On the Queen's Birthday a little girl, walking along the street in Guelph, discovered her clothes on fire, and to fit the power of her mother, who smothered the flames with her own dress, the result would have been fatal. As it was, the child was badly burned. There is no doubt that her clothes were ignited by fire-crackers.

In Toronto, a few days ago, some young men were discharging guns very recklessly in the vicinity of the Don river. She was taken home shortly after the accident and taken to her home where she lingered in great pain until the following day, when she expired.

A fragment of stone weighing over thirty pounds was thrown a distance of 102 yards from a blast in a limestone quarry, at Brockville, on Thursday afternoon, striking Mr. W.R. Gould on the back of the head, making a fearful gash. Mr. Gould was talking across a field at the time. Hope is entertained of his recovery.

A little over a week ago a boy named Albert Henry Harris, in Hamilton, trod on a rusty nail, which ran into his foot near his toe. On Thursday he went to work, but from a severe pain in his foot and jaw he was obliged to come home again. Thinking he had taken a cold, he applied simple remedies, but on calling the doctor, it was found that it was lock-jaw. He died on Friday morning in intense agony.

The coloured man, Sam Jackson, arrested at Cayuga on a charge of stabbing a burglarious attempt on the house of a lone woman, made a desperate leap for liberty while on a train in charge of a detective on Wednesday morning. When near Glanworth station he requested permission to go to a closet. He was hand-cuffed, but nevertheless succeeded in opening the window and leaping out while the train was going at the rate of twenty miles an hour. He alighted with but little injury, it is supposed, and is taking to the woods, dis,spersed.

Mr. John Laing, of Paulinch, has in his possession a strange freak of nature, consisting of two young pigs perfect in one, from the flank to the head, to which a new of his gave birth a few days ago. They have double sets of hind and fore feet, two heads, two tongues, and, strangest of all, there is only a single gullet, but two spanels and distinct windpipes. The lower jaw is completely wanted, there being only one mouth, which is formed by the two upper jaws. They were alive when first seen, but died almost immediately.

A fire broke out in Portland, N. B., on Friday, and raged all day, destroying a church, stores, brewery and dwelling houses. About fifty houses and a multitude of outbuildings are destroyed, including Chesley's Rattle Mill, a ship in frame ready for planking, Hilyard's marine railway, mill for cutting timber, rigging loft, sheds, and the stores and the pitch pine timber in the yard, and R. A. Gregory's office. A rough estimate of the loss places it at $150,000. Many narrow escapes from death occurred, and several firemen were injured.

Adam Somerville, an engineer working in the Brockville and Ottawa and Central Railways' rail shop at Carleton Place, on Thursday, in passing the engine got his clothes entangled in a pulley, around which he was hurled. Being alone in the shop, the unfortunate man was left in this position until the engine was stopped by the manager, who heard his cries from the outside. He was so badly injured that he died a few hours after.

In Guelph, on the 28th ult., James Mahoney, while exposed feeding a phaser, had his hand caught by the rollers. As soon as he felt his hand being drawn in and terribly crushed, with great presence of mind he put out his right hand and commenced to turn the screw which regulates the distance between the bed and the knives of the machine, and by the time his hand was drawn to so far as the knives, the bed was so low that it escaped without being cut. His arm was drawn in almost to the shoulder before he succeeded in getting it free from the terrible position, and all this happened almost in an instant. Several small bones of the hand were broken.

The demonstration at Whitby on the Queen's Birthday, on the occasion of the dedication of the New Hall there, was on an immense success. Jessop was present as representative to the Grand Lodge of Progress Lodge No. 123, Guelph. Over a thousand Odd Fellows were present. The new hall is a very magnificent one, and cost about $12,000. The Lodge room was decorated and furnished in the most beautiful manner. At the session of the Grand Lodge the Hon. M. J. Durham was presented with a beautifully engrossed address, from which we learn that the Grand Lodge of Ontario was instituted in 1855, with six lodges having thirteen representatives, and 200 members. Now there are 124 lodges and nearly 10,000 members, having contributed during that time, $70,000 for the charitable objects of the order. Splendid orations were given by the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, the Hon. M. J. Durham, Hon. M. C. Cameron, and several others. The proceedings terminated with a ball in the evening.

