MEN AND WOMEN ARE ORDERED TO BE HELD

Clerk Reads Typewritten
Confession of Duo and Court
Room Ordered Closed

NEW YORK, April 22.—"Well!" said Mr. and Mrs. Michele Stuccio, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Burton, Violet Burton, their daughter, all of Brooklyn, and Mrs. John Morris, of Woodhaven, Anthony Burton, address unknown, Joseph La Rosa, of Woodhaven, and Mrs. Caroline Apicello, "I have heard."

The remark, which described the situation as few other remarks could, was made after Judge Almonzo G. Laughlin in the Kings County Court had ordered the men held in $1,000 bail each and the women in $250 bail each, charged of doing a favor for John Burton, eighteen, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Burton's son, and Mrs. Michele Stuccio.

Subsequently the court returned in the cases of Mrs. Burton and Violet, but the other eight passed an hour in cells before their money bonds were raised.

RULE VERY STRICT

The rules about doing favors for people in Brooklyn courts are very strict, which the Odettes, as some persons refer to a group of eight, apparently forgot when the signal came resounding down the street that John and Joe were in trouble and wanted a favor done.

John and Joe, it developed, had been arrested on charges of robbery. Harry Dall's confessions store, Brooklyn, had been held up on the night of April 20, 1925. Forty-eight dollars had been taken and Dall had screamed so loudly that the police arrived in time to fire five shots at five fleeing thugs—a thing, the regular police quota, John and Joe had been arrested as members of the gang.

THERE WITH FAVORS

There's one thing that can be said—and, indeed, will be said—about the Burtons, the Stuccios, the Morris and their friends, and that is, when a shot is asked they don't stand round haggling about the whys and wherefores. They step right up and, blithely there, your favor, all washed up and signed on the dotted line.

Just so it was in the Kings County Court when John and Joe came up for trial. How they asked triumphantly, could John and Joe, who were both at a wedding party at Burton's own home at the very moment the store was robbed?

"In point of fact," Mr. Burton said, "John was filling out a card for me, and I was dancing. Now I ask your honor how could they be somewhere else?"

OH, FIDDLESTICKS!

It did, indeed, seem for a time that they had his honor there! One by one the kindly souls mounted the witness stand and told of John's and Joe's presence at the party, at the conclusion of which Frederick Kopf, Assistant District Attorney, arose and read to the jury from a typewritten paper. It was John's and Joe's complete confession to the robbery.

There was a heavy silence, and then Lawrence McGoldrick, counsel for the defendants, rose and said that his clients would plead guilty.

"Look," Judge McLaughlin said, "the doors of the courtroom and arrest the witnesses. The charge against them is perjury."

That, it seems, is the way a favor is described in court, and that is the charge they will face in this same court next week.

Judge McLaughlin accepted the pleas of guilty from John and Joe and re-arrested them for perjury. The length of their sentence would matter to the witnesses. There's a right way and a wrong way to accept a favor, and it was the right way then that John and Joe were arrested.

MONTREAL KIDDIES MAD-DOG VICTIMS

MONTREAL, April 21.—That a notice exists among dogs on the island of Montreal was the statement contained in a report issued by the Provincial Bureau of Health here today.

It declares that certain cases of rabies among dogs were diagnosed and controlled by pathologists of the federal health department at Ottawa, and adds that children have been the victims of every one of these dogs. Many of the children bitten, continues the notice, have not followed treatment, but it would be folly to conclude that they are not infected as the disease sometimes takes three months before it sets in.

Berlin Makes Drive Against Graft In Government Contracts

Canadian Press
BERLIN, April 22.—The "greasing" of the palms of officials with a view to obtaining government contracts is so widespread a practice that the ministry of finance has decided to compel firms, before awarding them contracts, to sign a statement obligating them to refrain from offering a commission, loan, present or emolument to government officials or employees.

Firms obtaining contracts must agree in violation of the rule to pay a fine of twenty times as great as the emolument involved, besides subjecting themselves to legal prosecution.

BASLE, Switzerland, April 22.—The military of youthful Fascist threats to cause considerable harm to the movement headed by Premier Mussolini, according to opinion expressed to a special correspondent for the Associated Press recently in Rome, by both Italians and foreigners who have lived long in Italy.

It is learned that after the recent attack by Miss Violet Gibson to assassinate the premier, the mob wrecked the windows of the Soviet embassy at Rome.

Blackshirts, which was marching down the Corso Umberto behind a flag, became engaged in an open carriage with their hats on. The mob smashed the hats with walking sticks.

ENGLISH CUP FINAL STAGE IS ALL SET

Manchester and Bolton Wanderers to Clash Saturday After 22 Years

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, April 21.—Twenty-two years ago Manchester City defeated Bolton Wanderers in the final round of the English Football Association Cup. The game was played at the Crystal Palace and the victors were triumphant by the only goal scored in the game.

On Saturday next Manchester City will again meet Bolton Wanderers in an English cup final, the encounter to be staged at the Wembley Stadium.

The question of everybody's lips is "Will history repeat itself?" or will Bolton Wanderers, who are making their second trip to Wembley in three years, emerge in the contest at the same end of the score as they did when in 1903 they beat West Ham United in the concluding stage?

