Channel Notes.

The executioner's axe has again swung in this direction, the head of Mr. William J. Bragg, tide waiter at Port aux Basques, having fallen at the behest of the honorable (?) member for the district, who is evidently on the warpath in full paint and feathers. It is said that the mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly fine. In the near future there will be a say in certain matters and then all accounts will be balanced.

There is considerable indignation over this dismissal, and strong protests from influential friends of the government have been made and the Prime Minister will be acting wisely if he listens to these protests and rectifies the wrong. Come, Sir Edward, now is your time to show that with you there will be none of that delay of justice which makes injustice.

The recent tariff increases are evoking considerable comment and much wrath. People can now behold without the aid of glasses the manner in which they were deluded by the remission of duties last year. They now realize the truth that the railway building and other pet extravaganzas of the Morris Government are likely to prove costly jobs for them. Truly this last juggle of Mr. Cashin's is frenzied finance indeed.

The sealing steamers from St. John's are now due, and the excitement consequent upon their arrival and departure will go somewhat toward breaking the monotony of what has been a dull winter. The Gulf fleet is much larger than that of other years, but whether this will make for more or less seals being brought in, only the end of the voyage will tell. It is to be hoped, however, that all will make good bills.

In glancing through the new Sealing Bill, it is apparent that the framers overlooked one great essential by omitting a clause providing for giving the crews half their hand, which would have been of more real benefit to the men than all the elaborate legislation making it compulsory to supply meals a la carte. It is too bad that those upon whom the success of the trip is dependent should, after all their labor and hardship, have to be content with one-third of the catch. It is obvious that if fish and brews can, by Act of Parliament, be placed on the bill of fare, it is equally obvious that an act to provide for half their hand could as easily have been made. This is commended to the gentlemen of the Legislative Council.

A correspondent in the Telegram of the 3rd inst., from Channel, signing himself "Equity," is guilty of a slight error. In his report of the concert given by the children of St. James' School, he states that at the distribution of prizes "a gold medal presented by the head teacher was awarded, etc." It was, as a matter of fact, a silver medal. This correction is made without prejudice.

No man should go to the ice without a bottle of Red Cross Oil. This Oil is simply invaluable in cases of chills, colds, cramps, pains, internal and external, strained muscles, and strained sinews, collapse. In fact, in every case in which a quick stimulant or pain relief is needed. Red Cross Oil, being very concentrated and strong is about the most economical, as well as the best thing of the kind to be had. Price 25c.
The Insect Powder put up under the label of the Insecticide Company of London, is carefully ground, and never gets damp or cakes, provided the tin be kept properly closed. It retains its full strength for a long time. Price 10 and 15 cents a tin.

A Paris firm has invented an ingenious method of signalling from aeroplanes. The device consists of a tube placed in such a position that a strong current of air from the propeller passes through it and is connected by a valve with a reservoir filled with soot. This valve can be operated by the passenger in the aeroplane in such a manner as to release either a large or small quantity of soot from the reservoir into the tube. The soot whirled out of the tube by the draught forms in the wake of the machine long or short streaks of black, by means of which messages can be given in the Morse code. The whole apparatus weighs not more than 9 lbs.

ALL NATIONS TO ENTER GLOBE-GIRDLING PANAMA-PACIFIC AVIATION RACE FOR $30,000.

Map Showing Principal Cities on Proposed Airship Race Route Around World.

The most tremendous aerial drama will be staged in 1915 when the signal is given for the 22,000-mile Panama-Pacific International Aviation race around the world for prizes of $300,000 or more. Aeronauts from all civilized nations with every description of air craft driven by motors will participate. The event will compare with the crossing of the Atlantic by Columbus and the circumnavigation of the globe by Magellan in 1522. Arnold Kruckman, chief of the Panama-Pacific exposition bureau of aeronautics, will start soon upon a trip around the world, traversing the entire route, to establish control points and confer with commissioners that will be appointed by the various nations. The functions of this commission will be clearly separate from the aeronautical supervision of the race, which will be under the jurisdiction of the Federation Aeronautique internationale. According to the present plan the commission will be composed of five men, whose selection will be placed in the hands of the President of the United States, the King of England, the President of France, the Emperor of Germany, the Czar, the Mikado and the Premier of British Columbia. The start of the race will be in May, 1915, from the aviation field of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Patrols of scout cruisers will be established to mark the trail over the oceans and lend assistance if needed. Each machine will carry at least two men and will check in at each control, where it will be stamped. Repairs and rebuilding will be permissible. Aviators are confident that by May, 1915, such progress will have been made that success will be assured. It is probable that by that time the scientific will have been crossed so successfully that the competitors will be given the choice of routes by mid-Atlantic or by way of Greenland. Circumnavigation of the globe will be the supreme adventure of our day.