Huron Signal:

GODERICH, JUNE 2, 1875

Mr. Blake in South Bruce.

Hon. E. Blake, in consequence of his acceptance of a position in the Cabinet is again before his constituents seeking election. His address to the electors is short and simple, being as follows:—

"In deference to the views of political friends who think it an imperative duty, I have reluctantly taken office; and on this step you are now to pass judgment.

"Should you decide favorably, I will continue my humble efforts to maintain the principles of freedom and justice, and the policy of progress and reform, with which, for some years, and by numerous elections, you have identified the South Riding of Bruce.

"Should your determination be adverse, I shall in all kindliness of spirit accept your dismissal, cheered by the memory of your past goodliness, and sustained by the reflection that, while permitted to serve my country, I have striven earnestly, however unsuccessfully, to do my duty."

One of the organs of the Opposition in the county of Bruce hints that no opposition will be offered to Mr. Blake's election, but that the field will be left free for him, and it seems perfectly natural to leave the hon member in peaceful possession of the constituency. The principal organ of the Opposition is vehement in its demands for a disclosure of the circumstances connected with Mr. Blake's acceptance of a position in the cabinet after having for so long a time refused similar offers.—Mr. Blake's reasons for making this important step will no doubt be fully made known when he visits South Bruce, and unquestionably to the satisfaction of his constituents. His career has been marked with actions creditable to himself and which have characterized him as an honest, faithful and studiously consistent politician. The electors of South Bruce have reason to be proud of their representative, and now that he has become a member of the Cabinet, they will be still more ready to return him honorably to Parliament to lend his ability to adding new lustre to the record of the present Government.

An Interesting Relic.

One derives a great deal of pleasure from the perusal of an ancient document, book or newspaper—particularly the latter, which mirrors the events of the past and something of the habits of the people of those times in a more detailed fashion. We have on our table a copy of the Daily Picayune, published in New Orleans, of the date Thursday morning, April 29, 1842, addressed to the Union office, Nashville, Tenn. The paper is not very ancient, but its faded color and the many striking features in its columns makes it interesting. Its size is about one-half of the Signal, is printed in small type, and is a diminutive affair compared with the present fearless-toned and spicy Picayune. The paper before us exhibits this same spirit, and in the then sixth year of its existence appears to have met with a great measure of success, the demand having so increased that the proprietors announce the issue of a weekly edition commence the issue of a weekly edition for the benefit of the less fortunate in this world's affairs, at the subscription price of $5 per annum, the daily costing $12.

Charles Dickens at this time was making his tour through the United States, and we are treated to an amusing account of a visit of that worthy to a newspaper office, which visit the writer neglects in a form to draw attention to the qualities of his paper, the excellence of his establishment and winds up with the modern printer's announcements—"bills printed while you wait." The difficulties between the Texans and Mexicans are of the themes of interest, and Matamoras is the centre of action where a body of 1200 Mexicans have been gathering to resist an assault from a body of Texans. A rumor is printed to the effect that "Jo Smith, the Mormon prophet" is about to purchase a theatre in Philadelphia, intending to convert it into a tabernacle; and further on we find that divorces were then as frequent as in these latter days, no less than fifteen cases having been heard and settled on one day by the Supreme Court of Ohio. Mob law in Virginia is vigorous, a meeting having been held at which resolutions were adopted placing those present to resist all collection of debts by the officers of the law, and to chastise and rail-ride any man who would attempt the sale of exempt property for the purpose of bidding for it. The temperance people had evidently made their influence felt in the city by levying a heavy tax on the sale of liquors, and as a consequence the "keepers of coffee-houses, grog shops, cabarets, groceries, hotels, &c., united themselves to have the value of a license reduced from a rate which is characterized as so heavy "as scarcely leave them means wherewith to exist."

