

City in Brief

A meeting of the finance committee of the city council will be held in the city hall on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Hon. C. W. Cross, provincial attorney general, and Mrs. Cross, passed through Calgary yesterday en route to Banff to spend a few days' vacation.

O. M. Biggar, of the law firm of Short, Cross, Biggar & Woods, Edmonton, is in the city, registered at the Elks George.

The regular monthly meeting of the Calgary Ladies Aid will be held this afternoon at the Victoria Methodist Church.

James Short, of the law firm of Short, Cross and Selwood, has just returned to the city after a two months' vacation in eastern Canada.

Georgia Stevenson was fined $50 and costs yesterday for obstructing the police while the officers were arresting her husband, William Stevenson.

William Bonner and George Yates were each fined $100 and cost by Magistrate Sanders yesterday for selling liquor at Victoria Park during the Stampede.

Mayor Mitchell, Alderman Whaley, Alderman Samis, and Alderman Ramsay have been appointed civic representatives at the meeting of the union of Alberta municipalities which will be held in Innisfail today.

During Stampede week there were 160 arrests of drunks and disorderlies. The magistrate imposed light fines, ranging from $1 to $5 and cost. The fines and cost for the 162 arrests amounted to $315.

The Home Reunion association will hold a meeting on Thursday night at the Board of Trade rooms for the purpose of receiving and non-support. The telephone from those who wish to bring their families out from the old country.

James Shoultice called upon the commissioners yesterday asking that the construction of the electric lighting system to Coronation Park be made. The commissioners are taking up the question with City Electrician Brown.

For driving a motor car while under the influence of liquor, John Burdard was fined $20 and cost yesterday morning by Magistrate Sanders, who stated that the offence was a very serious one, and he was sorry the law did not provide for a heavier penalty.

A meeting of the civic centre committee will be held on Friday evening at the offices of the town planning commission in the city hall. The members of the committee are: Alderman Samis, Alderman Morfit, Alderman Ramsay, and Alderman Riley will meet in conjunction with the executive committee of the commission.

Something new in the building line in Calgary has been commenced at Hillhurst. This is a bungalow terrace, which it is believed is the first of its kind ever built in Alberta. The terrace is in the nature of three rooms and bath suite, and will cost nearly $25,000. The design was made by Hubble Kelly and company of this city.

Tonight there will be a gathering of special interest at the Salvation Army hall on First street east, when Colonel Mapp, for four years the Army's chief secretary for the Dominion of Canada, will say farewell. He will be assisted by Colonel Pugmire, Major McLean and a number of other officers from surrounding corps. The Silver Concert band will be in attendance. It is announced that Lieut. Colonel Macdonald, of the West Indian regiment, has been appointed to succeed Colonel Mapp.

NINE NEW CLASSES ADDED TO TECHNICAL WORK

Calgary Technical Education Committee Decided Upon Work for First Term

Many Changes Are Made From Last Year With a View to Added Public Benefit

The Calgary Technical Education committee has decided to add nine new classes to its work in connection with the fall term, which will be started in the course of a week or two.

Many changes are to be made from that of last year, all of which the committee hope to be beneficial to the public.

The new subjects will be: Electro-technics, first and second year; applied mechanics, advanced building construction, shorthand, typewriting, painting and decorating, second year; mechanical drawing, preliminary; heating and ventilation, commercial arithmetic.

Same Courses as Last Year.

The following courses which were held last year will again be a part of the coming winter's work: Machine drawing, first and second year; drawing for house carpenters, plumbing and sanitation, elementary building construction, sheet metal drafting; painting and decorating, first year; shop mathematics, business English, practical arithmetic, cookery and household science.

Electrotechnics, Bertram James, R. Sc. and Chas. Pilgrim; typewriting, J. C. McNab, B.A.; commercial arithmetic, J. C. McNab, B.A.; shorthand, Mrs. A. Hollingshead; business English, Mrs. A. Hollingshead; mechanical drawing, J. E. Hanning; household science, Miss G. Borden; Miss A. Morrison, and Miss M. A. Stewart; machine drawing, first year, Chas. Howarth; machine drawing, second year, Major de Kam; shop mathematics, H. B. Pearson; building construction, first year, T. B. Kilmer; building construction, second year, Chas. Hay, A. A.; applied mechanics, J. M. Hutchinson, B. A.; house carpentering, drawing, C. W. Fain; business English, A. T. Jewitt, A. C. P.; practical arithmetic, A. T. Jewitt, A. C. P.; painting and decorating, E. T. Heywood; sheet metal drafting, W. J. Pampin; plumbing and sanitation, A. J. Asherton; heating and ventilation, A. J. Asherton; drafting room assistants, D. Sheldrick and W. A. Branton.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

FUN FOR EVERYBODY

FATHER WOULD LIKE TO KNOW AS WELL

ON his birthday little Freddy received a present of a beautiful model steam-engine from grandpa. He played with it until he managed to break the wheels off.

Mother was very angry with him, and talked to him severely on his roughness. Then she punished him by putting him in the corner.

When father came home he found his little man with suspiciously red eyes.