A Business Affair.

She was a remarkably pretty girl; he a very busy man.
"You write the sweetest love-letters, dear," she said. "I do love to think that in the middle of all your business you remember me."
"Naturally, I don't forget you," he replied. "My secretary, a most capable young man, has orders to write you a letter for me to sign every morning."

"And the flowers and chocolates you send me twice a week are just my 'favorites'."
"That so?" I told my secretary to send them every Tuesday and Friday. Glad you like them. My secretary, as I said before, is a very capable young fellow."

Three months later the busy man was found gnashing his teeth in his office.

"Dash it!" he was saying. "I don't mind the fellow eloping with my girl, but it will take me months to break in another secretary!"

YOUR WHOLE BUSINESS.

You simply cannot carry, even the most important details of your business in your mind. But, as you are a good business man, you will insist on these details being always immediately available, so as to compare them with those of yesterday, last month, last year. The famous "Safe-guard" method, originated by the Globe-Wernicke Co., makes your files a live index of your business and keeps every record quickly and surely accessible. Are you not interested in this more efficient, more economical system? MR. PERCIE JOHNSON will be pleased to show you that this equipment will be of lifelong usefulness by arranging the record of your whole business right at your hand.

A Place of Comfort

IS THE CASINO.
The Casino Theatre was well patronized yesterday and the large audiences were delighted with the performances. The programme included a full reel of Williamson's Animated News; "The Pottery Industry," a most instructive picture; "What Might Have Been" is a pretty photo play depicting the outcome of evil associates and intemperance; "The Prosecuting Attorney" is a well acted film which gave general satisfaction. The "Eastern Cowboy" is a bright film. There was an extra reel "The Angel of the Desert" in place of the song. The show will be repeated to-day.

Toe The Line!

One of the states in the land of Uncle Sam is starting the New Year in fine style and with great endeavor by presenting every couple applying for a marriage license, with the following list of "Don'ts for Husband's":
Don't be boss.
Don't argue.
Don't try to show your importance.
Don't forget who you are, and who your wife is.
Don't be deceitful.
Don't be selfish, a spendthrift, or mean.
Don't forget that your wife's mother is the same to your wife as yours is to you.

Don't forget to wipe your boots before entering the house.
It remains to be seen whether any paragon of husbands will be evolved from such an exhortation.
The list of "Don'ts for Wives" is discreetly kept in the background.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GOUT IN COWS.

Knee Joint Stiff Three Years.

CURED BY NERVILINE.

Anyone would marvel at my recovery, writes Mr. Leonard Lotham, a young man well known about Chatham. I had inherited a rheumatic tendency through my mother's family, and in early days suffered frightfully. About three years ago the pain and stiffness settled in my left knee joint. I was lame and walked with a very distinct limp. Nerviline was brought to my notice and I rubbed it into the stiff joint four or five times a day. It dispelled every vestige of pain, reduced the swelling, took out the stiffness and gave me the full use of my limb again. I don't believe there is a pain-relieving remedy, not a single liniment that can compare with Nerviline. I hope every person with pains, with sore back, with lameness, with lumbago, with neuralgia—I do hope they will try out Nerviline which I am convinced will quickly and permanently cure them.
If Nerviline wasn't a wonderful painless remedy, if Nerviline didn't quickly relieve, if Nerviline wasn't known to be a grand cure for all rheumatic conditions, it wouldn't have been so largely used as a family remedy for the past forty years. No better, stronger or more soothing liniment made. Get the large 50c. family size bottle; small trial size 25c. sold by any dealer, anywhere.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen.—Theodore Dorais, a customer of mine, was completely cured of rheumatism after five years of suffering by the judicious use of MINARD'S LINIMENT.

The above facts can be verified by writing to him, to the Parish Priest or any of his neighbors.

HEALTHY AND UNHEALTHY LIGHTING.

Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not vitiate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:

Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this amongst other reasons that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.

He would merely add that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Duffield, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.

I have in my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with pleasure through a three hours' dinner, but which, with the march of civilization, had its illumination changed from gas to electricity, the latter being applied with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of asphyxiation.—Vivian B. Lewes, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—Nov 8, '11
