SPLENDID EVENING

The band concert held last night in Victoria Park by the Duerin Rifles band, under Bandmaster Johnson, split success in every way. Huge crowds gathered, and if the immense concourse that almost blocked the vicinity is a criterion of the wishes of the public, concerts are needed often. The bandmaster was put to considerable trouble by young people talking and behaving noisily. It is a regret that such should have marred an otherwise delightful evening.

PATRIOTIC EVENING AT CAINSVILLE--MAYOR PRESIDED

Made Impassioned Appeal For Recruits and Was Followed by Others.

Standing out distinctly from among the many recent patriotic gatherings was the altogether delightful and successful one held on Thursday evening by the ladies of the Cainsville Women's Institute, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richardson, Blossom Avenue.

It would be difficult to conceive more ideal spot for such a purpose: the house and spacious lawn decorated with flags and paper lanterns, on the heights overlooking the river and the Bow Park Valley. The only outside features apparently required by the ladies, to make the evening a success were also in evidence. The weather man producing the requisite moonlight effect, a bumper attendance, and a genial chairman in the person of Mayor Spence, who is apparently never so happy, as when giving his time and talents to anything of public or patriotic interest.

The programme began with "O Canada," by those present, at the conclusion of which the mayor paid a well deserved tribute to the ladies of the Cainsville branch for their successful efforts in doing their bit for Canada and the Motherland in assisting in many ways those who have enlisted in their defence. He then made a stirring and impassioned appeal to all eligible men to join the colors for the service of the king.

Mr. J. J. Hurley also gave one of his usual masterly addresses, reviewing the events leading up to the war, the attitude and preparedness of Germany, and also advocated the enlistment of all eligible young men in the rural districts who could be spared from the tilling of the soil, and the other necessary labor in connection with the production of foodstuffs, also vitally necessary at the present time.

The Rev. Mr. Pyley also spoke briefly along the same lines. He counted it not only a duty but a privilege for men to serve in defence of right and considered it preferable to be a dead hero than a live coward.

Councillor Greenwood rendered to splendid advantage two stirring songs of a military calibre, and was called to respond to an encore.

Miss Graham showed her ability as an elocutionist in a recitation, her portrayal of the different characters being particularly effective.

The vocal solo by Mr. Smith; the vocal duet by Mrs. Oughtred and Mr. Burdill; and the instrumental solo by Miss Burdill served to make the programme a varied and thoroughly enjoyable one to the last number—the National Anthem, sung by all.

Those present then had the privilege of assisting financially toward the patriotic work undertaken, and the sum of ninety dollars was quickly realized.

The ladies then served a sumptuous lunch, pumpkin pie being a leading feature.
