

COMMERCIAL

NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS.
Chicago Market Report and New York Cotton Market.
(Furnished by D. C. Clench, Banker and Broker,
St. John, N. B., April 3.
Mon. Tues.
C/O. Op's Noon.

Amalg. Copper	59	59 1/2	58 1/2
Anaconda	27 1/2	28	28
Am. Sugar Refr.	124 1/2	124	124 1/2
Am. Smelt and Rigs.	68 1/2	68 1/2	67 1/2
Am. Cr. Foundry	32	32	32
Atchafalpa	75 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/2
Am. Loco.	44 1/2	44 1/2	44 1/2
Brook. Rpt. Trst.	45 1/2	46	45 1/2
Balt. and Ohio	83 1/2	84	83 1/2
Ches. and Ohio	51 1/2	51 1/2	51 1/2
Can. Pac.	154 1/2	154	154
Can. Pac. Pfd.	54	54	54
Colo. F. and Iron	24 1/2	24	23 1/2
Great North. Pfd.	124	124 1/2	124 1/2
Erie	15 1/2	15	14 1/2
Erie, 1st Pfd.	32	32	32
Erie, 2nd Pfd.	20	20	20
Kan. and Texas	24 1/2	24	24
Mexican Can.	18 1/2	19	19
Miss. Pac.	42 1/2	42 1/2	42 1/2
N. Y. Central	89 1/2	89 1/2	87 1/2
Pacific Mail	23	23 1/2	23 1/2
Reading	105 1/2	105	104 1/2
Republic Steel	18 1/2	18 1/2	18 1/2
Penn.	116 1/2	116 1/2	116 1/2
Rock Island	14 1/2	14 1/2	14 1/2
St. Paul	117 1/2	117 1/2	117 1/2
South. Ry.	14 1/2	14 1/2	14 1/2
Soo.	114 1/2	114	114 1/2
South. Pac.	74 1/2	74 1/2	74 1/2
North. Pac.	127 1/2	127 1/2	127 1/2
National Lead	55 1/2	55 1/2	55 1/2
Texas Pacific	16 1/2	16 1/2	16 1/2
Union Pac.	128 1/2	128 1/2	128 1/2
U. S. Steel	34	34	33 1/2
U. S. Rubber	19 1/2	19 1/2	19 1/2
U. S. Steel Pfd.	98 1/2	98 1/2	98 1/2
Wabash Pfd.	17 1/2	17 1/2	17 1/2
Total sales in New York yesterday	84,400 shares.

CHICAGO MARKET REPORT.	Mon. Tues.	C/O. Op's Noon.
May Wheat	68	68 1/2
July Wheat	68 1/2	68 1/2
Oct. Wheat	68 1/2	68 1/2
July Corn	63 1/2	64
Oct. Corn	64 1/2	64 1/2
Port.	137 1/2	137 1/2

MONTREAL QUOTATIONS.	Mon. Tues.	C/O. Op's Noon.
Dom. Coal	154	154 1/2
Dom. I. and S.	55 1/2	55 1/2
Dom. L. and S. Pfd.	55 1/2	55 1/2
Nova Scotia Steel	50 1/2	50 1/2
C. P. R.	144 1/2	144 1/2
Twin City	84	84 1/2
Montreal Power	33 1/2	33 1/2
Rich. and Ont. Nav.	68 1/2	68 1/2
Detroit United	23 1/2	23 1/2
Mackay Co.	69 1/2	69 1/2
Illinois Trac. Pfd.	45	45 1/2

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.	Mon. Tues.	C/O. Op's Noon.
May	9.30	9.30
July	9.31	9.31
October	9.30	9.31
December	9.31	9.32

