

FINE PROGRAM ON ST. ANDREW'S DAY ANNOUNCED

Saint John Scots to Have Church Parade and
Scottish Night

Each year at this time, for 128 years, the Scots of this ancient city have been busily engaged in preparing for their annual celebration on Saint Andrew's Day, November 30. In every country throughout the world, a similar activity prevails among the sons of Scotland. From the Arctic Circle south through the torrid zone, down to the chill southern seas, in strange lands and among strange peoples, the call has gone forth for the mustering of the clans.

This year, the Scots of Saint John are preparing for their annual celebration with a new enthusiasm. Committees of prominent citizens have been fully employed for some weeks with the result that all arrangements have been completed in a very thorough and thoughtful way, for what promises to be one of the best Saint Andrew's Nights of the one hundred and twenty-seven which the society has already held here.

SEVERAL EVENTS.

As is usual, the church parade of the society takes place on the Sunday prior to Saint Andrew's Day, and next Sunday, at 10.30 a. m., members gather at the Orange Hall, Grafton street, and thereafter, march behind their pipes to Saint David's church, where service will be conducted by Rev. Hugh Miller, the chaplain of the society at 11 o'clock.

On Tuesday, November 30, at Pythian Castle, the program is, briefly as follows:—

7.45 p. m. sharp—Installation of officers; 8.00 p. m. sharp—Commencement of program.

Entertainment—Tenor solo, "The Lea Rises"; Musical numbers by the following: George MacLaren Burgess, baritone solo, "Hurray for the Hibernians"; Peter Tonner, soprano solo, "Sound the Pipes"; Mrs. Hugh Miller, recitations, "Cuddle Down," "A Scotch Fiddler"; Miss Muriel Curran.

Each of these artists is well known. The two gentlemen are from the audit and the first from the Town of Ayer and the second from Glasgow. The number selected by Mrs. Miller is peculiarly adapted to the dramatic quality of her voice. Miss Muriel Curran is a graduate in elocution at Mount Allison.

EVENING ORATION.

The oration will be the main event of the evening will be delivered by Mr. Colin Mackay Kerr, Ph. D., B. Sc., D. Sc., of the Presbyterian church of Halifax; and Dr. George W. Field, Glasgow, Dr. Kerr was educated in Edinburgh. He is a man of remarkable intellectual attainments and a brilliant and forceful speaker.

FOUR PIPERS.

There will be four pipers, all veterans of many fights. Alexander Stewart, born in Aberdeen; Sergt.-Major Alexander Campbell, born in the village of Glenochy, Argyllshire; E. B. Macdonald, from the Island of Mull, Argyllshire; Clinton Regan, of Saint John, piper, 26th Regiment, Dragoon Light Infantry, with much service to his credit in India and France; will twirl the big drumsticks. He hails from Glasgow, as do the two kettle-drummers, James Johnston, 26th Regiment, and George Waugh.

During the proceedings, one very interesting ceremony will be the passing of the Mull—an ancient snuff box set on the head of a black-faced ram. This is carried out with all the solemnity of a rite, the practice dating back for many centuries and having a significance of its own that is interesting to the local society which is one of the oldest in North America.

MEMORY OF BURNS.

Another interesting point is that the back panel of the chair from which the society's president conducts the proceedings, is made from a tree cut from close to the grave of Robert Burns, while the rest of the chair is constructed from woods brought here from historic points and buildings in Scotland, notably, from Leithgow Castle, in which Queen Mary was imprisoned. The carving on the chair was done by the famous old ship's carpenter of this city, John Rogerson, whose beautiful figureheads graced the bow of many a clipper built in local yards.

Dancing will commence at 10 p. m. Jones Orchestra will be there in full force. The DeMons Chapter, I. O. D. E., will provide a running supper, and everything is set for one of the best Saint Andrew's nights in the history of the local society which is one of the oldest in North America.

Lady Juror Faints At English Trial

MAIDSTONE, Eng. Nov. 26.—The Stella Maris murder trial was dramatically interrupted today when one of the two women jurors, overwhelmed by the testimony, suffered an emotional collapse. Alphonse F. A. Smith, the socially prominent defendant, accused of murdering his friend John T. Derham at the Smith villa, "Stella Maris" last August 12, was on the stand.

