

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE.

At this season of the year, when Coughs and Colds are prevalent, provide yourself with a good reliable Cough Medicine. Keep it in your medicine closet, and use it at the commencement of the attack—a dose in time will save more than nine, oftentimes it saves a life.

The last place in the world for a man to economize is in buying a cough medicine, yet there are many who will go to their druggist, and, instead of asking for Allen's Lung Balsam, the best cough syrup he has in his store, they will take anything at all (if it is only cheap) that may be offered. These same people would exercise more care and thought while buying bread and cheese for their families, where different qualities were to be had, and would always take the best. Ought they not, where life and death is at stake, exercise at least as much care?

CONSUMPTION.—For the cure of this distressing disease there has been no medicine yet discovered that can show more evidence of real merit than Allen's Lung Balsam. This unequalled expectorant for curing consumption and all diseases leading to it, such as affections of the throat, lungs, and all diseases of the pulmonary organs, is introduced to the suffering public after its merits for the cure of such diseases have been fully tested by the medical faculty. The Balsam is consequently recommended by physicians who have become acquainted with its great success.

A WESTERN paper reports the birth of a male child with wings. Probably nature intended him for a bank cashier.

Read what well-known people say about Allen's Lung Balsam.

DR. P. MEREDITH, of Cincinnati, says:—About one year ago I took a cold, which settled on my lungs. A violent cough was the consequence, which increased with severity. I expectorated large quantities of phlegm and matter. During the last winter I became so much reduced that I was confined to my bed. The disease was attended with cold chills and night sweats. A diarrhoea set in. My friends thought I was in the last stages of consumption and could not possibly get well. I was recommended to try Allen's Lung Balsam. The formula was shown to me, which induced me to give it a trial, and I will only add that my cough is entirely cured, and I am now able to attend to my profession as usual."

S. E. BURWELL, of Fingal, Ont., writes:—"Last autumn I was suffering from a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and produced a distressing cough, for which I gave trial to a number of cough medicines, but without any profit. I at last tried one bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, which, I am happy to be able to state, gave almost immediate relief, and performed a perfect cure in a short time."

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ont., writes:—"That, after trying many cough and lung remedies for a severe cold, which he has suffered with for three years, he procured Allen's Lung Balsam and was being much benefited by it." In a letter still later he says "his night sweats are all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better, and he felt like a new man."

As an expectorant it has no equal. It is harmless to the most delicate child. It contains no opium in any form. Directions accompany each bottle.
