WINDSOR AGAIN SUFFERS

The town of Windsor which twenty-seven years ago on Oct. 17th was practically siped out by fire suffered a similar experience on Sunday morning last although not of the same magni-

A: shortly after one o'clock the fire was discovered in a warehouse at the rear of the large britch building owned and occupied by Hants Wholesalers Ltd. on Water street. The fire had apparently gained considerable headway when discovered and when the firemen responded to the alarm chey found two warehouses at the rear in flames. Driven by a fi-cile per hour gale the fire made its way rapidly towards the northeastern business and residential section of the town despite the desperate of forts put forth by the firemen. Finding the local fire fighters unable to cope with the situation a request for help was sent out to Halliax, Dartmouth, Wolfville and Kentville, each of which responded promptly to the appeal.

The Smith Block, which survived the great fire of 1897, and the coal sheds toward the waterfront could not withstand the onrusbing flames, and in a few minutes it was a seething mass, floomed to destruction. The Hants Wholesalers building, a valuable structure with a substantial stock, two cars of fertilizer, and Brenton Sexton's warehouse, containing 7000 barrels of apples also the large Evaporator building with a large quantity of machinery ignited and greatly increased the volume of sparks which were carried in a soucherly direction toward a thickly populated section of the town. Pieces of burning shingles, carried by the gale, ignited many other buildings in the direction the wind was blowing, and along King and Stanius streets, and at Avonton, roof fires were being continually breaking out. Sparks were carried a distance of six miles to Beach Hill, and had the ground not been damp, serious results would have followed in this thickly timbered area.

The blaze, sweeping onward, crossed Water street, and the Stead Builting known as the old post-office, in its burning hastened the destruction of the Brown Block, in which five families resided. The Joseph House and others north on Upper Water street in turn fell victims to the flames and the fire continued its course north until reaching the property known

And William Crowell's residence. Across Cobsett street at King, the filames are according to the filames and concerning the course the new Caravam House, the Puddington residence three of Dr. W. E. Dimock's house, and Goo, H. Curry's residence. There the fire demon passed by Mrs. Card's and F. T. Pugsley's houses and swept away the broke residence coupled by P. A. Curry, also the Kelly house, occupied by P. A. Curry, also the Kelly house, occupied by Jas. Blattvelt, tellor, was ompletely destroyed. There the Brick district resisted the ourneising flames with the assistance of the firemen. The R. B. Dakin residence caught several times, as idid also the Harris house, and many properties beyond. Dr. Reid lost his garage, and the Graham house blaze was settinguished with diffi ulty. The fine Goudge residence could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene could not with stand the shower of sparks, even yet issuing from the scene of the start of the fire, and it was here that the firementid wonderful work in confining this fire and smothering it so as to prevent ally reach the Somerset House. When news came last Sunday morning that our sister town of Windoor was indicated upon to pay. Without ample protection many rose plants are lost every winter. At the Largor that the experimental Station, hybrid tear roses that were blants are lost every winter. At the Case. The assessors made a fair and just assessment to the rescue. A speedy trip was made to the rescue. A speedy trip was made to the rescue as a large amount of proving the winter in fine condition. The plants that were only banked with earth and later covered with dry leaves and rough boards, came through the winter in fine condition. The plants that were only banked with earth were, as a rule, severely injured blowing and it was at considerable risk that the equipment was permitted to leave town but as a wise precautionation to pay. When the assessors made the assessment for the year 1923 they had clearly in mind the matter of justice between Wolfville and the county of Kings and province of Nova Scotta. Had the assessment been allowed to stand such justice would have ensued. But some smart Alex thought he could monkey with one part and the other would adjust itself. It did adjust itself but not the way said Alex thought; if he were capable of such a process. I clearly stated and tried to impress it upon some of the numbskulls in charge, of the trouble they were getting the town into but like other long-eared creatures they were not amenable to reason and could only grive forward, and so the town is stuck for the sum of $600 which they never should be called upon to pay. Now they squeal and blame the fault on the assessors and apparently tell the Provincial Secretary so. At least his

The ladies of the Wolfville Baptist church have recently been conducting a drive in order to complete their allottenest of $900 of the $50,000 which the Baptist women of the Maritime Proveinces are raising towards the Acafia Forwarl Movement. Last Thursday oight at a special meeting of the committee in charge of this frive it was announced that already nearly $1,200 had been secured and with one or two collectors yet to be heard from the ladies of the local church have undoubtedly "gone over the top" by some $300. This with the gift of $1000 by the Social and Benevolent Society to Acafia makes a total of $2,700 which the Baptist women of Wolfville have contributed to the "Forward Movement".