Alabama is well known as the principal of the "slave States" during the existence of slavery, and a perusal of the advertising columns contains items of melancholy interest, of which the following extracts are specimens:—

"Liberal Advances.—Benj. Kendig & Co. are prepared to make Liberal Advances on Slaves, and all other property placed in their hands for sale."

"$50 Reward.—Absconded or taken away, the negro man Andrew, aged about 22 years. He is a square made fellow, about 5 feet 8 inches high, dark grite color, has been an engineer, and was sold last week by Daniel Murphy, Esq., of Mo."

"$5 Reward.—Absconded from the subscriber about the 1st inst., the negro man John. He is about 26 or 30 years of age, is 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, and is very stout built. The above reward will be paid to any person who will lodge said boy in the city jails, or deliver him to P. M. Fisk."

These relics of barbarity shock the feelings of present existing humanity, and cause us to wonder that men could have treated intelligent beings in such an inhuman manner as these advertisements indicate. There were white scoundrels in those days, and one is thus portrayed by an over-confiding man:—

"One more rascal gone.—Capt. Frederick C. Clark, a native of Maryland and a blacksmith by trade, about 38 years of age, left this place about 10th of January last, owing me the sum of $337.80, which amount I suppose he considers paid up in swindling. This is to caution the community at large and the public generally against having anything to do with Capt. Clark, unless they want to be swindled."

A little joke is indulged in at the expense of the people of the Northern States, who puffed themselves with an air of moral superiority in contrast to the blood-letting propensities of the people of the Southern States. The best witnessed scene of the sharp sarcasm peculiar to the Picayune is—

"What will our moral-minded neighbors of the north say when the roar reaches them about a whole family being stabbed in bed last evening, by a set of blood-thirsty miscreants, who found entrance through the windows! The father and the mother, with the innocent babe, were beset with ruthless violence, and their veins brutally pierced by the assassins! The unhappy victims went to sleep, neglecting to draw the mosquito-bar, so paid miserably for their inhospitable rashness. But we suspect this rumor about the musquitoes is all bum!"

After looking through this paper of thirty-three years ago, we cannot but contrast the age and the character of the paper itself with the present and its journals. Railways and steamboats were then in existence but on a limited scale, since then the United States has passed through a great moral revolution, our improvements contrast with the world's "advancement" in these days as an extravagant dream and journalism has grown to be massive institution such as the admirers of it in its infancy could never have dreamed it capable of becoming. Although public criticism says of many of our features of civilization that perfection has been attained, the almost daily improvements of every kind show how far the end is distant, yet looking forward to thirty years or more from hence, should such great revolutions take place as in a like period of the past, our imagination becomes lost in conjecture as to what great changes have been worked and to what stage a social or scientific revolution will bring us.

THE WELLAND ELECTION was, on Friday declared void by Justice Gwynne, thus unseating another Reformer, Mr. Currie. The evidence which overthrew the election proved that one Luther Boardman kept open house and treated on the polling day, and that this man was a well-known supporter of Mr. Currie and had apparently been requested to act in his interest by one of Mr. Currie's agents. Boardman's agency was thus established, and the judge made decision in accordance with the evidence. A great hue and cry has been made in this case about threats made use of by the Ministerial candidate to intimidate Government employees to vote for Mr. Currie. It was alleged in the petition against the election that the respondent had said, offended at the opposition of one of the government employees, that all such persons "should have their heads cut off"—signifying that they should be discharged. On this ground the judge expressed his opinion that the point was too absurd to be entertained and gave the respondent costs against the petitioner in respect thereof. Charges of treating, direct bribery and threats of dismissal to tenants, influence at vote were improven, and the only evidence showing improper actions was that which showed Boardman's agency.

