

STOOD BY HER MISTRESS. Mme. Steinheil's Cook Favored the Prisoner. Declared She Had Been Misquoted by Police.

The Prisoner Interrupted With Passionate Protests. Paris, Nov. 10.—No servant ever fought more loyally for her mistress than did Marietta Wolf, the cook in the Steinheil household, when called to-day as a witness in the trial of Madame Steinheil for the murder of her husband and stepmother.

When Madame Steinheil learned that her husband was dead she ejaculated, "At last I am free." Just then the least hesitation the servant replied, "No; I have been misquoted. What Madame said was: 'At last I am alone.'"

The witness insisted that the wife was devoted to her artist husband. Next to the prisoner, Marietta Wolf excited the most interest in the courtroom, as in the popular mind she is suspected of holding the key to the mystery of the Steinheil home.

She was the first witness to-day and a hush of expectancy greeted her appearance on the stand. She was gowned in black and her attitude was as sombre as her clothes. As a witness she was reticent and volunteered nothing. When pressed with specific questions by the judge she replied frequently "I do not know," or "I don't remember."

She testified that Madame Steinheil had known all of the Wolf children by Alexandre, whom she once accused, least of all. She admitted, however, that her mistress addressed Alexandre by a familiar appellation, Judge Develles, with considerable difficulty, induced the witness to describe the Steinheil home and tell how Madame Steinheil had leased "Green Lodge" in order that she might there receive her lovers.

During the examination of the cook, Madame Steinheil displayed great nervousness, frequently interrupting with passionate protests against the questions and the deductions made from the answers elicited. Marietta Wolf testified categorically the testimony given yesterday by the newspaper photographer, Barbara. She said she had never stated that she would deny everything if Madame Steinheil was arrested.

Several stormy scenes occurred during the afternoon. At one point Madame Steinheil shouted defiantly that if it was true that she had received $1,200 from her lover, Chouard, the iron manufacturer, he had made a hundred times that amount from clients whom she had brought him.

The testimony of Mme. Wolf, as well as that of her son Alexandre, who followed her, was wholly favorable to the defendants. Alexandre Wolf admitted that Madame Steinheil had been in the habit of addressing him familiarly, and that she had kissed him on New Year's day. He offered the opinion that Madame Steinheil had been led to accuse him through suggestion on the part of the police and the newspaper reporters.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP. Mr. J. O. McCulloch, of this city, was elected to-day a director of the Ontario Horticultural Association.

The street lighting arbitration, which was to have come up yesterday afternoon, was adjourned until such time as the lawyers for the interested parties agree upon.

A defective chimney at 32 Albert road caused the Fire Department to turn out this morning at 7.30. A little blaze in the roof was found when the fire fighters arrived on the scene, which they soon put out. The damage was small.

W. B. Eeklin, 29 Woodbine avenue, and Mrs. Tunis, 27 Woodbine avenue, were at the Police office this morning, complaining about somebody cutting up clothes that hung on the lines in their back yards last night. They both said that they thought boys did the mischief.

NO FLIRTING BY BIG POLICEMEN. (Continued from Page 1.) side the incline steps were on. I told her they were across the road, but that she had better take the incline. Just then she spoke to me again. I told her we were not permitted to stand talking to ladies on the street.

I walked down to Robinson street, waited a few minutes, as I was ahead of time, and then went over Robinson street. She caught up with me and asked me what the sergeant said. I told her not much. She said she was going over as far as MacNab street and would walk that far with me. I told her it was against the rules. I never saw the girl since, and do not know her name.

The reason she came after me," explained Sharpe, "was because she did not want to get me into trouble." When the sergeant and constable withdrew the commissioners smiled, and after a pause the Mayor jokingly inquired of the magistrate, "Were you ever young yourself? Of course it should be cut out."

The Magistrate—A great, big, tall, fine-looking policeman like that the girls simply lay for them. The Mayor—He should be more courteous. There have been several of them here lately who have a desire to talk back.

IN NON-UNION SHOP. The publication of a local weekly paper outside the city in a non-union shop will likely be a subject for discussion at a meeting of the Printers' Union to-night. The Trades and Labor Council has been looking into the matter.

HELD ANOTHER SECRET SESSION. (Continued from Page 1.) bodies is also to be produced, and the terms of the contracts of other municipalities who are buying more than 1,000 horse-power, such as the city of Hamilton talks of doing.

No further dickering with Hamilton will be done by the Commission. There is a feeling that the anti-Beech members of the Council are now trying to get terms of some kind in order to justify their long delay in ratifying an agreement with the Hydro-Electric Commission in accordance with the mandate of the citizens.

The question of whether the east end mountain top people will pay city taxes this year will be decided by the County Judge. Under the terms of annexation the property owners were to pay the city rate on the township assessment until the waterworks system was installed and water delivered.

At a conference last night at the Beach road school between representatives of the Board of Education and the trustees of school section No. 1, Barton, satisfactory arrangements were made for taking over the school in connection with the recent annexation order. The Barton trustees explained that there was a debt of $7,000 against the building, which is a five-roomed school. They have five teachers and said that if all the children in the district attended there would be trouble accommodating them.

MAN SHOT. Called to the Door—Dead Body Found Later. Rome, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Legge Stefano, a Sicilian, aged 40, employed as a laborer on the Rome waterworks job, ten miles north of here, was called to the door of his boarding house last evening by two men, who were strangers in the vicinity. He did not return to the boarding house and to-day his dead body was found across the road opposite the house. He had been shot in the neck.

KING MENLIK. London, Nov. 10.—An official despatch received to-day from Adffis Abbebe, the capital of Abyssinia, states that the country is tranquil and that the condition of King Menelik continues to improve. It is doubtful if even the flying machines will enable us to occupy our air castles. A woman is terribly disappointed if her husband doesn't make a fool of himself after letting him have his own way.

There's a reason for this close selling of note paper in boxes. A chance offered recently to buy a quantity of the note paper put up in boxes with envelopes to match, at a very close price. We carefully examined the paper and found it to be of very fair quality, a little better in fact than many papers made to sell in a similar box at 25 cents. Making a good purchase we bought a quantity which we are able to sell at 18 cents the box or 3 boxes for 50 cents.

Rubber plants are usually started by a method known as mashing. A cut is made in a young branch and a wedge put in it to keep the surface apart. A bunch of sphagnum moss is then fastened around the stem over the cut, the moss being kept wet. As soon as the young roots appear on the outside of the moss the young branch is cut off and potted up. Ficus elastica, the rubber plant of our houses, must produce seed in its home, tropical Asia, but does not attain a size sufficient under cultivation in greenhouses to do so often.—St. Nicholas.
