TANK "BRITANNIA" ON PARADE TODAY

Battle-Scarred Machine and Its Crew Help Sell Bonds.

One of the two big features of the Victory Loan campaign is the visit of the tank "Britannia," by the special consent of United States Secretary of War Baker. The tank arrived in Toronto yesterday, and will be on parade through the streets of the city this morning. The tank is in charge of Capt. Haigh, M.C., and a crew of seven men. For the past year it has been on service in the United States, and is credited with the sale of hundreds of thousands of Liberty Bonds.

Capt. Haigh, when seen last night, said "this is the only tank on the American continent that has been in action, and remains in service." He said that the tank went through three charges in the battle of Arras, and while it escaped being knocked out of action by German artillery, it could show the scars of rifle fire. In the United States it has traveled 25,000 miles. It weighs 30 tons, is 28 feet long, and is equipped with one 250 horsepower engine. From six to eight gallons of gasoline are required to propel it a mile. The "Britannia" is fully equipped with six machine guns and has storage capacity for 30,000 rounds of small arm ammunition.

Where to See It.
Thursday—Will leave corner Wellington and York streets at 10 a.m., proceed east on Wellington to Yonge, and north on Yonge to Queen, then west on Queen to the city hall, where there will be a reception to Captain Haigh and the crew by Mayor Church and the board of control at 10:30 on the city hall steps.

The tank will remain there until 2 p.m., and will then proceed south on Bay to King, along King east to the Don bridge, from the Don bridge to Broadview, north on Broadview to Gerrard, along Gerrard to Yonge, south on Yonge to Queen, and west on Queen to the city hall, arriving there at five o'clock, where it will remain for the night.

Friday—Will leave the city hall at 10 a.m., proceed east on Queen to Yonge, north on Yonge to Bloor, west on Bloor to Avenue road and the Queen's Park, south through the Queen's Park and University avenue to Queen, and along Queen to the city hall, arriving at 12 noon, remaining at the city hall until 2 p.m., and at 2 p.m. will go west on Queen to Roncesvalles, north on Roncesvalles to Dundas, going west on Dundas to Keele, arriving there at 5 p.m., and remaining there until 7 p.m.

Excelsior will practice tonight at 6:30. Players are asked to meet at the Bromell House, Queen street and Strachan avenue.

INJURIOUS TO HEALTH.

Claim of Painters Against Spraying Machine for Painting Vessels.

The painters of Toronto are much exercised over the decision of the large employers to continue the use of the new spraying machine for ship painting. Joseph Hunter, general organizer for the Painters' and Decorators' Union, is in Ottawa in conference with government officials in connection with this matter. Prominent men in the union state that they are opposed to any appliance which works to the detriment of one's health. It is claimed that the sprayer while in operation so acts as to make a rebound of spray lead on the man operating it.

Harper, customs broker, 39 West Wellington street, corner Bay, Adelaide 4682.

Toronto v. Toronto Railway Company—Motion to commit further enlarged list Monday next, owing to illness of counsel for the defendants.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC.

Elliot and Comstock will offer for the reopening of the Royal Alexandra Theatre next Monday evening the latest and newest of their intimate comedies, "Ask Dad." This comedy was booked to open at the Princess Theatre, New York, where it will run throughout the season, but on account of the theatre not being ready it was decided to give Toronto the first showing, thereby insuring the original New York company in its entirety. "Ask Dad" will go directly from the Royal Alexandra Theatre to New York, where it will fill its season's engagement. Reservations will be placed on sale this morning at the theatre box office.