WHEN Mr. Barber was unseated in Halton by Chief Justice Draper, doubts were expressed as to the truthfulness of the evidence of the principal witness. In reply to the Toronto Mail, which has said of the Robins family that "they were a most worthy and respectable family," the Milton Champion gives the following bit of history:—"The old lady, about four years ago, swore before Henry Foster, Esq., J. P., that a certain young man had assaulted her in a berry-patch. The young man was able to prove that he was not in the neighborhood in which the assault was alleged to have been committed, and, indeed, swore he was never in the particular berry-patch in his life. Mr. Foster, not placing so much reliance on Mrs. Robins' testimony as Chief Justice Draper did, dismissed the case. A daughter of this most respectable family once swore a charge against a young man of an offence, which if a conviction had taken place would have subjected him to the death penalty, but, though strenuously backed up by the oaths of her venerable parents, the magistrate dismissed the case." Mr. Barber's punishment was very severe, and when we read this piece of information we are inclined still more to sympathise with that gentleman.

SOUTH SIMCOE AS A HARBOR OF REFUGE.—Mr. McDOUGALL must feel happy that in South Simcoe he has at length found a resting place. No man more needs a rest, judging from the following record of his constituences:—

1854	North Wentworth.. Rejected.
1854	Waterloo.. Rejected.
1857	Perth.. Rejected.
1863	North Oxford.. Rejected.
1864	North Ontario.. Rejected.
1872	North Lanark.. Rejected.
1875	East York.. Rejected.

In 1869, to vary the performance, though the variation was a slight one, Manitoba rejected him as Lieutenant-Governor. To all the constituencies named, Mr McDougall appealed as a Reformer. Some of them tried him for a term, but all dispensed with his services eventually. Conservative South Simcoe has consequently secured a well-tried candidate A gentleman who has done so much running cannot fail to stand well in the House.—Liberal.

HON. W. MCDOUGALL has at length found rest from his weary wanderings, and the "frequently rebuffed" has been taken in and clothed with the raiment of distinction. The result of the election in South Simcoe, on the 25th ult. gives Mr. McDougall over 200 of a majority over the Reform candidate. The result was partially anticipated, although such a majority was not expected for the victor,

Mr. DYMOND, lately elected in North York to the house of Commons, has been unseated, one of his agents having admitted a debt of $6 due to him by an elector to induce him to vote for Mr. Dymond. The personal charges were dropped, and the election was declared void.

MR. J. D. EDGAR and Dr. Haney have been selected by the Reformers of Monck as their candidate in the approaching election for the Dominion and Local Legislatures.

DURING the absence in Europe of Hon Mr. McKenzie, minister of Public Works Hon Mr. Huntington will administer the affairs of that department.

Town Council Business.

The regular meeting of the Town Council took place on Friday night, His Worship the Mayor in the chair. Members present:—Messrs Smith, Savage, Sloan, Grainger, Campbell, F. W. Johnson, A. J. Watson, Seymour, Kraus, Passmore, G. R. Johnson.

The Clerk read the report of the Street Inspector of expenditure since 1st January, for repairing streets $146.10; water tank on Main street $262.50; account for material for sidewalks $80; The look-up had been completed, consisting of one room; the sidewalks had been repaired, according to instruction, but more deepening was wanted; fresh trees had been planted where others had died out, and it was reported with pleasure that the trees generally were in a healthy state, their worst enemy being man, who was gradually acquiring more taste.

The Fire Committee reported that they had tested the engine and hose and found them in good condition. The committee recommended that the sum of $100 be placed at the disposal of the captain of the hose company to pay ten men to turn out with the engine and hose reels to cover expenses for the year, and that $20 be placed at the disposal of the chief engineer of the steamer to pay assistant engineer and firemen; also that some inducement be offered to parties to form themselves into a Hook and Ladder Company. Owing to Mr. Whiteley's inability to build a shed, they had communicated with the Silsby Company and purchased a reel at $275 in American currency delivered free of expense in Goderich.

Discussion followed upon the question of disposal of remuneration to firemen, Messrs. Watson and Smaill objected to placing the money in the hands of the captain and chief engineer. Objection was taken to the purchase of the reel. It was supposed that the reel would not cost more than $125, judging from the prices charged by a London firm, and it was considered by the majority of the Council that they should have laid the matter before the members before making the purchase.

Mr. Savage explained that the reels made in London were clumsy and not nearly so well made. Mr Whitely said that he would not undertake to build such an one as the Silsby reel for less than $300.

