PART XI.

necessitated an expansion on Beach Avenue, and additional property was purchased at the end of the first year, and an addition was made, so as to accommodate a larger number of Day pupils, for Boys and Girls, and a limited number of Girls as resident pupils. Doctor and Mrs. Courtice had for their object a desire to supply the best instruction at the smallest cost, and to inspire in this community of young people a desire for genuine physical, mental and moral culture. The number of resident pupils must be limited, so as to preserve the home atmosphere and to give the individual oversight necessary to the all-round development of young Girls.

After Doctor Courtice's death, in 1908, Mrs. Courtice became Directress of the College, and, with an efficient staff of teachers, the School has continued to increase in numbers and influence.

Out of the association of Patrons and Teachers of the School has grown an organization known as the "Culture Club," which has for its object the study of Child Nature and the cultivation of those forces which make for citizenship.

Mrs. Courtice believes that Teachers and Parents should, personally and actively, seek to co-operate with each other in the promotion of the Physical, Mental and Moral development of the youthful members of the community.