"Hullo, sonny," he cried cheerily. "What's the trouble?"

"Oh nothing," replied "sonny." "But look here, old chap," said father kindly. "Tall me I want to know."

Freddy's lips quivered as he answered: "Well, if you must know, I've just been having a row with your wife!"

THEIR LITTLE WAITS.

"Why are you sobbing, my little man?"

"My pa's a millionaire philanthropist."

"Well, well, that's nothing to cry about."

"It ain't, ain't it? He's just promised to give me $25 to spend on my birthday, provided I raise a similar amount."

NOTHING SERIOUS.

"Heaven's! Just think! Every time I breathe a human being dies!"

"Why not use gloves, then?"—New York World.

A CHILD OF PARTS.

TEN months old, large and lusty, the Smiths' first baby was the apple of their eye. His name was John, but they called him "Johnnie" for long, and there never was such an infant in the whole wide world.

"He is a genius!" cried Mrs. Smith. "I feel it!"

"He will become an inventor," said Mr. Smith, "for he is so original."

"Or a soldier," suggested Mrs. Smith. "The ter- for he is so beautiful!"

"Or a musician," guessed Mr. Smith, "for his voice reminds me of the music of Mendelssohn."

"Or a soldier," suggested Mr. Smith. "He is so active!"

"Or a great politician," exclaimed Mr. Smith, with enthusiasm.

"But why a politician?" queried the wife, in rather disappointed tones.

"Because my dear," came the reply, "he draws out of everything so easily!"

MORE TROUBLE!

HUBBY: "I dreamed last night that your mother was ill."

WIFE: "Brute! I heard you laugh in your sleep!"

A REAL BELIEVER IN SMALL HOLDINGS.

THE Local Politician (arguing on small holdings): "Yes, sir, if I owned the whole world, I'd be willing to give it all away for a little piece of land I could call my own."—The Watch Dog.

LIBERAL LEADER PAYS FIRST VISIT HERE SINCE 1887

(Continued from Page 1)

Mr. Munro-Ferguson spoke freely of the war scare prevalent in the Old Country, though he declared that he did not care to express an opinion on Canada so far as naval matters were concerned.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

FATHER WOULD LIKE TO KNOW AS WELL

ON his birthday little Freddy received a present of a beautiful model steam-engine from grandpa. He played with it until he managed to break the wheels off.

Mother was very angry with him, and talked to him severely on his roughness. Then she punished him by putting him in the corner.

When father came home he found his little man with suspiciously red eyes.

"Hullo, sonny," he cried cheerily. "What's the trouble?"

"Oh nothing," replied "sonny." "But look here, old chap," said father kindly. "Tall me I want to know."

Freddy's lips quivered as he answered: "Well, if you must know, I've just been having a row with your wife!"

THEIR LITTLE WAITS.

"Why are you sobbing, my little man?"

"My pa's a millionaire philanthropist."

"Well, well, that's nothing to cry about."

"It ain't, ain't it? He's just promised to give me $25 to spend on my birthday, provided I raise a similar amount."

NOTHING SERIOUS.

"Heaven's! Just think! Every time I breathe a human being dies!"

"Why not use gloves, then?"—New York World.

A CHILD OF PARTS.

TEN months old, large and lusty, the Smiths' first baby was the apple of their eye. His name was John, but they called him "Johnnie" for long, and there never was such an infant in the whole wide world.

"He is a genius!" cried Mrs. Smith. "I feel it!"

"He will become an inventor," said Mr. Smith, "for he is so original."

"Or a soldier," suggested Mrs. Smith. "The ter- for he is so beautiful!"

"Or a musician," guessed Mr. Smith, "for his voice reminds me of the music of Mendelssohn."

"Or a soldier," suggested Mr. Smith. "He is so active!"

"Or a great politician," exclaimed Mr. Smith, with enthusiasm.

"But why a politician?" queried the wife, in rather disappointed tones.

"Because my dear," came the reply, "he draws out of everything so easily!"

MORE TROUBLE!

HUBBY: "I dreamed last night that your mother was ill."

WIFE: "Brute! I heard you laugh in your sleep!"

A REAL BELIEVER IN SMALL HOLDINGS.

THE Local Politician (arguing on small holdings): "Yes, sir, if I owned the whole world, I'd be willing to give it all away for a little piece of land I could call my own."—The Watch Dog.

LIBERAL LEADER PAYS FIRST VISIT HERE SINCE 1887

(Continued from Page 1)

Mr. Munro-Ferguson spoke freely of the war scare prevalent in the Old Country, though he declared that he did not care to express an opinion on Canada so far as naval matters were concerned.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

Charged With Desecration.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Abe Hackett of Third avenue east, on information laid by his wife, Emma Hackett, charging him with wife desecration and non-support. The police claim that Hackett is still in the city and living with his wife, Emma. The police also state that Mrs. Hackett is almost destitute.

SHOOK HIM.

A YOUTH who thought that he had become pretty intimate with a certain maiden, persistently begged her to accept his hand in marriage. Here is a bit of conversation between them which was watched by an unintentional listener a few nights ago.