The clause referring to payment of firemen was referred back to committee, as well as second clause with reference to hook and ladder committee, for further consideration. The clause for the purchase of the reel was accepted.

H. Horton, Esq., M. P., communicated to the Council that he had written to the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, asking him to give the town a lease of the docks for one year or so until the Government could make other arrangements, so that some authority could be exercised to confine vessels to certain berths and relieve the forwarders of a great inconvenience. A reply had been received stating through an overnight the matter had not been attended to before, but an official letter would be forwarded at once to the Council instructing them to draft regulations for the approval of the Minister of Public works. Referred to Harbor Committee.

The Finance committee reported recommending the payment of the SIGNAL's account of $27.80; Star office account of $20.80, excepting the sum of $1.25 for bills got on order of tax collector; also that the account of James Whisely be not paid; that the petition of the salt manufacturers be left over until the end of the year. Adopted.

The Public works Committee reported, recommending that the petition of Secord, Cozzens & Co., for permission to build a track across Maitland street and through their property be granted; that the petition of G. H. Parsons be laid over until the lower section of the sewer which the Council contemplates constructing be completed; that the culvert petitioned for at Mr. Smeeth's factory be not constructed: that instead of the main sewer commencing at the south side of Lighthouse stree that it be commenced at the stone drain at the top of the harbor hill, thence up West street to the east side of Wellington street then along the east side of Wellington street. This we recommend because of the large amount of water which will in all probability be brought down. We think it advisable to commence at the top of the Harbor Hill. Adopted.

A by-law to repeal the Park by-law was passed through three readings and adopted.

A by-law to regulate the government of the lock-up was put through the necessary readings and adopted.

Council adjourned until Thursday evening next.

PRUSSIAN.—The Upper House of the Prussian Diet has passed bills for the suppression of convents, and relative to the administration of church property.

ENGLAND.—Great crowds of people continue to attend the revival meetings of Moody and Sankey. Services were held Thursday, and over 50,000 persons were present, and 1,000 visited the enquiry rooms. The criticism of the newspapers, especially the World and Standard, upon the movement of Moody and Sankey, are virulent and incessant. The house visiting committee organized by the revivalists are severely denounced.

UNITED STATES.—A timely rainfall of eight hours duration in Pennsylvania, has extinguished the forest fires.

On Wednesday night an explosion occured in a drug store, in Boston, the cause of which remains a mystery. At the time of its occurence there were known to have been about twenty-two persons in the building. The first intimation of the disaster was a deep rumbling sound similar to the report of an earthquake, and almost simultaneously the walls of the building burst outward in every direction, and the flooring and other inflammable materials at once took fire. Four dead bodies were taken from the ruins, and 12 others are fatally injured.

In New York, on Wednesday night, Henry Rix, a private watchman, shot and killed John McKenna, aged fourteen years, in Twelfth street for teasing him. Rix was arrested and locked up.

A special to the Republican from Kansas City says:—Three hundred farmers of Jackson County met at Independence to devise means for the relief of the destitute and suffering. Reports from all parts of the country were that grasshoppers are destroying all the crops and fruits. The meeting resolved to issue an address, calling on the people of the country to assist the helpless farmers who are cutting down trees for their stock to eat their leaves. One farmer said half of the farmers will be objects of charity in three months.

One of the most terrible disasters in the history of Mass., occurred near Springfield, on Thursday night by the burning of the French Catholic Church at South Holyoke during evening service, involving the death of sixty-six men, women and children. The excitement had nearly closed with a prayer service reaching many when the draperies on the altar caught fire from a candle, and the wall being low, and the fames increasing so, the building was set on fire. The audience numbered about 700. The people in the body of the church escaped, but in the stairway leading from the galleries human beings were packed in a dense mass struggling to escape. As the flames rushed toward them many turned to the rear, breaking out the north sides of the church with only one entrance from the front. The scene was fearful in the extreme during the little while it lasted, for the whole was over in twenty minutes. Besides sixty-six dead, the fatally wounded will carry the total loss of life up to seventy-five. The pastor's house, which joins the church in the rear, was also burnt. The bodies were taken to the State house. Main street store and Park street school house for temporary deposit. The priests exertions to keep order were fruitless. The screams of the living and the moans of the dying made a deafening tumult above the orders of the pastor, who worked most heroically and was personally instrumental in saving many lives. One family of four were in the church and all were killed. Many were pulled out by the arms and feet so badly burned that they lived but a few hours, the flesh peeling off on being touched. Some were taken out with scarcely any flesh remaining on their bones. Sisters of Mercy from the Convent were promptly present, caring for the wounded and holding services over the dying, while Father Du Frenne also had many services over the dying. Physicians gave the wounded the best of medical care. Those who were too badly burned to recover were put under the effects of morphine, and passed away without a struggle. While the services were being held over the dying the most intense quiet prevailed, and rough laborers knelt upon the floor with uncovered heads; but about the morgue in the streets the wailing of multitudes was pitiful to hear.

