me to be careful that Capt. Sinclair did not see me.

Q.: Did you see anyone the worse of liquor when you were doing this?

A.: No; I never saw a fireman the worse of liquor at any tame.

Q.: In what other hall did you drink?

A.: In Wilton I drank whiskey with a fireman, but I don't know his name.

Judge Denton then asked him how he got these men to drink. He told the judge that of course he had to wait his time, knock about a little, and then ask them. He said he was doing some spotting in a liquor store at one time, but that he had never sold any liquor to firemen in uniform. He also told that firemen had gathered at 22 Botton avenue and drank there, and that in 1913 firemen had bought liquor at the Exhibition grounds during fair time and had drunk it on the grounds.

Q.: What do you know about handbooks being kept?

A.: Well, Lieut, Waldron, at Yonge street, was mixed up in one.

Q.: Do you know that Waldron said he did not have anything to do with handbook making?

A.: I don't care what he saye; I know it is true. During 1913 he carried it on with a man named Dobby or Daiby. O'Brien, who is now in Cobait, and Charlie Marsh can tell you.

Q.: Where is Marsh?

A.: He is in Toronto, on Broadview avenue.

you drank with firemen?
A.: Yes, at Keele street, with Bird in the stable.
Q.: Do you know of any loose women being around the fire halls?
A.: Yes; I know that a girl named Saunders and one named Bonner used to hang around the fitchmond station.
Judge Denton then asked if he had seen them in the hall. He replied that he had seen them with firemen in uniform on the street. Judge Denton then said he would draw the line at this point, and only take evidence in respect to where the men had the women in the hall.

Has Three Convictions.
Judge Denton asked Budway if he had ever been convicted. He replied that he had, three times. Once for carrying concealed weapons, once for assaulting a girl and once for being drunk.

Noble Denies It.

During the early part of the afternoon session Ex-Deputy Chief Noble was called to the stand. The evidence of Greig, citing an instance where Noble was in conversation with a woman of loose character, was read to him by Judge Denton, and Noble flatly denied the charges. He said he had warned the woman away from the premises, and told her she would be the cause of the men being dismissed if she continued. He also denied that
