

Frightful Stomach Trouble

For Four Long Years He Suffered—Then "Fruit-a-lives" Brought Relief.

Stratford Centre, Wolfe Co., Que. May 11th, 1908.

I have been completely cured of a frightful condition of my stomachs through this wonderful medicine, "Fruit-a-lives." I suffered for four long years with this trouble. My head ached incessantly. I could not eat anything but what I suffered awful pains from indigestion. I used every known remedy and was treated by physicians, but the dyspepsia and headaches persisted in spite of the treatment.

I was told to try "Fruit-a-lives," and I sent for six boxes, and this was the only medicine that did me any good. I am now entirely well. I can eat ordinary food and I never have a headache, and for the relief I thank this wonderful remedy "Fruit-a-lives." My case is well known in this vicinity and you may publish this statement.

DARWIN'S MEMORY TO BE HONORED TODAY

Cambridge, Eng., June 23.—Scientists representing all the learned institutions of the world have gathered here on the occasion of the observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Charles Robert Darwin.

The celebrations will begin this evening and last for three days. A total of 225 universities and learned bodies including thirty of the most famous institutions of America and an equal number in Germany have nominated representatives and the leaders of each delegation will present their addresses today.

The gift of America, a bust of Darwin, also will be presented today.

Montreal, June 22.—It was learned yesterday that Lorne McGibbon, a leading business man of this city, had decided to give $125,000 for the erection and equipment of a sanatorium for tuberculosis treatment, to be erected at St. Agathe, in the Laurentian mountains. Mr. McGibbon was a couple of years ago a sufferer from the disease, and by advice of physicians spent much time in the Adirondacks, with the result that he was cured, and he is now interested in doing something for those less fortunately placed than himself.

FIFTY YEARS OF CHURCH LIFE IN WEST

Half Century Tomorrow Since Consecration of British Columbia's First Anglican Bishop

The fiftieth anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Hills, the first Bishop of British Columbia, will be celebrated tomorrow. It will be accompanied by appropriate services at Christ Church Cathedral.

Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 o'clock in the forenoon; at 9 o'clock breakfast will be served in the school room and at 10 Matins will be sung. A conference on provincial organization will take place commencing at 10.30 o'clock presided over by the Right Rev. Bishop Perrin, D.D.

A garden party will be held on the grounds of Bishopsclose in the afternoon and in the evening there will be special services at the church. For the occasion the Bishop's residence has been prepared. The massed choirs of the Anglican churches of the city will head a procession of visiting and local clergy from Bishopsclose to the Cathedral. Those attending the sessions of the Clericus, now in progress, including four Bishops will be present.

His Lordship Bishop Perrin will preach a suitable sermon. It is expected that he will refer to the importance of the event in the church history of British Columbia, that reference will be made to the marked progress and extension of the church's work and influence in the Canadian West during the past fifty years, and that for all blessings the speaker will return the most heartfelt thanks.

That there will be a large attendance of Victorians, both of members of the congregation and visitors, is assured. It is the intention to devote the offertory towards the augmentation of the building fund for a new Cathedral.

From One to Four.

Fifty years ago there was but one diocese. Today there are four: Columbia, New Westminster, Kootenay, and Caledonia. Fifty years ago when Bishop Hills was consecrated there was but one parish. Within the half century Christ Church has extended its borders. Today there are within Victoria and vicinity several parishes. St. James, at James Bay, with Rev. J. H. S. Sweet, rector; St. John's, Douglas street, Rev. Percival Jena, rector, and Rev. A. J. Stanley, rector; St. Mark's, Boleskin road; St. Barnabas, Spring Ridge, Rev. E. G. Miller, rector. At Westminster Abbey, on February 24, 1859, Bishop Hills was consecrated, but his departure for Victoria was delayed until the following November of the same year. But the intervening period was spent in good purpose. A canvass for men and money to carry on the good work in the distant land was made, and was met with enthusiasm and ready response. By the generosity of Miss Burdett-Coutts, afterwards the famous Baroness Burdett-Coutts, it was found possible to undertake the work, she contributing a sum to endow the new bishopric and two archdeacons. The day before Bishop Hills departed from the Old Country to assume his new duties in his distant diocese, a great meeting was held at the Mansion House to bid him farewell, and many prophecies of the growth of the work under the direction of Bishop Hills and the future greatness of the church in the new land were made.

The arrival of Bishop Hills on these shores saw an energetic start made in the work, which has continued ever since. There have been hard times experienced, but all difficulties have been surmounted, and the courage and faith shown by Bishop Hills and his successors in the high office have triumphed.

Theological College.

By none has this faith in the greatness of the Anglican Church in this province been shown more than by the present head of the diocese, Right Reverend Bishop Perrin, Bishop of Columbia, who, in 1883, arrived in Victoria to take up the great work of his predecessor. The aggressive force he has shown in the development of the moral and spiritual life of the church in British Columbia, of which he has oversight, and the keen interest he has shown in everything which tends to the uplifting of the community at large and the well-being of the people, has stamped him as a leading spirit and a man of undoubted power in the councils of his church.

