MEMORIAL, &c.

I S Britannic Majesty hath caused to be sent to most of the Courts of Europe, a Pamphlet, entitled, "Observations on the Memorial of France, with an Intention to consute the Reasons upon which the King hath sounded his Requisition of the 21st of December last, and thereby to justify the Resusal made by England, of restoring to France her Vessels taken in full Peace."

A Refusal so inconsistent both with that natural Justice which constitutes the Law of Nations, as well as those pacific Views to which his Britannic Majesty hath always professed an invariable Adherence, could admit of no Colour, but the Imputation of Hostilities to France, antecedent to those Captures. To weaken the Impression, which the Outrages committed by the English Navy for a Year past, must make on the Powers abroad, it was necessary to be proved, or at least maintained, that the French were the Aggressors: Such accordingly is the principal Fact advanced in these Observations. They are intended to evince, that the French have committed Hostilities in America, which have obliged the Court of London, to seek Redress by just Reprisals.

To these Imputations, the Court of France will only oppose the most simple View of what has passed between the two Nations, whether in Europe or America, since the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle. The Sovereigns have for Judges, the Age in which they live, and Posterity: It is the Province of impartial History alone, to arraign their Conduct, as it alone can defend them.

To put the Recital of fuch important Facts beyond the Power of Censure, nothing shall be advanced which is not B