There are few who will hazard a guess as to the probable outcome. Manchester City have been irresistible in their cup engagements; in the league fight their performance has been disappointing. To reach their present position, Manchester have had to play six games, which included one replay; Bolton have had to go eight times, including three replays, and of those three, two were with Notts Forest, the second respective cup records are:

Third round: Manchester City 4, Corinthians 3, at London.

Fourth round: Manchester City 4, Corinthians 0, at Manchester.

Fifth round: Manchester City 11, Crystal Palace 4, at Manchester.

Sixth round: Manchester City 6, Clapton Orient 1, at London.

Semi-final: Manchester City 3, Manchester United 0, at Bramall Lane, Sheffield.

Third round: Bolton Wanderers 1, Accrington Stanley 0, at Bolton.

Fourth round: Bolton Wanderers 2, Bournemouth 2, at Bournemouth.

Replay: Bolton Wanderers 6, Bournemouth 2, at Bolton.

"PHOTOGRAPHY" IS LECTURE SUBJECT BY PROF. HARVEY

Speaks of It in Science, Industry and Medicine Before Engineers

REFERS TO ADVANCE IN RECENT YEARS

Gives Hints Re the Taking and Developing of Pictures

The results of scientific research in photography and the advances made during recent years were vividly described last evening by Prof. E. L. Harvey, M.A., of the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, at a meeting of the Saint John branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The meeting was held in the N. B. Telephone Company building and was presided over by W. R. Pearce, M.E.I.C., chairman of the Saint John branch.

"Photography in Science, Industry and Medicine," was the title of the lecture, which dealt with various phases of photography and of progress to follow with a camera for taking pictures and also for developing pictures.

Photography is now extensively used in science, in connection with the microscope in a process known as micro-photography, whereby the cell structure of woods and metals may be photographed and with this information, the loads they can carry in engineering structures, can be more properly determined.

Plans and blue-prints, which at one time could not be photographed, can now, with recent knowledge obtained, be reproduced in every detail which is of great importance as giving an exact copy of the original without any chance of omission, Prof. Harvey said.

By means of micro-photography the crystal structure of a substance during the period of 4000 B. C. and, now in the British Museum, was determined without damaging the statue.

USES IN INDUSTRY.

Photography has many dollars-and-cents uses in industry today, he said. Motion photographs of people at work on particular tasks are taken and studied made whereby lost motions may be eliminated and production increased. Periodic errors in geared machinery have been photographed and adjusted. It is made to correct such mechanical difficulties as the pictures may disclose.

Photography is of great use in medicine, he continued, and particularly in X-ray work. In the early days of X-ray work around 1896 scientists and inventors by a series of discoveries were gradually laying the foundation of X-ray work but was first used extensively during the South African war, when it was found bullets could be located in the human body by its use.

Today it is extensively used in connection with the light against tuberculosis and other diseases.

Color rendering is one of the recent advances in photography whereby any combination of colors in a landscape or other scenery may be accurately shown in their true colors without any retouching, Mr. Harvey said. It is also possible to photograph paintings, and pictures damaged with stains or ink spots, can be photographed and by neutralizing the effect of the stain it will not show on the resulting photograph.

The experimental work carried on in 1907 on long distance photography and the present application in newspaper photography are briefly mentioned whereby photographs are today being sent over the wires and printed.

A number of slides, specially secured from London, England, for this lecture, were shown on the screen. The speaker also gave demonstrations of a blackboard of some elementary rules to follow when taking pictures.

Mention was made of the evening of the Save-the-Forest Week campaign.

A vote of thanks to Prof. Harvey was extended on behalf of those present by Geoffrey Stead, M.E.I.C., and H. R. Crookshank, M.E.I.C.

I tried many remedies, but nothing helped. I tried Ovelmo. Now I'm satisfied my trouble has gone for good. Hands are smooth as a baby's. I use any kind of soap. I am ever so thankful." Over 35,000 others say Ovelmo internal and external treatment rid them of Eczema and similar skin troubles. Ask your druggist for full Ovelmo treatment. Try it, see how quickly itching stops and every sign of bluish disappears. Results or money back.

OVELMO ECZEMA

A clear head, bright eyes, an alert mind, a body full of health, vigor, and energy, you can have them all every day if you are a normal being, and keep your system clear of clogging poisons.

How? A spoonful of Sal Lithofos in a glass of water daily before breakfast and at bedtime.

Not a Laxative

"The continued use of laxatives and cathartics only aggravates constipation," says a prominent medical authority.

Nujol is an internal lubricant, not a laxative, so it does not grip the bowels, but it prevents the absorption into the blood of poisons from the stagnated bowels.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is therefore a body. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It does not waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit, and can be discontinued at any time.

Ask your druggist for Nujol.

Letter Tells of Wonderful Relief After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Coniston, Ontario.—"After a severe operation and a three weeks' stay in a hospital I returned home so weak that I was unable to move a chair. For four months I was almost frantic with pains and suffering until I thought sure there could not be any help for me. I had very severe pains in my left side and suffered agony every month. One day when I was not able to get up my mother begged me to try your medicine. My husband got me a bottle of Vegetable Compound at once and I took it. I started a second bottle, and to my surprise and joy the pains disappeared. I am now completely well and I am able to do all my work without help. I am a farmer's wife, so you see I can't be idle long. In all, I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Five boxes of the Compound Tablets, two bottles of Lydia E.
