Professor James W. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying for Canada, in his report to the House of Commons for Canada, after going to England and investigating, and sending sample shipments, endorses the great object of this Company.

POULTRY COMPANY, Limited

(TO BE INCORPORATED.)

CAPITAL STOCK - - - $450,000.

HEAD OFFICE: HAMILTON, ONTARIO. PRESIDENT-MR. GIBSON ARNOLDI, Barrister-at-law, Toronto, Ontario. MANAGER - MR. WILLIAM S. GILMORE, Merchant, Hamilton, Ontario.

OBJECT OF THE COMPANY.

THIS COMPANY is formed to advance Canadian trade with England in dressed poultry, ducks, turkeys and geese, dressed meats and other farm produce that the Company may deem it advisable to deal in. This is the sho geese, dressed meats and other farm produce that the Company may deem it advisable to deal in. This is the great object of the Company. It will be no monopoly and it cannot be made one; its success means the Farmers' success. The farmer who wants to make money must is Toronto-street, is Toronto-street, sollector for the Executors.

THOMAS MCGAW to earn a good reputation for himself as a first-class raiser of poultry, turkeys, ducks and geese for the Company.

This Company will buy only from its own shareholders; therefore, with care and attention every farmer and every farmer's wife and every man, woman and child of ordinary intelligence in Canada who has fifty dollars can buy ten shares and become a shareholder, and by beginning in a small way and saving his profits make himself wealthy, like Mr. Taylor has done. Who Mr. Taylor is is explained in the following extracts from a story told by Professor Robertson, the well-known Commissioner of Agriculture and Dairying for Canada, to the standing ittee of the House of Commons:

"Well-to-do farmers fatten chickens. I learn also that there is money in the business. I had got the name of Mr. Samuel Taylor from one of the leading poultry dealers in London. When I got to his place I found Mr Taylor was a successful farmer. He had begun life as a farm laborer without capital. When I visited him he had a fine farm-steading and was doing a prosperous business. I would not like to say how much money the chicken-fattening business brought him in, but I would not be surprised to learn that his annual net balance was over a thousand pounds (five thousand dollars a year)." This man had begun life as a farm laborer and by sticking to this business had made money out of it.

The Promoters are now arranging to establish not less than twelve receiving and shipping stations in Canada, to be fitted with plants necessary to make the exported article as perfect as possible. The number of stations in each Province will be as nearly equal as possible, having regard for the size of the Province and the number of shareholders in each. The operations of the Company to be confined for the present to Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

EASTER MONDAY.

The buyers of this Company will commence operations, it is expected, on or about the first of June, 1901, when they will call on the shareholders and arrange with them as to the continuous supply—that is, the number each shareholder will raise and undertake to deliver each month to the nearest receiving station of the Company. It is therefore necessary that all intending shareholders who wish to raise poultry for the Company send Marches, Drills, etc., Mrs. H. B. Somers in their subscriptions for stock at once, as the Company will only buy from its shareholders and the lists will be closed.

Prices to Be Paid.—This Company will pay the very highest prices to its shareholders, so as to encourage the raising of first-class poultry, and, as it will year in and year out be selling at the high prices to be obtained in England, it can afford to pay more than the best prices now paid for birds now sold on the Canadian market.

Great Prices in England.—Chickens shipped to Liverpool, England, met with a ready sale at eightpence (aixteen cents) per pound. As they weighed eleven pounds per pair, they sold for one dollar and saventy-six cents for a pair of chickens in England, and yet it is only a fair market price there, and the profits are equally as good, if not better, on turkeys, funded to send to be in beautiful condition, and presented a most saleable appearance. After the birds were uncased. I turn on the find of the control of the control excellence of your small experiments in place. After the birds were uncased I were found to be in beautiful condition, and presented a most saleable appearance. After the birds were uncased I had one to find out how long it would retain its bright appearance, and found that it became milky white as soon as it had dried out of the chilled state; to-day, five days later, it is as nice looking as a fresh killed bird. I think the price obtained will both please and pay you. It is a fair market price."

Three Firms Alone Intimated Their Ability and Willingness to Handle About Two Thousand Cases Per Week

at Good Prices.

Raising Poultry Pays.—It pays better to fatten them, and it pays best to ship them to England.

Tuesday Next, April 2nd fully to be relied on for anything he will undertake.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Every shareholder in this Company is not obliged to raise poultry simply because he is a shareholder, and everybody can buy stock in the Company, and the net profits or dividends will be divided between all shareholders alike. Everybody with any money should buy shares, and it is safe to say they will get large dividends for their Exclusive Privilege.—The Company extend an exclusive privilege to those who hold ten shares or more of the Company's stock to raise poultry, turkeys, ducks, geese, etc., for the Company, to supply the great demand, and to this class of shareholders the Company will pay the very highest prices for their birds. They will Pair Black Geldings, 6 and 7 years, 3000 be given the great advantage of careful instruction, free of charge, in the art of raising and fattening poultry, as bs, extra good condition, sound.