A. J. Alexander, of Lexington Ky., has sold two of his valuable short-horns to Mr. Fox, of England, the twenty-fourth Duke of Andrie and the twentieth Duchess of Andrie, at $300,000 for the two.

A telegraph to one of the Cincinnati papers last week says: On Monday, H. H. Holt, Lieut-Governor of Michigan was severely cased by Mr. Trott, a prominent citizen of Muskegon, for an alleged insult offered to his (Trott's) wife. Holt was considerably cut by the cane.

Twenty-four hours rain in Missouri, last week, has done some slight damage to fences, roads and growing crops, but on the considerable good in drowning out grasshoppers, which were washed in to the streams in such quantities that the Missouri River opposite Kansas City was black with them.

The Beecher trial will continue until about the middle of June. A week ago it was confidently expected that the fifth day of June would see the end of the case, but the long plea of Judge Porter, the illness of the juror Jeffrey, and the promised length of Evart's summing up, make it improbable that the case will be given to the jury much before the middle of this month.

The Brooklyn scandal cave has furnished a fresh suprise, and some further highly-flavored narrations are promised. One of the sons of H. C. Bowen makes a statement in the New York Sunday Times (of this week), indicating the existence in Plymouth Church of a still more lively skeleton than the Tilton trial has done. He accounts for the extreme reticence of his father by saying that he is bound in honor to hold his tongue; but if he could decently open his mouth he could tell a tale to freeze the blood of respectable Brooklyn. This he cannot do without compromising several families in the congregation. Shortly after, he has been shabbily-treated by the Church and its members, and has repeatedly challenged the entire concern to a conflict of statements; but the Church dare not come to the combat. It is threatened that, which ever way it goes, the Tilton trial will not see the end of the Brooklyn Scandal. The elder Bowen is bound to get up a row on his own account.

GRAND inducements offered on all cash purchases of one dollar and upward. 5 per cent discount will be allowed at Trull & Field's new grocery, Crabb's Block.

CLOSE SEASON.—The close season for catching trout ends on the 5th of June. Members have been busy during the past few weeks catching these fish with hooks and nets. A heavy fine is the penalty for an infringement of this law.

EXAMINATION OF PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS.—By advertisement in another column our readers will see that the above examinations take place in Goderich, for second class certificates, on the 19th July; for second class, on 20th July, and for first class on 24th July.

Y. M. C. A.—The rooms of this association are being extended and greatly improved. At a meeting held last week it was decided to open a mission Sabbath school, for the education of children who attend no denominational school.

A LARGE LOT OF LUMBER.—On Tuesday of last week, the propeller Isaac May passed down the lake from Blind River, with four barges in tow loaded with 2, 250,000 feet of lumber. One barge, the Muskoka, was dropped off at this port for Williams & Murray, and contained 540,000 feet of lumber. The other three barges were destined for Tonawanda.

FOREPAUGH'S MENAGERIE.—This mammoth exhibition is preparing to make a tour of Canada. Its first appearance being made in Hamilton on the 7th inst. Mr. Forepaugh is well-known as a showman, and is different from Barnum inasmuch as he does not believe in humbugging the people. The show is highly spoken of, and when the date of its arrival here will be announced we have no doubt a great number will determine to see it or be bankrupt.