To commemorate the jubilee of Bishop Hills a movement was recently launched at the Mansion House, London, which will be of great interest to British Columbians. This is the establishment of a theological college in connection with the Provincial University when that institution shall have been organized. The college will be known as St. Mark's College. Rev. W. H. P. Arden, a leader in the movement in England, was at one time incumbent at St. Mark's Church, here in the early days. It is proposed to attach St. Mark's College to the university as a self-governing college, to be on the same basis as the colleges of the Presbyterians and other denominations.

The proposal to found such a college is in line with the progressive spirit shown by the Anglican people of this province and the consummation of such a scheme will prove a worthy jubilee effort.

Reported Lieut. Noble and Company of Constabulary Came Upon Philipino Mutineers and Cleaned Up Some Manila, June 23.—According to news received today, Lieutenant Noble, with a company of the 22nd Constabulary, struck part of the Pavao mutineers on the 18th, and killed Sergeant Acadima, leader of the mutiny, in the ensuing fight.

Sergeant Heyson, of the American forces, who killed the mutineer chief, was wounded during the fighting. The pursuit of the mutineers, who have divided into two bands, continues and five of the rebels have been captured at various points along the coast, two of whom are wounded, to be accounted for.

LETTUCE WASH THE TABLE LETTUCE

Paris Green is on the Lower Leaves and They Should Be Carefully Cleaned

Let us eat lettuce by all means; but let us make sure to wash it thoroughly first.

This is the advice given by doctors in the general hospital now, after having traced down the cause of several cases of sudden illness to Paris Green poisoning.

Yesterday a girl employed in a local store became very ill shortly after lunch and investigation showed that she was suffering from poisoning. Further examination discovered Paris Green as the particular poison.

The explanation is that the truck gardeners use this poison in solution to spray the soil around the greens for the purpose of killing the vermin that attack the roots. Some of the solution is often inadvertently sprinkled on the leaves and unless this is carefully washed off by the consumer is strong enough to create serious results.

Therefore lettuce eat lettuce but lettuce first wash it!

TRAIN HELD UP BY MASKED MEN

C. P. R. Westbound Express Stopped Near Ducks—No Booty Secured

Vancouver, June 22.—Half a dozen masked desperadoes held up C. P. R. westbound express train No. 87 just before it reached the town of Ducks. The train was stopped for about ten minutes last night, punched holes in the express cars, and falling to find anything of value. The train was then allowed to proceed to the north side of Shuswap Lake.

It is believed by some of the railway men that the robbers intended to hold up train No. 5, the express from St. Paul, which had picked up at Revelstoke some silver bullion shipped from the Orient. The St. Paul train carried about ninety bars of this bullion, worth about $35 a bar, the aggregate value of the shipment being about $3,000.

This theory, however, is discredited in some quarters, it being pointed out that the weight of the silver was over 6,000 pounds and its intrinsic value was not sufficiently great to make it worth an attempt to rob it. The robbers would have needed a train of a hundred mules to have carried the loot away.

The more generally accepted theory is that the hold-ups were new at the business and were not in possession of information as to the value of the bullion. The robbers made up their minds to hold up No. 5 express train could easily have done so. It was running over twenty-five minutes ahead of No. 87.

Westbound No. 87 reached Vancouver at 11.30 p.m. last night. She should have arrived at 9.15 o'clock but was delayed by the hold-up. The gap between the express and the St. Paul train carried about ninety bars of this bullion, worth about $35 a bar, the aggregate value of the shipment being about $3,000.

Two masked men crawled over the side of the train and fired at the locomotive. The train stopped and the men jumped suddenly down on the floor of the cab. They then compelled obedience on the part of the engineer and firemen at whose heads they leveled revolvers.

Only a few minutes elapsed from the time these instructions were delivered before the fire came into view around a bend in the track. The engineer, still with a revolver pointed at his head, slowed down and finally the long transcontinental express came to a standstill. The locomotive standing within 100 feet of the fire which the other members of the holdup gang had lit beside the track.

One of the men masked and armed with a rifle, ran in the direction of the locomotive as soon as the train stopped. The man fired two shots in the air as he ran, evidently for the sole purpose of intimidating any of the train crew or passengers whose curiosity might tempt them to put their heads out of the coaches to see what the trouble was.

These were the only shots fired during the hold-up. The whole thing was over and the train started on its way again within twenty minutes. The leader of the robbers, a man in a dark coat, was seen to take an axe and break in the panelling along the sides of the three express cars. He then went to the rear of the train and threw his head into the cars were knocked through the panels.

This method of investigation failed to discover anything of value and in a very few minutes the men decamped in the direction of the lake, disappearing in the darkness before they were fairly off the right of way. Subsequent investigation showed that the robbers had a boat in waiting and in it they crossed to the north side of the lake. There is no clue to the identity of the hold-ups save that it is believed that two suspicious characters who spent several days in Kamloops last week were probably members of the gang. A posse was sent in pursuit from Kamloops.

