The Disgusted Morris Party.

To even the least observant, it is evident that the Morris-Morison combination is doomed. Its members are in the depths of despair at the mere prospect of Sir Robert Bond leading the Liberal Party at the coming elections, backed by the forces of the Fishermen's Protective Union. They have scouted the bare possibilities of such an outcome and have relied on the contingency as outside the realm of practical politics. On Saturday they were shocked at the call made publicly on Sir Robert Bond by the P. F. U. They were stunned to find that the people in the city, and in the outports had made their wishes known to Sir Robert that it was their wish that he should come out and rescue the Government from the clutches of Morris and his associates. So angered were they at the prospect, that venom blinded their judgment, and they tried to make out that the articles in The Evening Telegram and the Fishermen's Advocate were in the nature of an ultimatum to Sir Robert Bond, and that Lloyd and Coaker were holding up Sir Robert with a pistol and insisting that he should lead or get out.

When they had shot their bolt the Morris gang found themselves more than ever at sea, for they were staggered on Monday with the announcement that the President of the Fishermen's Protective Union was visiting Sir Robert Bond at Whitbourne and was personally laying before Sir Robert the wishes of the P. F. U. and the people of the North that Sir Robert should come out and lead the Opposition forces to victory and send down the Morris-Morison combination to defeat. In their despair they tried a counter-move by circulating a vicious sectarian falsehood to the effect that a plank in the platform of the Opposition was the establishment of non-sectarian schools. The Change Islands falsehood was nipped by Mr. Peter Cowan on Monday and by Mr. Coaker after his return from Whitbourne in our Tuesday's issue. We also exposed the falsehood and showed that the retention of our denominational schools would not be imperilled, as there was no intention on the part of the Liberal Party to disturb them or to set-up a system of non-sectarian schools. That falsehood was promptly dealt with by us and the move of the despairing Morris gang did not work. In their despair they put around town that Sir Robert Bond would not receive Mr. Coaker and that the latter had returned with his tail out. To their disgust on Tuesday they found that Mr. Coaker had been cordially received and entertained by Sir Robert, who had had listened considerably to the message that Mr. Coaker conveyed to him from the North and had discussed with him fully, freely and frankly the political situation. This news was a death-knell to the Morris hopes. There is nothing they fear more than the combination of Liberal and Union forces under Sir Robert Bond. They know the hold that Sir Robert has on the people. They know the people want Sir Robert to take charge of the next Government. But they affected to believe that it was impossible to induce Sir Robert to reconsider the invitation he expressed in 1909 of retiring from public life and which he took steps to carry out in January 1910, when he tendered his resignation of the leadership of the Liberal Party to the members of that party. The people want Sir Robert Bond and they have been conveying to him their desire and to a man with such a high sense of public duty as Sir Robert, the call of duty is a matter not lightly to be disregarded.

The Morris-Morison aggregation have been consoling themselves with the idea that if Sir Robert did lead the Liberal Party, there would of a certainty be a three cornered fight, the Opposition would be divided and the Government party's chances would be good. But the prospect of a united opposition under the Liberal banner, and led by Sir Robert, has knocked out all their reckonings and they are down in the depths of despair. Curiously enough, they even resort to the argument that combinations never work, forgetting apparently that the People's Party is simply a combination itself of a Morris gang and a Morison gang, and that combination will certainly not work out for their salvation at the coming election. Further they are hastily tearing away the halo they were preparing for Sir Robert on his retirement. They tell us now he is no good as a leader, anyhow, forgetting apparently of how he crisscrossed those opposed to him in 1909 and 1904. The Daily News, under Mr. Mott, affects now to despise the prowess of Sir Robert Bond and to hold up for laudation Sir Edward Morris. But then that is Mr. Mott, and he is as changeable as a weathercock. Time was when he declared that Morris was a trickster of the worst description, who sold the Liberal Party in 1898, and did the temperance people in their petition, and never in all his life did anything beneficial to the working class. Now, Mr. Mott shouts for Morris, just as he used to shout against him. It is a case of paid patriotism. Mr. Mott is Clerk of the House of Assembly.

