HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, MARCH 29, 1912.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A small Alberta town spends thousands of dollars on an advertising scheme, while a rich and prosperous county in Ontario is afraid to spend a few hundreds. And yet people wonder that Western towns go ahead quickly.

The three purely Canadian express companies which are doing business in Canada are capitalized at a little over $4,000,000. The net earnings of these companies in the year ending June 30th last totalled over $1,100,000, or upward of 27 per cent. on capitalization.

It is always best to wait for the evidence before passing judgment. When you hear reports detrimental to young ladies or gentlemen, don't be hasty in forming conclusions. It is better to be charitable when any one is in trouble. To-day it is somebody else's boy or girl; to-morrow it may be yours.

As an indication of what the farmers are up against in the way of labor, an extract from a letter, written to an Eckrid farmer in reply to an advertisement for farm help, is quoted:—As I am thinking of going on a farm for the next year as I am used to all kinds of farm work I will come and work for you for 4 hundred a year or 250 for six months house rent and fire wood and privilege to keep one pig and one quart of milk per day if my terms suit let me know and we can meet and see if both are suited with the other."

The results of voting on church union makes it plainly apparent that there will be nothing doing in this connection for a long time to come—that is so far as any organic union is concerned. The Methodists appear overwhelmingly in favor of it. The Presbyterians, with their canny Scotch proclivities, are not falling headlong in love with the proposed change. A considerable number voted in favor of the principle; with them, however, the basis is the stumbling block.

Brains on the Farm.

How strangely the idea persists that less intelligence is required to succeed on a farm than in the city! Why should any one suppose that the man who makes blunder after blunder in the office, the shop or the factory can go out into the country and show the farmers how to raise bumper crops? Perhaps it is because the country visitor to the city, being unfamiliar with much that he sees there, is set down as "slow" and stupid.

The city-born visitor to the country impresses the farmer in the same way, and often with better reason; but that view of the matter he seldom sees. In point of fact, the city worker is essentially a specialist. The successful farmer, on the other hand, must have a practical knowledge of more things than the city man dreams of, and a versatility beyond his comprehension.

It was urged not long ago, says the Youth's Companion, at a meeting of the New York Child Welfare Committee, that for stupid boys who seemed to have little chance of success in the city, there would be a better prospect of "making good" if they were placed upon farms; but the plan met with a fortunately intelligent opposition, and was quickly dropped.

The number of country boys who succeed in the city is beyond reckoning. The cities would be at a loss without them. But those who succeeded would probably be as well off financially and live longer, if they had remained on the farm. Those who fail in the city would very likely have failed if they had stayed at home.

Never before have the opportunities for success on the farm been so great as they are at the present time; but they are not for the stupid, the indolent or the careless.

Mary Gough, of Napier, made a splendid record in heading her class once more in Form II. of the collegiate institute, Strathroy. Lillian McNeil also took a good stand in Form III. and Vivian Beer was successful in the past examination in Form I.

A very sudden death occurred in Forest on Wednesday, when Mr. Robert Bailley, of that town, dropped dead while drinking his tea. Mr. Bailley had been up town about an hour before and returning home where the family were having tea. The late Mr. Bailley was in his 66th year, and is survived by his widow and one son, Mr. Lawson Bailley, on the homestead on the 2nd concession of Warwick, and two daughters, Mrs. McKay, of Warwick, and Mrs. Venning, 6th line of Plympton. He also had a sister, Mrs. John Garreth, of Forest.

Mr. Lorne Prout's cottage, Forest, narrowly escaped destruction by fire one day last week, and the rather unexpected and unusual manner in which it occurred will be a warning to others. A rag with which the stove had been wiped was thrown in the woodshed and the members of the family shortly after all left the house. On returning the house was filled with smoke, and an investigation disclosed the whereabouts of the trouble. The rag having caught fire had burned away slowly and had set fire to the woodshed, but was extinguished without much damage.

