

THE ORANGE QUESTION.

Continued from page 5. Had existed. He trusted this great day would continue, when we had an arch of peace—orange and green, and orange and blue, all mingling in celestial harmony—(laughter)—To continue this, they must wipe out these associations. Holding the views he had expressed he moved, seconded by Mr. Hackett, that the bill be not now read the second time, but that it be read the second time this day six months.

The debate was then continued by several members and kept up till nearly midnight—when the division took place with the following result:—

Yeas—Messrs. Amyot, Armstrong, Auger, Bain, Beaudry, Benoit, Bergeron, Bernier, Billy, Blake, Blanchet, Bolduc, Bous, Bourassa, Bourgeois, Brechen, Burns, Burpee (St. John), Cameron (Huron), Campbell (Renfrew), Caron, Casey, Casgrain, Catudal, Charlton, Cimon, Cook, Colby, Costigan, Coughlin, Courso, Curran, Cuthbert, D'Amour, De Benjain, De St. Georges, Desautels, Desjardins, Dupont, Fairbank, Fisher, Fleming, Forbes, Fortin, Frechette, Gagne, Geoffroy, Gilgault, Girouard (Jacques), Guibault, Girouard (Kent), Grandbois, Guilbault, Hackett, Hall, Harley, Holton, Janis, Jackson, Keefler, Kirk, Larocque, Landerkin, Landry, Langevin, Laurier, Lister, Livingstone, Mackenzie, Macnamer, McMillan (Huron), McMillan (Vaudreuil), McGreevy, McIntyre, McNamee, Masse, Methot, Mitchell, Montplaisir, Mulock, Patterson (Huron), Patterson (Essex), Pinnonsneault, Pope, Rinfret, Riopel, Robertson, Ross (Mid-dlesex), Royal, Somerville (Brant), Somerville (Bruce), Springer, Tasse, Thompson, Trow, Vall, Valin, Vanasse, Weldon, Wells, Wheeler, Wilson, Wright, Yeas—106.

Nays—Messrs. Abbott, Allison, Baker (Victoria), Barnard, Beatty, Bell, Benson, Bowell, Davison, Burnham, Cameron (Victoria), Campbell (Victoria), Carling, Cochran, Davies, Dickinson, Farrow, Ferguson (Leeds and Grenville), Fox, Gordon, Gunn, Hazard, Hawkins, Hay, Hession, Hickey, Hillard, Homer, Irvine, Jamieson, Kilvert, Kinney, Kranz, Macdonald (St. John), Mackintosh, Macmillan (Middlesex), McCallum, McCarthy, McDougall, McLean, McNeil, Moffatt, O'Brien, Paine, Pickett, Ray, Reid, Richey, Rykert, Scott, Scriver, Shakespeare, Small, Sproule, Sutherland (Oxford), Sutherland (Selkirk), Taylor, Tilley, Tupper (Pielton), Tyrwhitt, Wallace (Albert), Wallace (York), Watson, White (Cardwell), White (Hastings), White (Renfrew), Wigle, Williams, Wood (Brookville), Woodworth—70.

The following members paired: For the Second Reading—Messrs. Robertson (Hamilton), Dundas, Orton, Robertson (Hastings). Against—Messrs. Macdonald (Cape Breton), Cameron (Inverness), McMillan (Wellington), Leasge, Doid.

But one Catholic member, Mr. Hawkins, voted against the six months' hoist—notwithstanding that certain so-called representative Catholics were in Ottawa to procure the passage of the bill by inducing Catholics to vote for it.

On Wednesday, the 18th, a very amusing though brief discussion arose in the House concerning the Hansard report of the Orange debate. The following is the Citizen report.

On the orders of the day being called, Mr. Casgrain drew attention to the omission from the Official Debates of a remark of the hon. member for South Simcoe (Mr. Tyrwhitt) on Monday night to the effect that the passage of the Orange Incorporation Bill would prevent a class of immigrants coming here that he did not desire to see come to this country. The remark created some sensation in the House at the time, and was reported in almost the same words in the Citizen, the Mail and the Globe, but it did not appear in the hon. gentleman's speech in the debates.