YACHT SOLD.—We understand that the hull and engines of the Tommy Wight has been sold to Mr. Murdock McPherson for the sum of $800. The boat will be repaired and fitted out as a fishing boat, and will prove a great aquisition to our fleet. Some time ago we took occasion to suggest the employment of steam vessels and a unity of action in fishing, and we are glad to see that progress is being made in this direction.

ILLICIT STILL SEIZURE.—On the 25th ult., Collector Cavan, officers Detior and Cavan and Constable Trainer made a raid upon the premises of one Lewis Hyde, situate on the Bayfield Road, where they had reason to believe an illicit still was in operation. The apparatus for distilling the liquor was found in operation one mash having just been distilled and other two being in process of fermentation. The apparatus was of the most primitive character, and together with some liquor found in the house, all were confiscated.

A HANDY ARTICLE.—Now that people begin to feel that it would be a blessiar to be able "to sit in one's boots," such an article as the Messina Lemonade Powder is very acceptable. This powder is prepared from Messina oranges, and is an exceedingly handy substitute for the old-fashioned and often very unsatisfactory recipe for making lemonade. The article is cheap and makes a beverage of superior quality. Mr. John Boud, druggist, is sole agent for Goderich.

WOODCOCK vs. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—In the court of Common Pleas, Toronto, on the 25th ult., the case of Mr. Woodcock vs. Grand Trunk Railway, with which our readers are familiar, was heard. The subject in this case was an appeal from the order of a County Court Judge, making a rule nisi absolute for a non-suit. Evidence of the same character as was elicited in the trial before Judge Vona was presented in support of the appeal, but the justices dismissed the appeal without calling respondent's counsel.

PERILS OF THE DEEP.—On Monday afternoon of last week, as the small schooner Nina, captain McLean, bound from Michael's Bay Goderich with lumber and lath consigned to Mr. Wm. Lee, was nearly opposite Kincardine and 40 miles out in the lake, she sprung a leak and she filled so rapidly that the crew, four in number, were forced to leave her. With one loaf of bread they set out for shore but a floe of ice intervening between them and land, they were obliged to make a long detour to reach the shore. On Wednesday night they safely arrived at Pine River, much exhausted and with sharp appetities. They arrived in Goderich on Thursday and reported the state of affairs, and arrangements were made to hunt up the vessel and bring her to port.

MR. HOSKER'S BATH ROOMS.—Last week we took occasion to visit Mr. Hosker's bath rooms near the Grand Trunk Station. The place is comfortably fitted up, and is already becoming quite a popular resort for our citizens. The baths are supplied with fresh and salt water, the latter being heated, and none who have not enjoyed the luxury of a saline bath can conceive the ecstasy and comfort to be derived from one of these baths. The effects are surprising, giving a wonderful buoyancy and vigor to the system. Mr. Hosker has been to a great deal of expense in fitting up the baths, and is deserving of liberal patronage from the citizens. The medicated baths are highly spoken of, but as we are in good health and have not had occasion to test them, we cannot speak of their effects from experience, but should judge from opinions expressed in our hearing that they are highly beneficial to debilitated and nervous persons.

THE SHAUGHRAUN.—Those who witnessed the performance of this play in the Oddfellows' Hall on Monday evening, flatter themselves that they experienced the rarest treat which has ever been furnished to the people of Goderich in the way of an entertainment.—From the rising of the curtain until the closing scene, the audience manifested a flattering appreciation of the play and the acting. "Conn" was of course the central attraction, and his light hearted, reckless, affectionate and honest simplicity of manner were acted to perfection by Mr. McDowell, and won for him loud bursts of applause. This character is very much like Handy Andy, and his pranks always resulted in the discomfiture of the enemy and in the interests of friends—although "Conn," is less of the fool and more of the rogue than Andy. Moya, the affianced of Conn, was acted by Miss Egberts with all the modesty, affection and truth of reality; and the high spirited, impulsive Claire Folliott was faithfully represented by Miss Savory, a pretty blonde. It is very seldom any one has occasion to speak well of a villian, but in the case of Harvey Duff we cannot restain our admiration of his excellent acting of his part—a worse scoundrel could not be gotten up in appearance, and the acting carried out the impression to reality seemingly. The other characters of the play were well acted, Father Dolan, captain Molineux and Corry Kinchela being most prominent. Much inconvenience was experienced in shifting the scenes, and this was the only defect in the otherwise excellent entertainment. Mr. McDowell and his company will leave behind them a lasting recollection in the minds of the amusement loving portion of the people.]

