Western Notes.

With dead cables and the sounders silent, the cable office at Port aux Basques remains fully staffed, and as the annual renewal of fuel for the building is taking place, it does not appear that a closing up is about to occur. Is there any reason why this expensive office should continue to be maintained when it is no longer a public utility?

A fisherman belonging to Isle aux Morises was before the Magistrate at Channel a few days ago charged with having in his possession a part bottle of wine, the same being contrary to the Prohibition Act. On this count he was fined $100. On a further charge of smuggling the said wine and a few pounds of tobacco from St. Pierre, an additional fine of $75 was imposed, the alternative being one month's imprisonment for each case. Justice was certainly not tempered with mercy in these sentences.

The strike at Reids premises, Port aux Basques, is still on, and the men out declare their determination not to go back unless their demands are complied with, viz., 30 cents per hour for day labor and 40 cents for night. This strike would not have been, had the Company granted the rate originally asked, viz. 25 cents per hour (day) and 30 cents (night).

There is a fair supply of bait about Channel and vicinity at present and boats are making daily catches of from two to three quintals, when weather is favourable.

The bold bad burglar is abroad in the land. A few nights ago a member of this fraternity broke into the store of Frank Pike, Port aux Basques, and took away quantities of Bliscuit, Jam, Biscuits and other articles. When apprehended the following day, these articles were found in his possession. His trial takes place to-morrow (Tuesday), the 13th.

Thoughts Upon the Times

(By PATRIOT.)

It is now the middle of August and still there are no prices yet fixed for this year's fish. The fishery's attempt to limit the price to $12 per qtl. will be resented by every fisherman in the country. They know, as well as he does, that when everything is taken into consideration this is not a proper market value for fish. It does not represent a ten per cent. increase over last year's price. Codfish to-day is selling from $10 to 40 per cent. higher in the European markets than last year, then by all means let the fishermen have their proportional part of the increased profits. It is only fair. Why should Mr. Coaker's produce have increased in value a hundredfold. It would appear that the fishermen, with their great F. P. U. organization, are worse off now than ever they were before. Even their own President has attempted to fix the price of their produce at a figure below that which almost any buyer is prepared to pay for it. It is the unkindest cut of all.

Everything which Mr. Coaker and his merchant friends sell to the people have gone up in price, in some instances over 100 per cent. then why should not fish? The farmer's produce has increased in value a hundredfold. It would appear that the fishermen, with their great F. P. U. organization, are worse off now than ever they were before. Even their own President has attempted to fix the price of their produce at a figure below that which almost any buyer is prepared to pay for it. It is the unkindest cut of all.

The Earl of Devon has again been sent on the northern coastal route while the people keep crying out for the Prospero. What have the good people of the north done to deserve this unjust discrimination as compared with the people on the South West and West Coast? The people should demand an immediate explanation from Mr. Coaker and the sailors of the Union—Messrs. Cashin and Crosbie. They are the responsible parties.

Mr. Coaker, with the assistance of Sir Edward Morris, placed himself in the public position which he now occupies. For years he "fed us up" with the idea that no one could rule the country better than he could. He has now had twelve months' experience and is not measuring up to the standard which he led the people to expect of him. In fact he has disappointed even his most enthusiastic followers. Things political have gone from bad to worse. The country to-day is in the grasp of a combine worse than any which ever had control of our public affairs before. They do what they please, their own interests come first, the people's last. How long this state of affairs will last is problematical, but it will last just as long as public spirit remains dormant.

AN APOLOGY!—Oh, no! No apology is needed for Marsh's Wines, etc. They are guaranteed by the manufacturers, who also hold themselves responsible for the good quality of their product. Two shipments are expected daily. For sale at advertised prices.—Jly20,ead,lm

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

"Shower of Socks."

Miss Armorer Harris has kindly forwarded for publication the following extract from a letter written by her mother, Lady Harris, which will be read with much interest:

"I was invited to be present at St. James's Palace when the Silver Wedding gifts were presented to Her Majesty last Monday. There were three or four huge rooms packed with the many and various things that have been sent. They took three weeks to unpack and there are still articles awaiting transport from the docks."

"You never saw such a collection of useful and delightful things. Your socks from Newfoundland made a splendid wall reaching up ever so high in the room where the Queen made her speech, and I stood by them as Newfoundland's representative. Her Majesty shook hands and stood in astonishment, gazing up at the huge barrier of socks, and said, 'Wonderful—surely not all done by hand.' And I replied, 'Everyone, nearly 6,000 pairs—men, women and children of Newfoundland contributed.' She was very pleased and said again, 'It is wonderful.' One of the ladies of the Q.M.N.G. standing near me said, 'Newfoundland is wonderful, she has done well. I have just sent out 210 badges.'"

"The whole place was simply packed with beautiful things, all sorted and put together—beautiful blankets, gauze dressings, towels, scraps of all kinds, shirts galore, crutches, even beautiful books and any amount of games, and every conceivable thing that could be useful and give pleasure. 'Her Majesty made a tour of everything and all the presidents were presented to her later we were photographed.'"

Government House, Aug. 13.

THE LATEST DRINK is Marsh's Black Cherry Wine, made by the manufacturers of Marsh's "Par Excellence" Port Wine and soon to be placed on the local market. It's the nearest thing yet, and got more "go" in it than any other drink on the street.—Jly20,ead,lm

C. of E. Orphanage Garden Party.

The Church of England annual Garden Party, which was held yesterday afternoon at Exton, proved a big success. Among those present were the Governor, Miss Harris, Capt. Campbell, A.D.C., Lt.-Col. Knox-Vincent, Sir Jos. Outerbridge, Mayor Gosling, Hon. M. P. Cashin, Acting Premier Mr. R. B. Job and many other well-known citizens. The grounds were dotted with tables scattered around arranged in artistic profusion. There were fancy work stalls, and a Fair League stall, in charge of Miss Beattie White, daughter of the Lord Bishop. Mrs. Norman Alderdice and Mrs. Gordon Winter attended to the ice cream and Messrs. Arthur Gosling, Outerbridge and Carter looked after the drinks. The usual side shows, such as fortune telling, etc., were in evidence and were well patronized. The attendance was large and the receipts were up to expectations. The C. of E. Band was present during the afternoon and night and rendered some splendid musical airs.

GUESTS AT BALSAM PLAC: Miss Ora Johnson, Catalina; James McIntyre, City; John Rorkes, Carbonar; Rev. W. Swann, Brigus.