Shipped by J. M. Robinson and Sons, Bankers and Brokers.
(Private wire telegram.)
MONTREAL, April 8.—Morning sales:
Hindal Trustron preferred—125@85 1/2, 126@85 1/2, 127@85 1/2.
Montreal Power—25@93 1/4, 26@93 1/4, 27@93 1/4, 28@93 1/4, 29@93 1/4, 30@93 1/4, 31@93 1/4, 32@93 1/4, 33@93 1/4, 34@93 1/4, 35@93 1/4, 36@93 1/4, 37@93 1/4, 38@93 1/4, 39@93 1/4, 40@93 1/4, 41@93 1/4, 42@93 1/4, 43@93 1/4, 44@93 1/4, 45@93 1/4, 46@93 1/4, 47@93 1/4, 48@93 1/4, 49@93 1/4, 50@93 1/4, 51@93 1/4, 52@93 1/4, 53@93 1/4, 54@93 1/4, 55@93 1/4, 56@93 1/4, 57@93 1/4, 58@93 1/4, 59@93 1/4, 60@93 1/4, 61@93 1/4, 62@93 1/4, 63@93 1/4, 64@93 1/4, 65@93 1/4, 66@93 1/4, 67@93 1/4, 68@93 1/4, 69@93 1/4, 70@93 1/4, 71@93 1/4, 72@93 1/4, 73@93 1/4, 74@93 1/4, 75@93 1/4, 76@93 1/4, 77@93 1/4, 78@93 1/4, 79@93 1/4, 80@93 1/4, 81@93 1/4, 82@93 1/4, 83@93 1/4, 84@93 1/4, 85@93 1/4, 86@93 1/4, 87@93 1/4, 88@93 1/4, 89@93 1/4, 90@93 1/4, 91@93 1/4, 92@93 1/4, 93@93 1/4, 94@93 1/4, 95@93 1/4, 96@93 1/4, 97@93 1/4, 98@93 1/4, 99@93 1/4, 100@93 1/4.

Laurelville Pfd—30@110.
Dillon Bank—50@125.
Detroit Elec—75@32 1/2, 10@32.
Montreal—25@18 1/4.
Iron Bonds—100@75.
Bank Montreal—100@23.
Northwest Land Co—50@75 1/2, 100@93 1/2, 150@98 1/2, 200@98 1/2, 300@98 1/2, 400@98 1/2, 500@98 1/2, 600@98 1/2, 700@98 1/2, 800@98 1/2, 900@98 1/2, 1000@98 1/2.
C. P. R.—100@154 1/4, 10@154 1/4, 25@154.
Soo Ry—50@114.
Pennam Pfd—15@79 1/2.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Since 10 o'clock a number of small holders of 25¢ notes or their representatives have tendered their notes to J. P. Morgan and Co. for cash. They were told that no cash was available for the purchase of the notes.
Some of them have agreed to the plan as outlined.
Sub-treasury told $68,000 to the banks yesterday and since Friday it has lost $18,000 to the banks.
Sterling Exchange—Demand 496.50@500; 60 days 484.25@485; cables 488.50@489.
NEW YORK, April 8.—(Morning letter) The better feeling yesterday was continued today by a prospective success of the new Erie financing, but chiefly by the expectation of an unusually favorable government crop report today. That of winter wheat is known to be exceptionally promising while conditions have also been propitious for early spring planting, these influences, however, are somewhat offset by rumors of impending reductions in the prices of steel although these have no official confirmation. The story goes that there is now strong competition for new business between the trust and the independent companies which may lead to shading of prices all around. Such action, however, would be favorable to the railroads and other large consumers and would therefore be not an unmixed evil. Current trading in the stock market is confined to the professional element but the market appears to be in strong technical position and ready to respond to any definitely favorable developments.

LALDLAW & CO.
CHICAGO.—Hogs, receipts today 18-000, estimate for tomorrow 23,000, prices 66.10. Provisions opened steady at about Monday's closing prices.
WASHINGTON.—The department of Agriculture in a report issued today makes the average condition of winter wheat on April 1st last, at 91.33 against 91.3 in December, 1907 and 92.17 in April, 1907, 89.81 against 91.4 in December, 1907 and 92 in April, 1907.
Wheat easier on favorable weather and in anticipation of good government report. Corn steadied on light offerings.
LONDON.—There has been no widening of the speculation as yet. Some rail display strength, but Americans are waiting upon several of the current pending developments and Canadian issues are heavy.
New York—Sub-treasury debit at clearing house $1,940,567.
Government crop estimated winter wheat yield 48,977,000 bushels against

