, but be on hand while they last. They are sure to stop tonight. Wm. A. Wetmore, 155 Mill street.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

Liquid Bait—Joyful Celebrations—And Good Returns in the Drag Net.

The results of the holiday's work by the police were smaller than anticipated, but this morning four prisoners occupied the reserved seats. One of them was up on a serious charge, that of indecent assault on a young girl, but the others were quite the ordinary style of simple drunks. They had not stolen, committed murder, or routed the city by any violent conduct, but in a brilliant effort to gloriously celebrate Victoria Day had forgot themselves and passed away in different degrees of unconsciousness.

During a long night in the cells they had given the matter careful consideration and this morning were penitent—all but one. He was hardened and didn't care. Michael Pimorris grovelled guilty to the charge of drunkenness and in common with the others was fined eight dollars, which seemed to satisfy him, but when the magistrate added, "for two months with hard labour," Michael shook his head in an ominous way, that boded ill for the first piece of work he tackles in jail.

David Robb was also fined eight dollars, or twenty days; another drunk, who appeared for the first time, was led to the mercy seat and after a heart to heart talk with Judge Ritchie, was permitted to go home, promising better conduct in the future.

William Rourke was arrested on suspicion of indecently assaulting Violet Golding, a little girl about seven years of age, in a house on Sydney street.
When this charge against Rourke was settled, there may be a report entered against him for carrying on a junk business in the city without a license.

for in his pockets the police found a book, knife, pipe, comb, ring, three keys, three lead pencils, a file, two cartridges and a thimble.

The evidence in the assault case was heard behind closed doors.

SAINT JOHN FRUIT AUCTION COM-PANY.

The trade showed their appreciation of the enterprise of F. L. Potts, manager of the above company, by a very large attendance at the sale on Tuesday last, when upwards of one thousand dollars' worth of oranges changed hands in 30 minutes.

For the past two years Mr. Potts has been working with a view of giving the trade here fruit at first hands, thus saving the expense of passing through two or three hands before reaching them. That he has been successful is clear from the following facts.

On May 11th the wholesale trade were asking $1.75 for oranges in half-boxes; on the 13th, the day of the Auction company's first sale, the price was reduced to $1.00 for the same goods, showing a reduction of over 75 per cent. in consequence of the efforts of the Auction company. This company will have another sale on "Tuesday" next, 28th, at 3.30, and as this will probably be the last this season for oranges and lemons the company hopes to be favored with a large attendance. Shippers speak very encouragingly of the California fruit crop, and wish to increase