Mr. Bowell, in the absence of the member for South Simcoe, said that the hon. gentleman had stated that the language attributed to him was not strictly correct.

Mr. Yves said it was generally understood that the class the hon. gentleman referred to were the Chinese. (Laughter.)

Mr. Tyrwhitt, who now entered the House, said the only remark of his which had been omitted was his retort to an observation of the hon. member for Montreal Centre (Mr. Curran). That hon. gentleman, as he understood him, said that should the Orange banner be hoisted in this city, it would prevent immigration into the country. His retort was that it would prevent a class of immigration which he, for one, did not wish to see here. As his language appeared to have been misunderstood by the hon. member for Prince (Mr. Hackett), he had taken the earliest opportunity of explaining to him that he had referred to political offenders and fugitives from justice. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Blake said the point to which the hon. member for Lislet (Mr. Casgrain) had called attention was that there had been an omission from what was supposed to be a correct report of the debates of the House, and as it was now agreed on all hands that that omission had taken place, the attention of the committee appointed in reference to this matter should be directed to it. It was worse than useless to have a publication issued as a record of the debates from which passages were either deliberately or accidentally omitted.

Mr. Pickett asked the member for Lislet (Mr. Casgrain) if he believed the omission which he read in the House on Monday as having been published in Belfast was strictly correct, and if he had not intended it to produce a political effect. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. White (Cardwell) said the member for South Simcoe (Mr. Tyrwhitt) informed him that he had had no communication with the reporters in reference to this matter. The rule was that everything which was said should appear in the report which was issued the next day, and then members could revise it, but not so as to alter what they had actually said. He had received a note from the Chief Reporter explaining that omissions were owing to the reporters failing to hear what was said.

Mr. Blake—We all heard it.

Mr. Rykert said a few nights ago the hon. member for West Middlesex (Mr. Ross) made the ridiculous mistake of at-tributing to Xerxes an event in connection with which Canada was celebrated, but it was corrected in the Hansard, and thus one hon. member was prevented from referring to a blunder at which every schoolboy would laugh.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex) said he was exceedingly obliged to the reporter who corrected his slip, and acknowledged that for once the hon. member for Lincoln and Niagara (Mr. Rykert) knew as much of a subject as he (Mr. Ross) and the other members of the House did.

Mr. White (Hastings) said, if the member for Lislet (Mr. Casgrain) imagined the remark of the hon. member for South Lincoln (Mr. Tyrwhitt) to have been directed to Irish Roman Catholics, he would tell him that, from his knowledge of that class of the community, he did not think they were afraid of an Orange flag. Irish Roman Catholics would rather any day have Orangemen for neighbours than Frenchmen. (Laughter.)

It is conceded on all hands that the Orange question is settled at least for the present Parliament.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

London, April 20.—The Standard believes the day will come when miscreants like Rossa will be hunted and cut off both continents. The Pall Mall Gazette says the evidence that the dynamite plots were hatched in New York is as clear as the proof that Mazzini's plots against Italy were hatched in England. The Standard says that Rossa is about as likely as Mazzini's was from England.

Dublin, April 20.—The defence opened. Kelly's counsel announced that he would produce witnesses to prove an alibi. Kelly's alibi was established by the company of the prisoner on the 6th of May. On cross-examination witness evidence conflicted with that of the employer of the prisoner. Four friends of Kelly swore the prisoner was in their company at the time of the murders. One of the witnesses testified he went to Phoenix Park with Kelly the day after the murder, and both examined the blood stains. McInerney made the closing argument on behalf of Kelly.

The judge delivered his charge. The jury retired, and after a while returned, and announced that they were unable to agree.

Kelly was remanded and will be re-tried Monday.

When the disagreement of the jury in the Kelly trial was known the crowds in the streets around the court became excited and indulged in cheers for Kelly and the jurors. It is stated that one of the jurors wanted more proof of Kelly's presence in Phoenix Park on the sixth of May.

London, April 23.—In the House of Lords, Lord Dunsen called attention to the distress in Ireland, and urged the adoption of a scheme of emigration on a large scale. The Marquis of Lansdowne favored emigration. There were a quarter of a million tenants in Ireland whose holdings were unable to support them even if tenants paid no rent.

