ST. JOHN RAILWAY COMPANY BRINGS SUIT AGAINST CITY

Action For $5,000 Because of Loss of Revenue During Princess and Union Street Troubles — The Bridge Service

The St. John Railway Company has entered suit against the city for $5,000 damages for loss of revenue, sustained at the time the rails were torn up by the street department in Princess and Union streets.

The company has forwarded to the board of railway commissioners of Canada plans for special work and appliances, including the diamond crossing for the C. P. R., at the new bridge, and asking for a hearing before that body. The curves for the west side approach to the bridge have been ordered, and the factory promises shipment in a week or ten days.

OTHER PROCEEDINGS
Mayor Frank and Commissioner Potts are now threatened with further proceedings on the part of the court for the neglect or refusal of the city to remove the obstructions from the street railway route in Main street.

An order of the supreme court, chancery division, was served at city hall this morning ordering the mayor, the commissioner of public works, and all other persons concerned to appear before the court, in chambers, on September 18, at eleven o'clock, for a hearing on the application of the Saint John Railway Company for an attachment against Mayor Frank and Commissioner Potts because of their refusal and failure to remove the obstructions from the street railway line in Main street.

This is another step towards breaking the deadlock between the city and company which exists on account of the difference over the methods of completing the street paving work. It is now about ten days since the commissioner ripped the rails up and laid in their place a solid concrete pavement.

An injunction was secured by the company restraining the city from removing the rails and ordering the city to remove the existing obstruction. No more rails were interfered with, but the concrete has not been removed and this later order of the court is said to indicate a desire on the part of the company to take action under proceedings for contempt of court.

A special meeting of the council was held at noon today to consider the city's position. After a long session in private, it was announced that the matter is being left in the hands of the city solicitor to take the proper steps.

WATERBURY & RISING LTD.
ENTERTAIN TRAVELING STAFF AT DINNER AT GLEN FALLS

Waterbury & Rising's traveling staff, covering every town and village in the maritime provinces, assemble once a year for the purpose of re-stocking their sample trunks, obtaining necessary information, and getting in touch with the many phases of ever changing designs and styles. Realizing the valuable information to be obtained from a general exchange of opinion, ideas, etc., the president, Edward Rising, graciously invites the men of the road and directors of the company to an informal dinner.

This year the evening was held last evening at the Manor House, Glen Falls. The party, numbering about twenty, were conveyed to Glen Falls in automobiles and at seven o'clock sat down to a sumptuous feast. At the completion of the meal, the president, in a well thought-out speech, regaled with valuable information, urged a closer personal intimacy between the "managers" and customer, citing many instances under his own observation that were of mutual advantage to both.

J. Leary, dominion secretary of the Credit Men's Association, who was present as a guest, spoke for some thirty minutes, imparting in a charming manner, interesting information on the administration of the laws of the various provinces, governing business, assignments, tenements, bankruptcies, etc. His talk was most interesting and entertaining. Mr. Leary is a speaker of more than ordinary ability, and in his capacity as an official of an organization that has to do with the financial standing of all business establishments, coupled with an experience as a newspaper editor, pleasant personality and the happy faculty of treating an otherwise "dry" subject in a delightfully refreshing manner, gave an address well worth while.

Short speeches were delivered by Harold W. Rising, Percy W. Wilbur and Arthur F. Stillwell. A very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem.

SOLDIER HONORED
Third of the Totten Boys Goes to Fight For King and Country

A pleasant time was spent on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wallace, when relatives gathered and presented to Pte. Arthur Totten a handsome gold mounted pipe, in honor of his departure with the 55th battalion for overseas service. Geo. Wallace made the presentation. Private Totten has two brothers serving under the colors. Driver Percy Totten, with the first Canadian contingent in France, and Joseph E. Totten, with 4th company, C. A. S. C., now in England.

AT THE BRIDGE.
The mound supporting the cables on the western side of the old Suspension Bridge was removed several days ago, and there is now quite a stretch of roadway available for street railway construction purposes.

It would seem to the casual observer as though work should be commenced soon if cars are to be operating across the new bridge by October, as promised. The people feel that the fine days should be taken full advantage of.

The old bridge is being rapidly demolished and only one wooden arch at each end now remains.

KERR-HULME
A very pretty wedding was solemnized in All Saints Church, on Sept. 6 by Rev. C. W. Follett, when he united in marriage George T. Kerr and Jennie, daughter of James Hulme of Lakewood. The bride looked charming as she entered the church with her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Bessie Jordan. The bride was attended by her sister, while Mr. Lyons supported the groom. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with potted plants and ferns. At the conclusion of the ceremony the choir of the church sang "O Perfect Love." A reception was held at the home of the bride, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Mid showers of rice and best wishes Mr. and Mrs. Kerr left for their home on the Hickey road. Many costly and useful presents were received by the popular people from their friends, who wish them all happiness.

FAIRVILLE SOLDIER OF THE 26TH HAS BEEN CHOSEN AS SNIPER

Thomas Meehan is One of 24—"Bud" Tippett in Re-union With Lancaster Lads

A letter has just come to hand, dated Aug. 17, from "Bud" Meehan of the 26th Battalion, to his wife in Fairville. He stated that he and twenty-three others, making a company of twenty-four, had been picked for very dangerous work, namely as snipers. Being allotted to this particular section is a compliment not only to the marksmanship of Soldier Meehan, but also to his personal courage, as a sniper's job, while very important, is particularly dangerous.

Writing to Mrs. Meehan he mentions the hazardous nature of his new vocation, but says that he is proud in being selected. He wishes he could only be privileged to see a head on the leader boys a while ago, and they had some celebration. The Fairville lads met in Robert Kennedy's room and had a jolly sing-song and generally had a real time. The chaps were all sorry when told to bring the little time to a close.

The Fairville men are all in good health. Mr. Meehan was of the opinion they would go to France in about three weeks.

TILL THE BOYS COMES HOME
The following song was written by Private William Gormley of 65 Sheriff street, now with the 26th Battalion on foreign service:

They were summoned from the hillside,
They were called from the glen,
And the country found them ready
At the stirring call for men.
Let no tear add to their hardship
As the soldiers pass along,
And although your heart is breaking
Make it sing this cheery song.

Chorus
Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning,
Though your lads are far away
They dream of home;
There's a silver lining
Through the dark cloud shining
Till the boys come home.

Overseas there comes a pleading,
"Help a nation in distress!"
And we gave our glorious laddies,
Honor but do no less.
For no gallant sons of Britain
To a foreign yoke shall bend
And no Englishman is silent
To the sacred call of friend.

Marry the Advertisement
Mr. Storekeeper, when the manufacturer advertises his goods in this newspaper, marry your store to the advertising.
Make a public "tie up."
Put the newspaper advertised goods where people will see them. Let the public know you have faith in the goods and the advertising.
It is not mere sentiment.
It is practical business.
You are rendering a public service profitable to yourself.