CLUB ENTERTAINED.

The Happy Hour Thimble Club were entertained yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Alexander Stinson, Duke Street, West Saint John. At the tea hour the hostess served a delicious supper. Those present were: Mrs. Frank Cheyne, Mrs. White, Mrs. W. J. Roper, Mrs. S. Galbraith, Mrs. H. McLean, Mrs. C. E. Belyea, Mrs. B. C. Breda, Mrs. J. Coey, Mrs. W. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. Harwood, Miss Bertha Carvell, Miss Kathleen Stinson and Miss Marion Stinson.

The Rim of The Limelight

NEW YORK—Miss Eleanor Goss, long known internationally as a tennis player, now teases her fame—and fortune—in the business world as a banker. She has joined a mortgage and trust company. She has been private secretary to Mrs. Whitelaw Reid for nine years.

Miss Goss at present holds the national doubles title in tennis with Miss Ellsworth. She has won many other honors. She is a graduate of Vassar College.

98 CENTS A SHOT.

CHICAGO—Chicago game have long been overlooking a bet by letting their victims lay where shot. This is indicated by the recent statement of Dr. Allan Craig that the human body is worth 98 cents for chemical purposes.

The doctor stated in a recent address that the average human body contains enough lime to whitewash a chicken coop, sugar enough to fill a small dish, iron enough to make at least one nail, and water. These ingredients would total about 98 cents as commercial products, he avers.

"LAST NIGHT THE WIND"

CELEBRATION, Md.—The next time a tornado comes to this town it can go right by the door or come in, as far as R. F. Ward, clerk in Willette store here, is concerned. Mr. Ward is out of a pair of trousers as a result of his concern over the last tornado that hit here. It wasn't so much the loss of the trousers that bothered Ward. "They were old ones, anyhow," he says. But it was the time they went. Ward rushed to the front of the store to close the door and keep out the wind. A playful gust whipped him into the street, threw him down, rolled him along, and pulled his trousers off. He lost the Australian pursuit race that followed.

BOW-BOW!

NEW YORK—Every dog has his day. The Dachshund is about to have his again. This after spending the last 19 years skulking around the back yard.

The elongated German hounds were popular until the war broke out. Then, because they represented something German, along with sauerkraut and hot peppers they were picked on by the propaganda boys.

Governor Brewster Repudiates Gould

Augusta, Maine, Nov. 26.—Into a campaign which for sensation has rivalled those of Pennsylvania and Illinois and upon which hinges Republican control of the next senate, a fresh bombshell had been exploded today by the repudiation by Governor Ralph O. Brewster, of Arthur R. Gould, the republican senatorial nominee.

CASE OF POKER GAME ON TRAIN GETS TO COURT

American Says Deuce Became Jack in Big Stud Pot

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—How a deuce turned into a Jack and won a $750 pot in a stud poker game was described to Judge Parnell by Harvey J. Hill, an American, president of a company which operates a string of hostleries across the border, who alleges that J. Jackson, alias Lyons, defrauded him of $100 while the game was being played on a train running between North Bay, Ont., and Montreal.

SAID HE WAS OIL MAN

Lyons introduced himself as an oil man from Casper, Wyoming. Mr. Hill stated. Another man who started in the game, supposedly a stranger to Lyons, had said he was a Mr. Chessier, travelling for a Minneapolis apple merchant. Played open with 50-cent bets. Lyons jumped to $100 bets. In the final hand, four cards had been drawn by the two players remaining after Chessier had dropped out. Mr. Hill had a pair of queens and a pair of aces. By the flipping of a card he had noticed Lyons had a deuce covered. Bets were closed. The fifth cards were to be drawn.

C. P. PROSECUTES

The Canadian Pacific Railway, on whose train the game took place, conducted the prosecution. J. J. Creelman, K.C., appearing. He called Mr. Hill who said he had boarded the Imperial Limited at Winnipeg. Mr. Hill said he was sitting in the observation car when he had seen Lyons. He had started smoking when the conductor had requested them to stop.

