

matic service and in aid work. I refer particularly to a speech I made in Quebec City, in June 1963, stressing the importance of recruiting young people who would help to present Canadian policy abroad in the appropriate bicultural and bilingual terms. It is clear that, if we are to expand our diplomatic representation in Africa, if we are to develop our aid operations, if we are to strengthen our relations with the Francophone world, we shall need urgently, both in Ottawa and at our posts abroad, more qualified bilingual personnel. The opportunity is there for those who wish to serve and to assist in implementing policies and programmes which will assert the bilingual and bicultural character of our country in Ottawa and in Canadian activities abroad. . . .
