OBITUARY .- We regret to announce he death of Donald McFarlane, for a number of years Clerk of the Township of Ekfrid, at the age of 63. Mr. Mc-Farlane had been suffering from an attack of rheumatic fever for the past five months, and although his recovery was doubtful, his decease, which took place yesterday morning, was rather unexpected. He had been Assessor in be same township during the year 1836; and had also been Assessor and seldom been equalled. Subscribe at once as then Reeve of the Township of North the offer will be continued but a short time. Dorchester. Mr. McF. was well-known throughout the western country as a skilled mechanic, having built the military barracks at London, in 1836,and a number of bridges, and other works. His free and hearty manner gained for him a large number of friends throughout the country; and by his death we lose one of the most popular of the early residents of this western part. The funeral will take place to-

A collision took place on the Great Western Railway, about three miles east of Windsor, early on Tuesday morning. A west bound freight train ran into another, which could not be seen on account of the dense fog. Nobody was hurt; but one engine, one caboose, and four freight cars were demolished. The loss will amount to over $5,000. Traffic was not interrupted to any extent, as a sufficient number of men were on hand to clear away the debris.