RECOVERED.—The boy McLeod, injured by the explosion which occurred lately, and who it was thought was too badly injured to recover, is out of danger and is getting better slowly.

MARRIAGE MEETING.—The regular monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. association will take place at the rooms next Thursday evening. A very entertaining programme has been arranged for the evening. The public are cordially invited to be present.

PERRY & CO'S ILLUSTRATED PRESS CATALOGUE.—This periodical for April is to hand. It is an excellent journal for persons in the stationery business, giving prices and descriptions of many useful articles.

FINE CHURCH MUSIC.—A. S. Irving & Co., of Toronto, are publishing a

The music is very easy, fresh and attractive, and the above figure is exceedingly cheap. The series, up to the 21st number, contains many choice pieces of music.

REMOVING.—Rev. John Logie, the esteemed pastor of the Rodgerville Presbyterian Church, has been suffering severely from some time from ill health, and has determined to dispose of his property, resign his pastoral charge, and remove south to a warmer climate, which he hopes will prove beneficial to him.

LIME KILNS.—Mr. R. Bowyer has erected two new lime kilns at Bow Miller and is turning out an excellent quality of lime. With the two kilns running he will be able to burn 800 bushels of lime each week. He is selling the lime at 10 cents per bushel, or at 75 cents delivered within a reasonable distance of Bennither. This business will be quite an acquisition to the pretty village.

PROVINCIAL PLOUGHING MATCH.—Sheriff Gibbons is making an effort to have the Provincial ploughing match for this district take place in Seaforth this year. Last year it was held at Stratford, and Huron sent five successful ploughmen thereto, and as this County is well situated in the district and possesses many enthusiastic and good ploughmen it seems but right that the match should take place for once in the county.

SPELLING MATCH.—The spelling match between the Teachers of Colborne, which was last week postponed will take place in the Oddfellows Hall on Tuesday evening next. Every arrangement has been made to make the affair a great success, strong teams having been secured and everything prepared for a desperate tussle. This affair will be the grandest yet presented to the public, and the admission fee has been placed at 15 cents for single tickets and 25 cents for double tickets, we anticipate a large turn out. A programme of music has been prepared, and an interesting evening may be anticipated. Fifteen persons will compose the teams on either side, and arrangements have been made for conducting the match successfully.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—The celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi took place in St. Joseph's church, on Sunday last, with imposing ceremonies and in the presence of a large congregation. The church was tastefully arranged, and great effect was given to the services by its appearance. The excellent choir had an addition to its numbers in the presence of a trio from the Brennan troupe, who sang St. Peter's Mass in D and the chorus "Praise ye the Lord," in a manner superior to any thing ever heard in Goderich, although we have some excellent choirs in town. A pretty feature of the service was the procession of young ladies, belonging to the order of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, who were dressed in white veils and made a beautiful appearance. In the evening the closing services of the month of May, which is dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, took place with a procession similar to that of the morning. Mr. Brennan and two other members of his company were present and with the choir sang St. Peter's Magnificat and Landate with wonderful effect. The many persons present were greatly pleased with the singing, which could not have been excelled. Miss L. McDougall presided at the organ both morning and evening with great skill and taste.

DUNGANNON.

BASE BALL.—For some time the advisability of forming a Base Ball Club has been agitated in this village, but nothing has been done until Thursday, 27th ult., when the young men of the village went to work to form one, and their endeavours have been crowned with success. More than twenty persons joined the club on the night of meeting, when the following officers were elected:—President, R. Hiscox; Vice President, Capt. Mallough; Treasurer, E. Lowry; Secretary, D.E.