LYONS APPEARS

"An instant later, Mr. Lyons appeared in the doorway, evidently in a hurry, and was then sent up for voluntary examination. Judge Parnell asked: "Was he intoxicated?" Judge Parnell asked: "I don't think so. He asked if he could come in, and I agreed. He said: 'I have been drinking. Will you have a drink?' I said: 'No.' He said: 'Do you play bridge?' I said: 'Not very good.' He then asked me if I had any objection if he went and got his liquor and his cards, which were in his compartment, and I said I had not. He brought them in, and rang for a table. Then glasses were rung for. He poured himself a drink, and while he was doing this Chessier appeared in the door. He said: 'I see you have company.' I supposed they were strangers. Mr. Lyons said: 'Come in.' They met, and Mr. Lyons said he was an oil man from Casper, Wyoming."

Jail Breakers Are Retaken At Dalhousie

DALHOUSIE, Nov. 25.—Iran Kelly, who belongs to Saint John, and who was sentenced to one month in jail at a recent meeting of the County Court, and Dan Doyle, of Ed River Crossing, sentenced to three months, broke out of jail on Tuesday in a most extraordinary manner. They were both captured by Sheriff Phillip Laviolette, assisted by Henry Good Frank Gardner, Chatham, who was sentenced also to three months, refused to follow the two others.

Man Thought Slain Now Alive and Well

LONDON, Ont. Nov. 26.—James Edds, aged 23, thought to have been murdered in Bell County, Kentucky, several months ago, is alive and well in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edds, in Chatham, Ont. Five men are now held in Pineville, Ky., jail, awaiting trial for the death of Edds.

Weddings

Webster-Munro. Nov. 25.—John Webster, who left on a trip to Montreal some days ago, has returned to Fredericton with a bride after a honeymoon at Toronto and Niagara Falls.

There is an element of romance in connection with the wedding due to the fact that the bride, who was Miss Margaret L. Munro, formerly of Inverary, Scotland, but for the past year the Victorian Order nurse at Canis, N. S., had booked passage for Scotland on a holiday trip and visited her home.

Mr. Webster accompanied them; but meanwhile Cupid had been busy and on reaching Montreal Mr. Webster had succeeded in winning Miss Munro's consent to change her plans and return to Fredericton as Mrs. Webster instead of going to Scotland as Miss Munro. On Nov. 10, at the home of her brother, Nicol Munro, Montreal, they embarked on the sea of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. McKenna, of Montreal, with Miss Elizabeth Munro acting as her sister's bridesmaid.

MARITIME TRADE FOUND IMPROVING

New Brunswick Lobster and Smelt Fishing Satisfactory

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—Concerning business conditions in the Maritimes the Bank of Montreal, in its monthly letter, states:—

Wholesalers report improving conditions, while coal mines and some manufacturing are producing at a satisfactory rate. The market for dried fish continues to be generally unsatisfactory though several profitable sales have recently been made. Lumbermen will do little during the winter. Large quantities of potatoes have been shipped at good prices, but many farmers are holding for better returns. Apple markets have improved. The Maritime Provinces have again been fortunate in escaping the recent severe Atlantic gales.

GRANBY EXTENDING MINE OPERATIONS

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., Ltd., is now beginning to feel the benefits of the improvement in the copper situation, making possible the further extension of the scale of its operations. Costs are being steadily lowered and in the third quarter of the year were brought down to 7.81 cents per pound, compared with 8.10 in the second quarter and 9.24 in the first quarter. These costs are figured after all operating and general expenses, but before depreciation and interest.

WHAOI!

KNOXVILLE—Thirty years ago, when buggy rides were so common that the girls didn't even say "Thanks" for them, two carriages in particular struck the fancy of the young swains of the city. They were the last word in pleasure vehicles—when drawn by a couple of spanking bays.

Now these two buggies, rescued from the dusty barns, have been brought into the public light again by Charles Brown, a taxi company owner, who has purchased them and sent them to Detroit to be included in Henry Ford's museum of antiques. They will complete the types of conveyances used in America's history.
