Overall Graze Inaugurated In St. John

Great Parade of Denim Enthusiasts Coming—Sixty Chapter Members, More Ready to Join.

Word was received from a wide-awake, big thinker of this city, who believes in putting St. John on the map, that he has succeeded in inducing practically all the employees of his factory to take out a membership to the Overall Club.

The Overall Club, which tells its history, conquests and ambitions in its uniform and apparel, is an affiliation in feeling, of true patriots, people who believe in economy as the key to lower prices and intend putting their beliefs into action.

The scheme, essentially, is to lessen the demand on clothing, and give production an opportunity to catch up. To further this idea, practically every city in North America, that has any live wires in its make-up, has grasped the opportunity to save and still be, to a degree, conventional.

One store in particular, The King Square Sales Company, has its male clerks outfitted in overalls. The girls, too, have taken a tip, and are appearing in dungarees.

The conditions of membership are not so strict as some may think. Those who desire to enlist need only apply at the overall counter of any retail store, and purchase the uniform. That's all. Wear 'em—that's the main item—wear 'em. Church, theatre, work, play—wear 'em. "Everywhere, Why?"

Then, you're a member. Not until you are willing and ready to fulfill the "wear 'em" policy of the club, should you consider yourself a full-fledged member.

Converted action to reduce the cost of living has resulted in two hundred pupils of the Poughkeepsie High School appearing in members' regalia.

"I would rather pay $8 for my overalls than $20 for a suit," said Judge William E. Fort, of Birmingham's Circuit Court. "This movement is no joke, it will bring down the cost of clothing." That city, now being almost entirely in overalls. His Honor may rightly be expected to spring something like this, shortly.

Another point: Some may say that it's a case of Canadians following in the Yankee footsteps. All well and good. The big thing is: BUY CANADIAN OVERALLS. Better still, buy local products.

The King Square Sales Company, being associated with The New Brunswick Overall and Pants Company, are offering the purchaser a chance to win $200 in mail goods at factory prices. They also supply other retail stores.

To Overall Clubs and organizations they are willing to go a step further and supply the overalls, in quantities, at further substantial reductions.

Get your uniform today—enlist at once. It's up to you to save "There's a reason."

match, two best falls in three, any time at any place Mr. Irwin desires. Irwin challenged me some time ago but I heard no more from him. Now I would like to hear from him if he is willing to meet me for a finish match.

Yours respectfully,
ARTHUR LASHAR,

With Black's Team as Hosts—Prizes Presented.

The Black's alley bowling team proved excellent hosts at a very enjoyable smoker tendered the visiting bowlers last evening in the Y. M. C. I. gymnasium, with some 150 bowlers present.

Harry Black presided gracefully and with him sat Humphrey J. Sheehan, secretary of the bowling executive, who had lent excellent aid in arranging the function.

Mr. Black heartily welcomed all and then the programme was on. First came a motion picture exhibition, followed by solos by Mr. Valentine, with M. C. Ewing as accompanist.
