AMERICANS WIN POLO TROPHY.
WESTBURY, N.Y., Sept. 16. America's intrepid riders galloped to their second victory to-day over Great Britain's horsemen and clinched possession of the international challenge cup emblem of polo supremacy.

ments are progressing along the entire line and casualties continue to mount. The battle lines were apparently unchanged by the renewed fighting. The weather remains clear. In the foreign settlements of Shanghai everything remains quiet.

PRINCE WITNESSES ANOTHER POLO MATCH.
SYOSSET, N.Y., Sept. 16. The Prince of Wales will again sit in the royal box at Meadow Brook at 4 o'clock this afternoon and witness the second of polo matches between American and English teams. If the British team should win thus tying the score, the Prince will remain to see the final match but it is no secret that the servants in James A. Burden's home occupied by the Royal Party have been directed to get the luggage ready for departure Thursday night.

HOLLAND'S BUDGET TO BALANCE IN 1925.
THE HAGUE, Sept. 16. Re-opening Parliament in a speech from the Throne to-day, Queen Wilhelmina said there was a slight improvement in the country's economic outlook, and if the financial measures awaiting Parliament's sanction were approved, the budget would balance in 1925.

OFF AGAIN.
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 16. Their ships trimmed for the final stage of their journey, the army round the world fliers were ready at dawn to-day to hop off for Omaha, 440 miles away.

SHIP LADEN WITH ARMS HELD UP.
DURBAN, South Africa, Sept. 16. Customs authorities here are holding under armed guard the 1488-ton steamer, Nordmark, which sailed from Hamburg, its port of registry. One thousand rifles, a number of machine guns and a quantity of ammunition, all undeclared in the ship's papers, were discovered on board the vessel. It is assumed by the Customs officials that the war material was destined for a Chinese port.

ARCTIC EXPLORER WILL KEEP HIS APPOINTMENT.
WISCASSET, Me., Sept. 16. Captain Donald R. Mae Murray's Biggest Hit
THOUSANDS DELIGHTED WITH HIGH-CLASS FILM FEATURE.

Another large audience witnessed "The French Doll" at the Majestic Theatre last night, and everyone is speaking in glowing terms of this sensational subject. Society was well represented. The gorgeous display of gowns and jewelry as shown by the star, Mae Murray, was magnificent. The following is the cast in "The French Doll":
Georgine Mazuller Mae Murray
Wellington Wick Orville Caldwell
Pedro Carrows Rod La Rocque
Madame Mazuller Rose Dion
Monser Mazuller Paul Caseneuve
Joseph Dumas Willard Louis
Snyder Bernard Randall
Butler Lucien Littlefield

Miss Murray, as Georgine, the little madcap of Paris, whirls through scenes of unparalleled splendor in the French capital, in New York and Palm Beach. She wears $100,000 worth of gowns and does the most sensational dancing of her career.

"The French Doll" is the story of a little, joyous French maiden who is brought to this country by her unscrupulous parents to aid them in disposing of false antique furniture. Her exquisite charm is to be the chief aid. Miss Murray, quite unconscious of what the real business of her parents may be, really helps to dispose of many dollars' worth of "antiques" until one day, walking in the park, her dog runs after a squirrel, dragging her violently after, so that she is almost seriously injured, when in the nick of time there appears Wellington Wick a wealthy fish packer.

"The French Doll" will be repeated this afternoon and night, when every lover of the silent drama should see it. Keep in mind "Cordelia the Magnificent."

Why Women Look 60 at 40
With dark circles under their eyes, sallow complexions, drawn expressions, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty. In many cases this condition is caused by overwork or neglect of such warning symptoms as headaches, backache, nervousness, displacements, and irregularities which indicate ailments peculiar to women. If all women so afflicted would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it would restore them to a normal healthy condition, and the premature signs of age will soon disappear.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

HIS JOURNAL OF A JOURNEY TO THE SOUTH WEST COAST.

Sept. 7th (Lord's Day)—This afternoon, walking to Port au Bras, the weather mighty cold, and turns to rain, so getting wet, I home as quick as I may go.

This night, with Povey and Mr. Bartlett, to church, and Mr. Meaden preaches a good sermon which I hear to my great content. Anon to supper with him and his good lady, and much pleasant discourse.

But Lord, going home, the rain simply pouring from the skies in torrents, and all of us drenched to the very skin.

Sept. 8th.—This day I to take out a dory and row about the harbor of Burin, but suffer great pain from blisters of my hand, albeit the exercise does me much good.

At night, with Povey to Mr. Bartlett's, where good entertainment, and the evening passes with cards and much merriment. Anon, the Fortin coming in, Povey and I to take our departure, yet leave Burin with the greatest regret.

Sept. 9th.—The weather fine all this day and the ship makes good progress. Coming to Grand Bank, we did see a banking vessel of Mr. Patten's, much damaged in the storm of a few days since, and will greatly delay her voyage. On our way, we pass a French banking vessel, the Raymond, which did go ashore near Fortune, and nine of her crew lost. Many butts of good claret on her, and some of those saved, to the great content of those that obtained it.

This day, meeting Mr. Ambrose, an Anglican parson, that travels on behalf of the Bible Society, to have much pleasant-discourse with him.

Sept. 10th.—This night, Mr. Carmichael and Mr. Ambrose do organize a concert in aid of the Marine Disasters Fund. The programme a good one, and in particular, Mickey Gall, the steward, causes great merriment with his rendering of Gallagher and Shean. A collection being made, a goodly amount collected, which Mr. Carmichael will send to the Dally News.

Sept. 11th.—Coming to Gaultois this day, Povey and I amuse ourselves all the afternoon fishing for tom cods over the wharf, and I bring in the largest catch, which pleases me mightily. So the steamer making good progress all the day, we come to Burgeo at 5 in the morning, where Povey and I to disembark.

Sept. 12th.—Coming to Gaultois this day, Povey and I amuse ourselves all the afternoon fishing for tom cods over the wharf, and I bring in the largest catch, which pleases me mightily.
