FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN. Going to Market. The woman who goes to market knows all the changes and chances that come with the seasons.

Beware of Widowers. But why is it that the widow is more popular than the maid? I have asked the question over and over and here are some of the replies.

Housekeeping Worries. The nobler sex have but scant sympathy with the series of trifling worries that usually follow in the wake of housekeeping.

Around the House. Alum water will restore all faded colors. Brush the faded article thoroughly to free it from dust.

Beauty. Beauty of reputation is a mantle of spotless ermine in which if you are but wrapped you shall receive the homage of those about you.

Andalusian Beauties. The Andalusian girl is almost invariably a petite brunette, and although not all are plump, and many are too stout.

easy here in Seville to find women whose feet an infant might hold in its hands. A French girl of seven or eight could not wear the shoes of an Andalusian of twenty.

Fashion Points. Dressmakers are making up for slight figures simple, full dresses of China silk in solid black or pure white for summer afternoon gowns and for general housewears.

Foot Coverings. The best fitting shoes that one can procure will fail to preserve the feet in healthy condition without the aid of stockings.

How to Save Doctor's Bills. Never go to bed with cold or damp feet. Never lean with the back upon anything that is cold.

A Doctor's Don'ts. Don't read in street cars or other jolting vehicles. Don't pick the teeth with pins or any hard substance.

Why Does the Earth Quake? The earthquake theory which seems most probable, and the one which has the most adherents, is the one which tells us that the "quake" is caused by the effort of internal heat to make its escape through a weak part of the surrounding earth crust.

practice of interconnecting all the mains in a district is fraught with danger, ought not the practice to be abstained? To these questions may answer is: The system of alternating currents and converters admits of these measures of safety; namely, an absolute electrical separation of the street mains from the wires in all buildings; the reduction of the pressure of the current to fifty volts within all buildings; the limitation of the quantity of current carried by street mains.

1. No direct electrical connections shall be permitted between street mains and wires within buildings for either light or power. 2. The electrical pressure on the wires within buildings shall not be permitted to exceed one hundred volts.

3. Each pair of street mains shall be limited to an amount not exceeding one hundred amperes and every such wire shall be provided at the generating station with a device which will automatically disrupt the circuit in the event of a sudden increase above the authorized load.

FARM AND GARDEN.

A FINE GARDEN. Mr. O. B. Hedden gives an account of a visit to the garden of a retired merchant, where he saw much crop of vegetables of all kinds as he had never seen before.

FARMERS ARE NOT PROTECTED. In a long pastoral letter to the Catholics of the diocese of Leavenworth, Kan., Bishop Fink, referring to the Farmers Alliance movement caused by the agricultural depression, says: We may say that surrounded by a beautiful crop of adversity, the people are suffering and are in misery, uncertain what they should do in the future.

Why the Hens do Not Lay. One of the puzzling questions that often arise in the experience of persons raising fowls is why their hens are not laying as well as a neighbor's, who is far more fortunate in the weekly additions made to his egg basket.

Quick Feathering. The chicks of some breeds, such as Games, Leghorns, Minorcas, Lorkins, etc., feather so rapidly that they often droop from the expense of their own vitality.

All Sorts. "The plot thickens," remarked Fikens at the play. "Well, don't step in," said Jenkins; "it's thin enough, goodness knows."