"I assure you," he commenced, "that I will not take 'no' for an answer."

"You need not take 'no' for an answer," was her reply. "I will answer 'yes' on one condition only."

He was all impatience to hear what the question was she wanted him to ask, and this was her gentle reply: "Just ask me if I am firmly determined not to marry you in any circumstances."

DOING JURY DUTY.

"EVER been locked up?" demanded counsel.

"Aha! And what had you been doing to get yourself locked up?"

"I had been doing jury duty."

ROMANTIC DAYS.

"Oh, father, I should like a bath."

Father: "Ah, my boy, when I was young like you, I too, was romantic."

STRAIGHT FROM THE ANIMAL.

A CITY gentleman having taken a small farm in the country as being the correct thing to do, as well as to get a little fresh air, had invited some of his friends down to see his new possession.

Having viewed the domain, and noting the absence of creature-life about the place, one of his friends remarked: "With a nice open place like this, I wonder you don't have some animals about, as is usual on a farm; some cows, for instance, so as to have your own butter and cream."

"No-o," drawled his host, "don't care about butter or cream."

"Some chickens or ducks, then. You surely like fresh eggs."

"No-o. Don't care for eggs. But I've sometimes thought I'd like a sheep. I rather like kidneys for breakfast."

SURELY THE SPIDERS.

"JANE, I've told you over and over again I will have cleanliness; yet why is it I am always finding cobwebs on the drawing room ceiling?"

"I think it must be the spiders, miss."

VERY UNLUCKY.

"What a shame to think of them digging up earth in that way!"

"What do you mean?" asked his companion.

"Well," said the other, "that machine is taking the bread out of the mouths of hundreds of laborers who could do their work with their picks and shovels."

"Right you are, Barney," said the other fellow.

Just then a man who had been looking on remarked:

"Look here, you fellows, if that digging would give work to a hundred men with shovels and picks, why not get a thousand men and give them teaspoons to do the job?"

The Irishmen, to their credit, saw the force of the remark, and joined heartily in the laugh that followed.

POOR SISTER SUE.

SIX years was his age, and he had gone out to his first party. He had enjoyed himself immensely, and the only disappointment was that he hadn't been able to take sister Sue with him, as she had a bad cold.

"Now, Freddy," said his hostess to him, as he was about to take his departure, "I want you to take this box of chocolates home to your sister, and here's another for yourself for your trouble."

Freddy, like a well-behaved boy, thanked her nicely, and trotted off home with his nurse, the two boxes of chocolates clutched tightly in his two fat little hands.

"Unfortunately, he hadn't taken hold of nurse's hand, and he stumbled and fell, so that one box of chocolates spread themselves on the dirty, muddy pavement."

Freddy picked himself up, and looked at the box intact in his hand, then he looked at the one in the mud, and said: "Poor Sue!" said he.

Sunshine in Moose Jaw.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Sept. 10.—A day of perfect sunshine gave a great boost to harvesting operations in this district. Reports most favorable, the rain of last week not having penetrated the sheaves and being all dried out with two days' sunshine. Eighty per cent of the crop is cut, and the balance, with the exception of a little flax, will be down before the end of the week. Thrashing has commenced, and the first load of grain came into the city this morning. It looks like No. 1 northern. The weather is clear and calm.

Carpenters Strike.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Sept. 10.—The local carpenters, numbering 450, went out on strike at noon today. They intimated to the masters that their terms

HE LOOKS LIKE IT

INSPECTOR (taking the charge)—The prisoner is charged with window-smashing.

P.C.—"Yessir!"

Inspector—"With a hammer!"

P.C.—No, sir—with me!—London Opinion.

FINALITY THEY QUARRELED.

"I LOVE you, darling, more than you love me," sighed the swain.

"Ah, that is impossible, precious," she whispered back, "for I love you better than you do me."

"You cannot!"

"But I do!" he argued.

"When I say a thing I stick to it!" she snapped.

An owl shifted uneasily above them. "Pardon me, Gwendolene!"

"Pardon me, Eustace!"

"Miss Brown!"

"Mr. Jones!"

The owl hooted dismally and sought another bower.

A MILKMAID.

"YOU have too much rouge on, my dear, to enact properly a milkmaid."

"Have I, sir? But I thought a milkmaid should be rosy-cheeked!"

"On the contrary, a milkmaid is naturally a pall girl."

DANGEROUS.

"DON'T you think that we ought to keep a diary?" asked Mrs. Jilks of her husband.

"It would certainly be a good idea, Gertrude," said Mr. Jilks, meditatively, "but I am afraid that if we put in all the fights we have in a year's time it will look like a scrap-book."

NOT ON PURPOSE.

"TELL me, how did you come to get hit by that auto?"

"I didn't come to get hit by it. I came to see my nephew at the blamed thing bumped me!"—Fun.

NOT DANGEROUS.

"PAT—I hear your wife is sick, Mother Mike—She is that."

"Pat—is it dangerous she is?"

"Mike—Not at all. She's too weak to be dangerous any more."

THEY CAME OFF.

"I asked her why her lips were ruby red."

"New yours are."