It is most extraordinary that public nen, for the purpose of serving a temporary purpose, will abandon the eternal rights and privileges of their country. There is Mr. Gough, for instance, who has been long enough in pub ic life to learn the folly of rashness, advocating the right of the Parliament of Canada to nterfere with the Local Legislatures in the discharge of their constitutional functions. For the sake of serving the purpose of the hour he would surrender the rights of New Brunswick for all time. Let the school question be decided on its merits, without regard to the Parliament or Government of Canada.