Rifle Club Shoot

For W. D. Reid Cup, McGregor Challenge Medal and McNab Handicap.

A keenly contested all-day shoot took place yesterday at the South Side Range, when Mr. L. C. Mews won the three prizes. Mr. Mews has now won the Reid Cup four times in succession, and is the proud possessor of same.

The scores were as follows:-

Reid Cup, 1st stage	200 500 600 Ttl.
L. C. Mews	32 31 33 96
J. W. Morris	30 26 33 89
W. H. Rennie	28 31 29 88
E. McNab	27 30 26 83
L. Kennedy	27 29 27 83
J. Murphy	25 25 22 72
T. Horan	25 15 23 63
2nd stage	800 900 1000 Ttl.
L. C. Mews	28 28 18 74
W. H. Rennie	24 28 18 70
J. W. Morris	30 23 17 70
E. McNab	30 21 13 64

Mr. Mews thus won the McNab Handicap with the fine score of 96 at the short ranges, the Reid Cup with a total of 170 at both ranges, and the McGregor Medal with 74 at the long ranges.

Mr. L. Kennedy, of the C. C. C., made a very creditable score at the short ranges of 83, which with his handicap of ten points, made his total 93, just three points short of the prize.

PRESCRIPTION "A."

Very Highly Recommended by An Outport Man.

Please send me by mail a large bottle of Stafford's Prescription "A". Enclosed you will find 50 cents, also 10 cents for postage. You sent me a trial size a few days ago and it almost cured my wife. Another 50 cent bottle will make a cure. I have tried doctors and all kinds of medicine, but I don't believe that there is any medicine that can cure a bad stomach like STAFFORD'S PRESCRIPTION "A".

I am more than thankful that ever you advertised that medicine. Please forward as soon as possible, as I am waiting anxiously for it.

Signed,

We do not publish the names of any person or persons that we receive letters from, that they can be seen by you at any time by calling at our Drug Store, Theatre Hill. aug15/13

Obituary.

JAMES J. BATES.

Early yesterday morning one of our best known and respected citizens in the person of James J. Bates, died suddenly. Deceased, who was in his 62nd year, was an employee for many years of James Bald, Ltd. He was a splendid type of man in every sense of the word; he was charitable, affable and kind and with all simplicity was typical of him. He was a prominent member of all the institutions of his church and for half a century was a member of the T. A. & B. Society—being the last President of that body. He was always ready to give his services for the uplifting of total abstinence. Only last year he was presented with a sash of honour for devotion to the cause. On Tuesday night Mr. Bates retired and did not complain of being unwell; soon after midnight he was stricken with heart trouble and called for help. Dr. O'Connell and Rev. Dr. Greene were sent for but before they arrived the last spark of life had fled. Deceased is survived by a widow and daughter to whom the deepest sympathy of the community will be expressed.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. Its only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well, You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. Too late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." That "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen, to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more than his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible. Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency, the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

DIGBY LEFT LIVERPOOL. On Tuesday afternoon the Furness liner Digby left Liverpool for this port. Amongst her passengers of 24 are Hon. J. S. Pitts, Mrs. Pitts, Miss Mary Mackay, Miss Carberry, James S. Ayre and E. P. Ayre. She has also 400 tons of cargo.

A Monster Programme.

On August 26th there will be held at the Rossley Theatre a benefit concert for Mr. Norris, who has been sick for a considerable time. Jack Rossley has given over his theatre for that purpose and hopes to help the committee who have the matter in hand to enable them to turn in a sum of money to tide the family over. Jack Rossley and his talented wife are helping to fix a splendid programme for this occasion. Mrs. Rossley has several of her pantomime children now in training with new songs and dances and several of the city talent will also appear. It's for a good cause and it's to be hoped will be as successful as the other concerts given for a charitable purpose.