London, April 23.—The Times says the Government has obtained information in the recent enquiries that the enrolled members of the Fenian organization in the United Kingdom numbered 1,000. There are besides distinct offshoots of the organization, such as Vigilants and Invincibles. Kingston, who was arrested in Liverpool, belonged to both these branches.

Such double membership is unusual. The police have accurate information regarding the movements of conspirators, and it is expected further revelations will be made.

Timothy Kelly, alleged Phoenix Park murderer, was again placed on trial to-day.

Dublin, April 23.—In the trial of Kelly to-day, Glyn, who identified Carey at the inquiry in Kilmahinagh Court House as the man he saw in Phoenix Park, May 6th, testified he saw four in the park on the evening of that day, but Kelly was not one of them. The sensation of the day in connection with the trial was when Glyn swore Kelly was not amongst four men seen by him in Phoenix Park on the evening of the 6th of May. Counsel was surprised at the statement and fiercely cross-examined witnesses. The incident is considered important. The jury in the Kelly trial includes a publican named Wren, at whose house the murderers drank before going to Phoenix Park.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Mooney, President of the Irish Land League, accompanied by Rev. Patrick Cronin, editor of the Buffalo Catholic Union and Times, arrived to-day. They were escorted to a hotel by a committee appointed for that purpose by the Central Union League.

Mooney said:—We expect the convention will be a series of patriotic meetings to promulgate the principles advocated by Parnell. We shall deliberate only for the interests of Ireland, and our deliberations will be conducted in such a manner as to command for us, and the cause we represent, the respect and sympathy of all true Americans. Father Cronin spoke in a similar strain. Mooney does not think Rossa will attend the convention.

FROM INGERSOLL.

Knowing your interest in all Catholic missions and everything intended for the better observance of our holy religion I thought well to inform you of the mission we had in Ingersoll, which came to an end Sunday, the 8th April.

The mission was our worthy Pastors, Rev. B. Doube, used his best endeavors to have this mission held at a former time.

It was held by the Redemptorist Fathers, Father Miller and Father Kantz of Toronto, the Rev. Fathers exhorting, explaining, and preaching in their forcible manner the fruits of their labor will be plainly seen when I say that over 600 persons received the Blessed Sacrament during their stay with us.

Our magnificent church, which we all feel so proud of, was, especially in the evening, filled to the doors. From 5 o'clock and 8.30 in the morning it was really wonderful to see the crowd of devoted people that thronged each Mass and instruction. Our devoted pastor seemed to be highly satisfied with the benefits of the mission, the Rev. Fathers, and his congregation, and more than even the wish is felt and expressed that long may he be spared to us.—COMMUNICATED.

Death of Miss Libbie Macdonell.

On Friday morning, the 8th inst., death dealt a sore blow to this neighbourhood by seizing for its prey Miss Libbie Macdonell, daughter of Duncan Macdonell, of Martin-town. This estimable young lady was educated in the far famed Convent of St. Mary's, Williamstown. There the sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame brought the rare qualities of mind and heart with which nature had endowed her to a degree of perfection which made her a model of virtue and an ornament to society. For several years she filled the position of organist in the Catholic Church of Saint Andrew, and by her unfeigned and attractive piety, kind and gentle manners, and high culture of mind, she exercised an influence for good over a wide circle of companions, of which they now speak with the warmest feelings of gratitude, and the loss of her society they sorely deplore. Her death was unexpected. On Palm Sunday she assisted at the church services with the virtuous cheerfulness characteristic of her nature, and parted with the members of her choir to meet their joys, as they thought, to celebrate the day of the resurrection. But alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave the world to which she had never given her affection. The Rev. George Corbett was at once sent for and the Holy Sacrament which she received the last rites of the Catholic Church was touching in the extreme in one so full of young promise, whose career a few days previous seemed before her. A few hours later, after words of edifying exhortation, but alas, she never again entered that church to which she was so devotedly attached, and to the splendor of whose worship she had contributed so much by her high musical accomplishments. In Holy Week she felt in the midst of the most delicious moments of her life, but on Thursday night that great danger was apprehended. On being told that no hope of life was left her, she calmly replied that she entertained no fears to leave