U. S. TARIFF.

Washington, July 14.—Beginning with the chemical schedule the tariff conference to-day took up for consideration the questions over which the Senate and House are most widely at Charlotteport and had to put back 20 miles out, and cancelled the trip. The Arundel, from St. Lawrence River points was five hours late last night, the North King being one hour late, after an extremely rough trip. Senate and Irouse are most when wariance.

The real battle of the conference dates from to-day and upon the progress made before night adjournment is reached some estimate of the time that would be needed to dipose of the tariff bill may be made. City Engineer Rust very strongly objects to the engagement of a special engineer to inquire into the report on the proposed tube railways for Toronto.

Because spraying is not invariably required to insure a satisfactory crop of fruit, there is ever a strong temptation to neglect it, trusting to Providence for immunity from attack. The pesent season should serve to convince many peach growers that Providence helps the orchardist who sprays his trees. To the cold, wet weather of late spring and early summer is attributed the unusual prevalence and severity of leaf-curl, which defoliated many peach trees in the tender-fruit belt, causing the fruit to rather, mother, son, saughter, brother or sistone that conditions a homesteader in good

The defoliated trees will, of course, throw out a new leafage, but at considerable expense of vigor, while all badly-attacked ones will produce no crop of fruit this year. H. S. Peart, B. S. A., Director of the Horticultural Experiment Station at Jordan Harbor, Ont., informs us that, after looking over the Niagara District, he is of opinion that most orchards which were sprayed that most orchards which were sprayed early are comparatively free from peach-leaf curl, though there appear to be some orchards where lime-sulphur spray seemed to be thoroughly applied some time before the buds burst, which show a considerable amount of curl. "All the evidence we have been able to get." he adds, "is in favor of spraying with lime-sulphur before the buds have advanced to any great extent."—Farmers' Advocate.

WHEN THE GRASS IS GREEN.

Gather a single blade of grass, and examine for a minute quietly its narrow, sword-shaped strip of fluted green, Nothing, as it seems, there of notable goodness or beauty. A very little strength, and a very little strength, and a very little strength, and a very little tallness, and a few delicate, long lines meeting in a point—not a perfect point, either, but blunt and unfinished—by no means a creditable or apparently much-cared-for example of nature's workmanship; made only to be trodden on to-day, and to-morrow to be cast into the over; and a little pale and hollow stalk, feeble and flaceid, leading down to the dull, brown fibers of roots. And yet, think of it well, and judge whether, of all the gorgeous flowers that beam in summer air, and of all strong and goodly trees—stately palm and pine, strong ash and oak, scented citron and hurdened vine—there be any by man so deeply loved, by God so highly graced, as that narrow point of feeble green. And well does it fulfill its mission. Consider what we owe merely to the meadow grass, to the covering of the dark ground by that glorious enamel by the companies of those soft and countless and peaceful spears. All spring and summer is in them—the walks by silent, seented paths—the rests in noonday heats—the joy of herds and flocks—the power of all shepherd life and meditation—the life of sunlight upon the world, falling in emerald straks and falling in soft, blue shadows, where else it would strike upon the dark mold or scorching dust.—John Ruskin.

Watseka, Ill., Jucy 14 .- J. B. Sayler. Vice-President of the First National Bank of Crescent City, was shot and killed by Dr. W. R. Miller, a physician of that town, during a fight in the Sayler residence on Sunday night. It is said that Sayler returned to his home after a visit out of town and was killed after he had trapped the physician and his wife together.

Both the physician and the woman were bound over for trial by the coroner's jury on Monday, the former for the death of the banker and the latter as accessory. John C. Grunden, father of Mrs. Sayler, also has been arrested, and her brother, Ira, is sought by the police. It is said the elder Grunden was in the house at the time of the slaying and made no attempt to interfere.

Details of the occurrences leading up to the murder differ. It is claimed by some that the death of the banker was planned by the woman and physician,

FINDS DR. MILLER WITH HIS WIFE.
Sunday afternoon Mr. Sayler attended a ball game outside of town. Returning home late at night he found Miller at his home in the company of Mrs. Sayler,
The husband stepped out doors for a few minutes and they asked him to come in to play a game of cards, but he refused.
Later, it is said, he entered the house and began upbraiding the couple for their conduct, which he said was acousing much gosspi in Crescent City.

Both Miller and Mrs. Sayler say the latter's husband had an axe or batchet
in his hands when he entered the bouse, and that he attacked the physician almost before a word was spoken.

This version of the affair was not given much credence by the jurors, however, as no weapon of either sort was found in the room afterwards.

Almost at the start of the fight, witnesses say, the table on which the kamp stood was overturned and the room, plunged into darkness. The two men continued to stringie, and the physician pulled an automatic revolver and began to fire. Even then the woman made no

During the shooting Mrs. Sayler fled to the street, but returned as soon as it was over. She telephoned for medical sid, saying Dr. Miller had been wounded, and then made a cup of coffee for him. The physician, before the neighbors who had started out to investigate the shooting arrived, drank this coffee, and left the house.