MAN ARRESTED
WILL BE RELEASED

Police So Far Unable to Solve the Mullins
Mystery

BOSTON, April 8.—Bert Smalley, the young man who was found at a Portland street sales stable today, was taken to Arlington this afternoon and questioned at great length as to his possible knowledge of the murder of Annie Mullins, the Newfoundland girl who was mysteriously murdered in Arlington March 27.
After the examination Smalley was not released, the police deciding to hold him for the present but without preferring a formal charge against him.
The police claim that Smalley's story do not agree in all particulars, and say that his movements and habits will be investigated further.
Smalley has a cut in one eye, and admits that he was in Bedford, a small town ten miles from Arlington, two nights before the tragedy. He acknowledges that he was in a drug store in Bedford, but denies that he inquired where Annie Mullins lived. A drug clerk last week reported that a man with a cut in his eye asked about Annie Mullins. The Boston police say that Smalley said today that he knew the Mullins girl, but Smalley denied later that he knew her.
Smalley denies that he is a native of Newfoundland or Nova Scotia, as was at first reported. He says he was born in Newfoundland, but has been in the Maritime Provinces. He met his wife, who was a Miss Adelle Clark of Prince Edward Island, at Halifax. Smalley says he was born in Waterbury, Vermont, 28 years ago. He came to Boston five years ago to find work.
Smalley will be released tomorrow morning if the intention of Chief Trotter, announced late tonight, is carried out. According to the police Smalley has satisfied them that he knows nothing about the murder case.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE
FROM DEATH ON MILL ST.

Man Thrown Under a Car Fender and Dragged Along for Some Distance.

A few named Sadlers was struck by street car No. 48 on Mill St. today at one o'clock. His escape from death was miraculous. He was crossing the street in a slanting direction when suddenly, he stepped directly in front of the car which was going at a fair rate of speed. In an instant he was under the fender and it seemed to the horrified spectators that he must be under the wheels. Instead he was dragged along the ground for a distance of ten or twelve feet while the car was being stopped with all the haste possible. The motorist's promptness and coolness no doubt prevented a serious accident. Beyond a slight injury to his arm, and a number of bruises, Sadlers was unhurt and went smilingly on his way.

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT
OF MACEDONIAN DISPUTE

LONDON, April 8.—A parliamentary paper just issued contains the correspondence between Russia and Great Britain on the matter of Macedonian reform. It is welcomed by the London newspapers as containing at least a prospect of arriving at a satisfactory compromise. Russia accepts the proposals of Sir Edward Grey, the secretary for foreign affairs as "a basis for discussion," and presents her counter proposals. To these Sir Edward Grey has replied in a friendly spirit, making fresh suggestions in detail. He points out that the ports has failed to carry out its solemn undertaking to make up the deficit in the Macedonian budget and announces that unless the undertaking is carried out Great Britain will withdraw her consent to the three per cent increase in Turkish customs.

CHINESE IN EARNEST IN JAPANESE BOYCOTT

HONG KONG, April 8.—The Chinese Merchants Guild has decided to notify their agents at Japanese ports not to place any more orders of Japanese goods and to ship goods already ordered in vessels other than Japanese.
Dealers in Chinese piece goods are joining in the boycott against the Japanese which arose as a result of the Tatsu Maru incident.

ROMA, April 8.—Miss Anette Loeb, daughter of Sir and Mrs. Charles Loeb of New York, was married in this city today to Signor Arturo Luzzatto, a member of the Italian Parliament.

A CLIMBER.
"Is she a hill-climber?" You bet This maid will get 'em unless they take to trees." 483,574,000 estimated in April 1907, and 499,412,000 final 1907. Estimated winter wheat yield per acre 12.3 bushels, 12.8 in December 1907.

PATERSON'S
The Cough Drop
That Cures
Demand the three-colored kind in the red and yellow box

WILLIAM J. PARKER WAS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

The Magistrate Grows Tired of a King Kelley's Lengthy Discourse.

The preliminary hearing of the Parker case which has been dragging on in the police court for about three weeks, was concluded this morning, and the defendant Wm. J. Parker was sent up for trial before the county court on the fourth Tuesday in May. In the meantime he was allowed out on $1000 bail. J. King Kelly appeared for the defense and E. S. Ritchie, for the prosecution.
Mr. Kelly before closing his case called three witnesses but the evidence there was given was ruled out as being inadmissible.
Mr. Kelly asked for the discharge of his client and cited a great many sections of law. At times matters became very tiresome to the magistrate who suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go
along, Mr. Kelly, get along," and told
him he was addressing the court as if
it was the first preliminary case that
he had. The magistrate who was
suggested that Mr. Kelly keep going
all day, but he frequently argued with
the judge and kept telling him "Go along, Mr. Kelly