The holdups made a mistake in the train, if it was the 6,000 pounds of silver ingots they were after. The train No. 87, which was held up carried no valuables except some through express packages of very little value.

But on the preceding train, No. 5, according to information given this morning by the Dominion Express company, the silver and money chest was carried. No. 5, the train with the valuables, passed Ducks Station at 20.44, while the one the robbers mistook for it arrived at about 21.56, the scheduled time.

MR. HARRIMAN'S HEALTH

Vienna Physician Says There Is Nothing Seriously Wrong With Railway Magnate

Vienna, June 22.—Accompanied by the members of his family, E. H. Harriman left Vienna this afternoon for the Semmering, a mountain resort about fifty miles from the Austrian capital. The party will stay at the Hotel Hanhans, and probably will return to Vienna in a few weeks. Mr. Harriman's condition was reported today as good. Prof. Strempel, Mr. Harriman's physician, was questioned today regarding his patient. He said the magnate's condition was neither alarming nor dangerous. He is affected with a nervous ailment, but not of a serious character, and he will have to undergo a prescribed cure. The professor said Mr. Harriman felt well and was able to attend to his business duties. Dr. Holznacht has taken an X-ray photo of Mr. Harriman which corroborates the diagnosis of Prof. Strempel.

MORAL WELFARE OF YOUTHFUL VICTORIA

That the public does not evince proper interest in the conduct and the achievements of the primary objects of the Children's Aid Society is the opinion of Rev. Herman Carson, pastor of the First Congregational Church who, at yesterday's afternoon meeting of the organization, was elected to a place on the executive committee.

Rev. Mr. Carson thinks it a crying shame that such a body, one that the law clothes with authority to safeguard the moral and material welfare of those of the rising generation who are not adequately cared for by parents or guardians, should have difficulty in procuring the funds for its work at its annual meeting.

If the public spirited citizens took a healthy and active interest in the Children's Aid Society the reverend gentleman believes that it could undertake work of much greater benefit to the community.

That something could be done to help young, untrained girls of the streets at night, that an effort might be made to find employment and homes for the precocious youths found at large at all hours of the day and night, and that the organization here of a juvenile court also might be attempted are some of the reforms which Rev. Mr. Carson asserts come within the jurisdiction of the Children's Aid Society. And he most emphatically announces that the time has arrived for that body to overcome its lethargy and to wrestle with and solve these problems.

The first thing to be done, he points out is to strengthen the society numerically and financially. Once its life has been revived he believes that it would be possible to appoint an officer in Victoria who would have his time well occupied in attending to the welfare of waifs and strays and youthful girls and boys, who, apparently, have got beyond the control of their parents or those who nominally have them in charge. Such an official would have sweeping authority under the provincial act and would be able, backed up by public opinion, to curb the growing habit of street parades and other reprehensible customs.

The result, Rev. Mr. Carson contends, would be generally beneficial.

The ultimate aim of the campaign, he should be the morning. She should have arrived at 9.15 o'clock but was delayed by the hold-up. The gap between the express and the St. Paul train carried about ninety bars of this bullion, worth about $35 a bar, the aggregate value of the shipment being about $3,000.

A special court to deal with youthful offenders and some home where they might be sent, given proper care and opportunity to learn a trade, thus arming them to meet life's battle later on, he thinks would mean a marked improvement in the moral tone of the community.

At yesterday's meeting of the Children's Aid Society officers were elected as follows: President, Charles Hayward; vice-president, C. E. Redfern; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Grant; treasurer, F. C. Gregory; auditor, James Rayner; executive committee, Rev. Bishop Ordridge, Rev. W. Leslie Clay, Rev. Herman Carson, W. Blakemore, Mrs. Spofford, Mrs. Clyde, Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Gavin Burns.

HER HARD LOT

Woman Walks Seventy-five Miles With Two Children to Find Means of Existence

Edmonton, June 22.—A little woman, with features pinched from lack of nourishment and clothes dragged from long wear, with two children, one in arms, the other of scarcely six summers, the family of a half-starved homesteader on Paddle river, who had sent them on foot to the city in search of some means to maintain a bare existence, were found in an exhausted condition in a little shack on the river bank last evening. They had been lying there all day and most of the preceding night with no bite to eat. After satisfying their appetites their rest was taken to a place of comfort. The mother lay in her arms and dragging the six-year-old boy after her, the brave woman who tramped the entire seventy-five miles into the city, occupying four days on the trip,

BODIES OF CLERGY TO BE REINTERRED

Winnipeg, June 22.—The re-interment of the bodies of the late Archbishops Tache and Provencher, Bishop Faneau, Fathers Maisonneuve and Milbado will take place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the new cathedral at St. Boniface.

The bodies of these distinguished churchmen were at the time of their decease buried in the channel of the old cathedral, and at the time of the demolition of that edifice the remains were removed to the new cathedral, where they have been awaiting the preparation of a suitable and appropriate resting place. The bodies will be placed in the crypt of the new cathedral with all the pomp and ritualistic rites pertaining to the church.
