The stationing committee of London Methodist Conference completed the first draft of stations without an allnight session this year and gave out the list at 11 o'clock last night. In the main, invitations accepted by ministers were respected, though in a number of instances the interests of the church evidently required otherwise. The total number of changes is somewhat less than usual. The appointment of Rev. William Conway to succeed Rev. W. L. Hiles at Highgate is only alteration in Ridgetown district, while in Sarnia district but two ministers are moved, and in Strathroy district three.

London and St. Thomas districts are affected to an extent of 13 and 11 changes, respectively. In the latter case these are principally transfers within the district, while in London district there are two ministers coming in from other conferences and several rom other districts.

TORONTO, May 31. — (Canadian Press Dispatch).—Newspaper men are not to be admitted to Woodstock jail to see the hanging of Norman Garfield on Thursday morning. An edict to this effect was issued from the attorney-general's department to-day. Hon. Mr. Raney was appealed to by some news-papers which wished the reporters to witness the execution, but he remained adamant. He declined to state whether this is to be a precedent and no newspaper men to be admitted to other hangings.
