Christians Perishing on Smyrna Seashore.

Britain to Put 100,000 Men in Disturbed Areas -- Turks Capture Greek Guns and Ammunition -- All British Available Forces Being Concentrated For Instant Action.

TRKISH CRUELTY.

MYTILENE, Sept. 20. (AP)—The British, French and Italian Consuls have telegraphed the Allied Commissioners in Constantinople the following:—"About two hundred thousand Christians still lying on the seashore at Smyrna awaiting help. The Turkish proclamation for war prisoners from seventeen to twenty-five means deliberately exposing Christians to death from hunger and massacre, as all identification papers have been burned. Unless pressure is immediately applied, nobody will survive. Please act promptly before too late."

A Constantinople despatch on Tuesday said permission to send vessels to Smyrna to take off Christian refugees had been granted by Mustafa Kemal Pasha to the Allied Powers, United States and the Greeks but that sales between fifteen and forty-five were expected, and it was presumed the Nationalists intended to use them for military purposes. A Smyrna despatch yesterday declared that Kemal had declined the request of the Allies to permit Greek ships to remove refugees, pending his submission of the matter to Ankara.

NO WAR.

PARIS, Sept. 21. There is a definite assurance that there will be no war and the calling of the Peace Conference for a settlement of the Turkish problem were the chief results of an Allied meeting here on Wednesday afternoon. Eight interested nations, including the Ankara Government will gather around the Peace table within three weeks, probably at Rome or Venice. These include Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Turkey, Greece, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

BRITISH IN STRENGTH.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20. All the British barracks here are evacuated and the troops are marching in streets headed for strategic points on the Straits. General headquarters issued an official order, directing the wives and families of British soldiers to prepare to embark tomorrow. Transports with reinforcements and supplies are already massed at the scene and the present British strength in Constantinople and the Dardanelles is estimated at sixteen thousand, while reinforcements now on way will increase these to seventy-five thousand effective. It is expected that shortly Britain will have one hundred thousand men in the disturbed areas.

Nationalist troops are already massed at the edge of neutral lines at Ismit and Chanak, and skirmishes are reported between advance patrols and British outposts near Chanak. General peile of the French Foreign Commission is in conference at Smyrna with Mustafa Kemal on the Turkish problem and the prolongation of their negotiations gives rise to a hope that the Turkish advance on the neutral zone will be delayed long enough to allow Britain to place reinforcements. It is understood that the French will police Constantinople and the Bosphorus, while the British defend the menaced areas.

BIG CAPTURE BY TURKS.

PARIS, Sept. 21. The Turks, in their campaign against Greeks, have captured a thousand field guns, five thousand machine guns and enough ammunition for two years campaign, according to French official advices from Kemal's headquarters.

MAY BOMBARD CHANAK.

LONDON, Sept. 21. British headquarters at Chanak have advised Christian, Moslem and Jewish civilians to evacuate the city, as it is likely to be shelled if the Kemalists attempt to enter, according to despatches from the Times Dardanelles correspondent.

THE BILL THAT FAILED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. The Soldiers Bonus Bill failed today, Wednesday, the Senate vote falling short of the necessary two-thirds majority. The vote was forty-four against twenty-eight, and came within a few hours after the House had passed the measure over the President's veto.

ROBERTS FOUND GUILTY.

YARMOUTH, Sept. 21. Omar Roberts was this afternoon found guilty of the murder of Flora Gray, his nineteen-year-old housekeeper, at North Kempenfelt on August 28, and will be sentenced on Friday.

PREPAREDNESS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21. The British are mobilising every available warehouse, man, horse, auto, cannon and rifle within reach of the troubled zone, and are preparing to meet a tremendous blow by land, sea and air if provoked by the Kemalists army, which, according to latest reports, is concentrating around Ismit and Chanak. Hamil Bey, Turkish representative here, told the Associated Press he was certain the Turkish army would declare war on the British if the latter attempted to interfere with the movements of Turkish troops across the Straits to Thrace.

SITUATION CLEARING.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21. The Near East situation is clearing, according to late cable despatches received by the Canadian Government from British authorities and from representatives at Geneva, according to the Prime Minister, after the close of a meeting on Wednesday evening. The messages from Britain were secret, and the text was not divulged.

Household Notes.

Save all the rubbish that accumulates during cooking—tea leaves, apple and potato parings, cabbage leaves, etc.—and wrap it up in a thick piece of damp newspaper, rolling it very tightly. Then put it on the fire with a little fine coal behind. This will burn brightly a long time.

A delicious relish is made with tomatoes and grapes. To 10 pounds sliced tomatoes add 1 pound seeded grapes, 4 pounds brown sugar, 1 quart vinegar, 1 tablespoonful pepper, 2 of cinnamon, 1 of cloves and a dash of mace and cayenne. The tomatoes should be cooked alone the last fifteen minutes.

Sour cream cookies are delicious for afternoon tea. Sift together two cups flour, three-eighths teaspoon soda, and one and a half teaspoons baking powder and a fourth teaspoon salt. To a well beaten egg add one cup sugar and three-fourths cup of thick sour cream. Then add the dry ingredients, and drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven.

Whistling Workers.
Happy is he who whistles at his work; happy she who sings at her task. There is the philosophy of contentment the spirit of happiness. I've been listening lately for these kinds of whistlers and singers and have found or rather heard, more than a few as I'm pencilling these words near a hotel kitchen. I can hear the cook humming a cheerful tune, keeping a court of time unconsciously to the clatter of the dishes, a singing worker in a hot kitchen, watching a roast and a steam pudding at the same time. Yesterday, our garbage man did his all important work of sanitation and health to a lively whistle tune, while I had grousched because it was the morning to carry the furnace ashes up the cellar steps to the alley-way. The newsboy at the corner can scarcely turn off his sharp-keyed whistle to cry his wares, he's so full of the joy of life and the fun of living, and selling papers. Our faithful maid sings a ditty of her own making whenever she's dusting the upstairs floor, and I've caught her humming an air between door ways. Blessed be the whistling, singing workers! They cheer me out of my grumpiness, like a street organ; they always say: be happy in your work and cheerful at your task, that's the way to convert work into play, and toil into fun. Join the happy throng who enjoy Edgeworth Tobacco.—sept 18, 21