A BOY'S COMPOSITION—"A school ma'am is a verb because she denotes action when you throw paper wads at the girls. Switch is a conjunction and is used to connect the verb school ma'am to the noun boy. This is a compound sentence, of which boy is the subject and switch is the object. First person singular number and awful case. A school ma'am is different from a boy, a boy wears pants and a school ma'am wears her hair banged all over her forehead. She puts paint on her face and some big fellows come and take her home. Ma says a school ma'am never gets to be older than eighteen before she gets married. It takes two school ma'ams a day to cook a dinner.

A Great Combination.

One of the oldest residents of Warwick passed away in her home on Sunday morning March 17th, in the person of Mrs. W. F. Smith. Mrs. Smith had been in fairly good health until about a month ago, when her health began to fail. She was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1819, coming with her parents to Canada settled in the county of Lanark, and at the age of fourteen came to the township of Warwick where she resided till the time of her death. On May 20th, 1844, she was married to William Frederick Smith, who pre-deceased her fourteen years ago. She could tell many interesting incidents of the trials of pioneer life. She was of a cheerful disposition, ever ready to help and comfort in time of need. She was a consistent Christian and a lifelong member of the Baptist Church. The surviving members of the family are Fredrick, Warwick; William, Edmonton, Alta.; Robert, Eliza and Alice, at home, and one brother, Andrew McAlpine, of Sarnia. Three sons, Andrew, Peter and Benjamin, deceased. The funeral took place Tuesday, March 19th, to Warwick cemetery, services were conducted by Rev. T. M. Mead and Rev. W. M. Shore. The pall bearers were J. Caughlin, Wm. Beacom, G. Minielly, J. McPhedran, J. Blaine, and J. Minielly.

There came nearly being a bad fire at the Hotel Normandy, Petrolia, the other day through someone stepping on a match.

The death is reported from Buffalo of H. R. Cockle, formerly of Glencoe. Mr. Cockle was associated with W. W. Gordon in the manufacture of cheese boxes in Glencoe some years ago.

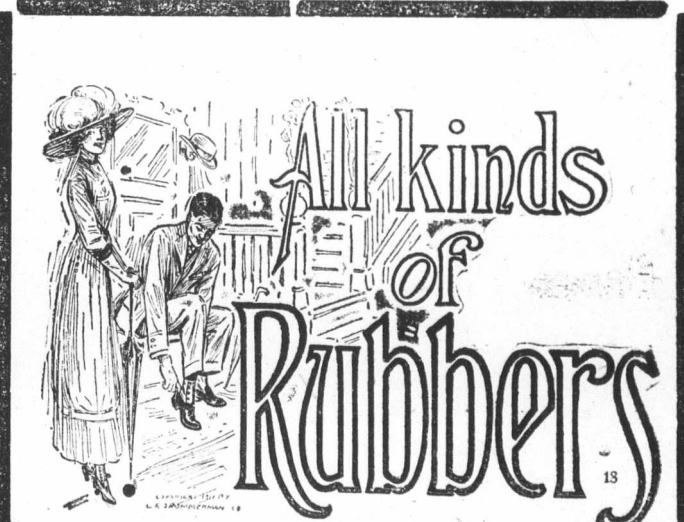

SHOOTING PAINS IN SIDE, ARMS, BACK

Prove the Presence of Rheumatic Virus, Which Is Cured Quickest by Nerviline—Rub It In.

Pains in the muscles, in the sides, the back, the neck, or the chest—they always carry with them great discomfort. If the inflammation is severe the pain will be intense. If allowed to continue they are dangerous. Nothing so quickly cures local inflammation and drives away pain as Nerviline. Nerviline does this because it penetrates so deeply. Nerviline is not only powerful, but soothing. By relieving congestion it cures pain. It does this always. It cannot fail because it is a true antidote for pain. You can scarcely find anybody that will not tell you wonderful things about the pain-curing power of Nerviline. Remember, that there is not an ache or pain that Nerviline will not cure immediately. Nerviline is an anchor of health in every household. Refuse anything that may be offered you instead of Nerviline, which is guaranteed for rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, and all muscular aches and pains.
